VOTE 'NO' ON CHARTER, IS CLUB'S PLEA

Franco-American Political Organization of Alameda Co. Hears Arguments and Decides to Oppose Scheme

Judge Wood Declares Proposal Strikes at Foundation of Democracy; Other Speakers Tell Danger of Division

After Greene Majors, former mayor of Alameda, had spoken in favor of the new charter scheme and Judge Fred V. Wood of Oakland had delivered an address in opposition, the Franco-American Political Club of Alameda county, in a meeting at Foresters' hall last night, adopted by unanimous vote a resolution against the charter proposal. The resolutions urge the club members, who number close to two hundred, not only to vote "no" at the election on Tuesday but to get their friends to do likewise.

Judge Wood analyzed the charter in detail and declared that it strikes at the foundation of democracy, takes away the liberties of the people to govern themselves, and places unlimited powers in the hands of one man under the direction of a council majority of four.

MANAGER IS GIVEN POWER OF AUTOCRAT.

He called attention to the fact that the public would be without recourse in the matter of recall and that the manager is given the power of an autocrat to hire and fire at will and without giving reasons for his action. The majority of four, he said, could create commissions and boards and fix and raise salaries to the sky if they desired. "There are no safeguards against extravagance, he said, and no check on the decisions of the council.

"It is like embarking on an unknown sea without compass or safeguards," he said, "and under the authority of an unknown and untried skipper."

Majors defended the charter, told of the labors of the freeholders in preparing it, defended the city manager, and read the famous 13-cent side of the ledger. At the close of his address he was given courteous applause, but there was not a vote on his side of the argument when the resolutions were adopted.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY UNANIMOUS VOTE.

J. S. Godeau and C. A. Borie, members of the club, spoke briefly before the resolution, which received the unanimous vote, was put. The Franco - American Political Club, little only a few months old, has a membership approaching two hundred, ninety per cent of whom are voters, the others being assisted to citizenship by a naturalization committee of which a school of naturalization in both English and French is one of the features.

Before a large attendance of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church in Oakland last night, Dr. George C. Pardee, president of the Alameda County League, and Frederick Faulkner participated in a joint discussion of the new charter scheme.

Dr. Pardee, who spoke for the proposal, repeated his former statements in derogation of the neighboring cities of Berkeley and Alameda and made an outright plea for the scheme of a city and county of Oakland alone. He asserted that county division would not be lamented by him if it came to that.

THROW OFF MASK OF "CONSOLIDATION."

Faulkner, in touching on this phase of the discussion, emphasized the fact that the advocates of the new charter project had now come out in the open in a position favoring county division, that they had thrown off their mask of "consolidation" and were dealing more frankly with the public. He argued that county division, with Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda going different ways, would be irreparably harmful and destructive.

Superior Judge E. C. Robinson presided over discussion, which followed a dinner by the Men's Club.

At the Central Oakland Improvement club last evening the charter scheme was discussed by W. H. Graham, freeholder, and J. R. Knowland. Graham defended the figures given out as savings and which were calculated by charter proponents down to thirteen cents, with the plea that other charters were as wide open as the one proposed.

IMPOSSIBLE TO GIVE FIGURES ON SAVING.

In reply Knowland held that it did not in any way change the fact that it is impossible to present figures of a saving under a wide-open charter, to say that other charters were also wide open. In the course of his speech Graham declared that county officials of Alameda county were walking the streets while deputies were doing the work.

The progress and prosperity committee, which has on three separate occasions endorsed the charter scheme, took its latest vote on the subject yesterday. The organization has refused all requests to hear more than one side of the subject, its officers declaring that they only

Alleged Kissee

MISS BONNIE HILL, motion picture actress, named in wealthy broker's divorce tangle.

WITHHELD KISSES, DIVORCE GROUNDS

Wife Says Husband's Caresses Went Astray Ere She Denied Him Hers.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—The question of whether the wife must be blamed for withholding her kisses from her husband when the husband bestows his upon another woman was made paramount today in the divorce complaint filed by Mrs. Anna Shetzline and the cross-complaint filed by her husband, Walter Shetzline, a wealthy broker.

In his complaint Shetzline charged that his wife was niggardly in her caresses and for more than a year had not kissed him. In her answer, filed yesterday, Mrs. Shetzline alleges that she caressed her husband a-plenty until she found that he had been making love to another woman, Miss Bonnie Hill, a motion picture actress. The kisses that went astray are alleged by Mrs. Shetzline to have been placed upon the lips of the pretty Miss Hill.

From the time she discovered he was making love to another woman, Mrs. Shetzline charged, she denied her husband her lips, which caused her husband's love for her to cool.

Bonnie Hill, the alleged other woman, maintains her innocence and will be in court backed by her attorney to fight the allegations of Mrs. Shetzline. They happened to be stopping at the same hotel, she claims, and they met in the hallway. He smiled, she declared, and she returned it.

"Must a girl be blamed for smiling a polite and pleasant 'good morning?'" asked Miss Hill.

Some months ago Mrs. Shetzline filed suit for divorce, naming Miss Hill as the third member of the triangle. The case hung fire in the courts for several months until two weeks ago, Shetzline, deciding to place himself on the offensive, filed a cross complaint for divorce. The contest will be fought in court today.

Oust Street Cars, Jail Taxpayers, Mayor's Platform

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 9.—A man who has lived in Youngstown only three months and whose platform provided for discontinuance of street car service, turning the streets over to jitney buses, and for jailing any citizen who paid taxes under a recent revaluation, yesterday was elected mayor over candidates backed by the major party organizations.

He is George L. Oles, who came in from the country, established a residence in a hotel and carried on an eccentric advertising campaign without the support of any particular element or organization.

Other "planks" in Oles' platform included permitting "spooning" in city parks under police protection, dismissing the entire police force if it "does not mend its ways," and a promise to turn over his salary to charity.

The women's vote is believed to have been responsible for Oles' election.

Miss Morgan Wins in Supervisor Contest; Rossi Leads the List.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from yesterday's municipal election disclose that Miss Margaret Mary Morgan, printing office manager and club woman, was named as county supervisor, the first woman to hold such office in San Francisco.

The election developed several surprises, chief of which was the defeat of three incumbent supervisors, Fred Hilmer, Charles A. Nelson and Fred Suhr, and the naming of five new supervisors in the nine elected. These new supervisors are Angelo Rossi, who is leading the ticket; Frank H. Robb, John A. McGregor, former president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation here; Miss Morgan and Frank H. Harris. James Power and Joseph Lahaney, incumbent supervisors, did not seek re-election.

EX-MAYOR SCHMITZ THIRD IN BOARD RACE.

E. E. Schmitz, former mayor, ran third in the supervisorial list.

Edmond Godchaux is re-elected recorder over Thomas Powers and William Hynes is re-elected public administrator over Milo F. Kent. Supervisor Joseph Mulvihill, who was expected by many to give Hynes his hardest fight, finished third.

Edward F. Bryant, re-elected tax collector; George Lull, re-elected city attorney; John E. McDougald, re-elected treasurer; Daniel S. O'Brien, elected, and Sylvain J. Lazarus, re-elected police judges, and seven nominees of the mayor endorsed for the board of education, complete the ballot. O'Brien succeeds himself, having been appointed to the position several months ago.

The semi-official complete returns of the 506 precincts for the contested municipal offices showed a total vote of 109,770 as follows:

ULSTERITES BLOCK IRISH PEACE PLAN

Sir James Craig Is Upheld by the Province's Cabinet in Refusal of the Concessions Demanded by the Sinn Fein

Lloyd George Is Told That Unionists Cannot Change Attitude On Settlement—King George May Intervene

By DANIEL J. O'CONNELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—The Unionist government of Ulster province today stood pat in its opposition to Premier Lloyd George's proposals for a compromise with the Sinn Fein. Following a three-hour session of the Ulster cabinet it was announced that the ministers approved Sir James Craig's attitude. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

Sir James Craig, premier of the Ulster government, is understood to have told Lloyd George that the North Ireland Unionists will not make the concessions demanded by the Sinn Fein. Hope for a solution has not been abandoned, however, and it is reported that King George may intervene in behalf of peace.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Counter proposals to meet the Irish compromise suggested by Premier Lloyd George may be made by the Ulster Unionists, it was stated today by the Daily Telegraph.

Newspapers agree that the present crisis is the most serious since the Irish peace negotiations began in official circles. It is maintained, however, that a way will be found to a solution, and that Premier Lloyd George will not be compelled to put his resignation threat into effect.

The Herald, organ of the labor day, and the Morning Despatch, Unionist paper, both interpret the utterances of Sir James Craig, premier of the Unionist government of Ulster, as meaning that the Ulsterites will not have the concessions desired. While the Daily Telegraph intimated that counter proposals might be made, it did not express any belief as to whether they represented concession.

THREAT TO RESIGN CAUSES STRONG RALLY.

The parliamentary correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, regarded as the personal organ of Premier Lloyd George, declares that there has been a strong rally toward the premier within the last 48 hours. It is generally believed that this "rally" was a direct result of the premier's threat to resign his office. There is no disguising the fact that the reports current in Downing street yesterday regarding the possibility of the downfall of the government caused a tremendous situation. Political leaders began to cast about to ascertain who might succeed Lloyd George if the Welsh statesman put into effect his threat. They have been unable to find anybody to measure up to the requirements.

American Delegates to Conference Agree to Throw Doors Wide Open to All Plenary Meetings; Full Publicity

Government's Position Is Outlined to U. S. Advisory Commission by Secy. Hughes; Sutherland for Chairman

By FRANK E. MASON,

LONDON, Nov. 9.—"President Harding's invitations to the Washington conference is like a rainbow in the sky," declared Premier Lloyd George in a speech tonight at the lord mayor's banquet at Guildhall. "Without assurance of peace, the restoration of business is impossible.

"Arms competition was largely responsible for the last war," the premier continued. "Armaments today cost three times as much as they did in 1914 and they will soon be a hundred times as destructive and terrible.

"Disarmament is the only road to safety for the human race."

"The Washington conference has the future of civilization in its charge," the premier said.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The American delegation has agreed that all plenary sessions of the arms limitation conference shall be open, Senator Lodge, one of America's delegates, told the United Press today.

This means that whenever the full membership of the conference meets, the press will be present if the American view prevails.

The American delegation's belief, it revealed, is that the conference should function somewhat similar to Congress. Various questions before the conference will be turned over to committees. These committees probably will hold secret sessions, although this has not yet been determined, Lodge said.

Then, under the American plan, when a committee has agreed upon a program, it will be taken before the full conference and threshed out in the open just as is done in Congress.

FULL PUBLICITY IS AGREED UPON.

The American delegation has discussed the question thoroughly and has agreed on fullest publicity.

No consideration has been given by the American delegation to throwing open such proceedings of the conference as committee meetings, and there is no thought that the publicity plan will be so ambitious.

"I do not believe the press is to be excluded from any of the full sessions of the conference," Senator Lodge said. "That question has been thoroughly discussed by the American delegation. I think it undoubtedly is intended to have the press admitted to all the full, or plenary, sessions of the conference.

"I am not speaking with the authority of the American delegation, but that it is my personal understanding of what will be done."

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—In an atmosphere of optimism and cooperation which foreign visitors declared has seldom, if ever, been observed on the eve of a great international conference, the state setting for the armament conference was virtually completed today.

As a final preliminary to the opening of the epochal parley on Saturday, the American advisory commission of 21 members, selected by President Harding, met together for the first time under the direction of Secretary of State Hughes, who explained to them in some detail the work that lies ahead of them in the important days to come.

The meeting of the advisory committee lasted slightly less than an hour.

Former Senator George Sutherland of Utah was elected chairman. Sutherland's election had been expected, as President Harding had indicated that he desired the selection.

COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION.

A committee on organization was then appointed, consisting of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; former Senator Saulsbury of Delaware, Under-Secretary of State Fletcher, Admiral W. L. Rogers and Mrs. Eleanor Franklin of New York.

The advisory committee is representative of every walk of American life—labor, business, banking, education, government, shipping and transportation. Four women are included in its membership. It was selected, Secretary Hughes explained, with an eye to representation and in order that the principal American delegates, the "big four," could have ready access to a cross section of American public opinion.

The committee will advise and counsel the "big four" on matters of public policy and public sentiment.

PRELIMINARY WORK NOW COMPLETED.

The meeting of the American advisers today marked the final phase of the administration's active preparations for the conference. Tomorrow the capital enters upon a two-day period of mourning for the unknown soldier dead, who will lie in state in the rotunda of the national capitol.

The big four, comprising Secretary Hughes, Elihu Root and Senators Lodge and Underwood, have practically concluded their preliminary work. They have formulated a program which will be presented to the powers early in the conference and serve as a basis for the discussions. The American program embraces the final judgments of the military and naval experts as to how far the United States is willing to go in limiting or reducing armament and at the same time be assured of adequate national safety.

Meanwhile the foreign delegates were holding their final meetings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9. — June Christensen of 563 Castro street, 16 years old, was killed in an automobile accident in front of Green Lawn cemetery, San Mateo county, early today, at the same time that Wilson Lyford, a real estate broker, also lost his life.

Blinded by headlights of a San Mateo suburban car, Lyford drove his machine directly in the path of the car.

The real estate man, who has offices at 2581 Mission street, had arranged to take the girl and her mother to San Mateo county to look at a bungalow. At the last moment Mrs. Christensen was unable to go and the daughter accompanied Lyford alone. The girl remained unidentified until noon today.

JAPAN'S CASE AT PARLEY OUTLINED BY AMBASSADOR

Disarmament, He Says, Should Be Comparatively Simple Problem.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 9.—Whatever the problems of the armament conference, an agreement for limitation of naval armament ought to be a "comparatively simple matter," says Ambassador Shidehara of Japan, one of that country's delegates, writing in the current issue of the Harvard Crimson.

The ambassador takes opportunity to outline Japan's case at the arms conference, her relation to China and the far eastern situation, as well as her place in the world. He writes:

"The Japanese delegation comes to the Washington Conference confident that the nations assembled there will achieve a substantial measure of success and that valuable understandings will result, enabling the several principal nations to live in future with less suspicion and distrust, and consequent armaments. This is the least that can be expected. But we Japanese are hoping that, as President Harding said at Yorktown on October 10, 'The time has come when there must be recognition of essential co-operation among nations, devoted, each of them, in its own peculiar national way, to the common good, the progress, the advancement of all humankind.'

SIMPLE MATTER.

"We Japanese are primarily concerned, as America is, with a limitation of naval armament, and it is on this matter that I speak with confidence. What agreements can be reached for the limitation of land forces is more difficult for me to estimate. But as far as the seas are concerned an agreement ought to be a comparatively simple matter for the obvious reason that there are but three great naval powers left in the world and that each of them belongs to a different continent separated from the others by a great ocean, and with none of the real interests of one conflicting vitally with the others. For these reasons it seems to me that only a most arbitrary attitude on the part of one or another country can defeat the main purpose of the Conference.

"Intelligent and well informed naval men in every country know that the Great War left the United States proper absolutely unassailable. No power in the world is in a position to attack your country without bringing grave distress upon itself. For more than one hundred years you have lived without a hostile foreign soldier within your borders, and today no nation in Europe would dare attack you even if any had the will to do so. Yet Europe is only 3000 miles away while Japan is twice as far.

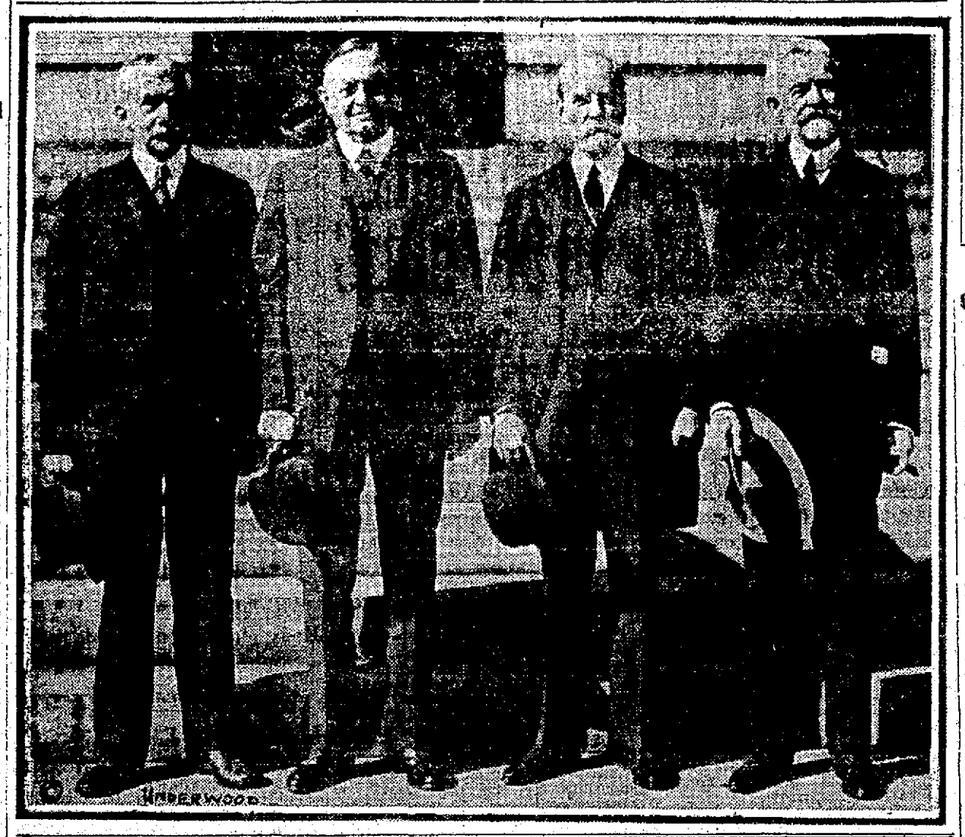

RIGHT TO OPEN DOOR.

"From China we Japanese believe we have a right to ask the privileges of equal opportunity and the open door. We are not so richly endowed as America with wealth, territory, and raw materials. Here you have everything. You are self-sustaining. We have a population, approximately, of sixty millions, with territory the size of one of your medium-sized states. Our supplies of raw materials must come from abroad, and the markets for the goods we manufacture must likewise be foreign countries. Without supplies from over the seas and without markets at the ends of our steamship lines, we cannot live. The neighboring undeveloped Asiatic mainland has an abundance of the necessary raw materials and also affords an important market. We desire the rights and privileges of trading on this mainland on equal terms with any nation, near or remote, and in turn we are willing that any other nation shall enjoy, in fair competition, equal rights with ourselves.

"It is the hope of Japan that the Washington conference will give her the opportunity to dispel whatever distrust and suspicion may exist in America against her. She hopes to demonstrate conclusively the necessities of her position and the justice of her policies, in order that false charges against her may find no honest response in the future. Where she may be wrong she will strive to mend her ways. Consideration instead of condemnation, co-operation instead of conflict, could profitably as well as righteously be the slogans of the nations hereafter."

Property values in the uptown district and business in that section will be the chief topics of discussion at a membership meeting of the Uptown Association at the Key Route Inn tonight.

Scouts to Assist On Armistice Day

PIEDMONT, Nov. 9.—Out of deference to the memory of Piedmont's dead war heroes, George E. Keneipp, scout executive for the local council of the Boy Scouts, has issued the following orders to members of the Boy Scouts and Boy Pioneers, to be present at the unveiling of the Piedmont War Memorial on Highland avenue on Armistice Day.

"All registered Boy Scouts of the five Piedmont troops, and the entire membership of the Boy Pioneers are hereby notified to report at Mountain and Highland avenue, in uniform, and with troop colors, on Friday, Nov. 11, Armistice Day, at 2 o'clock sharp, to assist the Piedmont Post, American Legion, in dedicating the War Memorial erected in memory o Piedmont boys who lost their lives in the world war.

"It is not often that we get an opportunity to assist in such a worthy cause as this, and it is of the utmost importance that the entire membership of the two organizations turn out, 100 per cent strong. No exceptions can possibly be made."

Korea Japan's Wedge, Arms Envoy Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Korea should be restored to its former status of complete independence to prevent its being used as the bridge for Japanese expansion into Asia, declared Dr. Henry Chung, secretary of the Korean mission seeking recognition at the Washington conference, on his arrival here from Honolulu.

"The pretexts that Japan needs Korea for self-defense or colonization are equally flimsy," he said. "The only nation that has a direct interest in that part of the Far East is the United States, and the question whether the United States would seize Korea answers itself. As for colonization, there are only about 300,000 Japanese in Korea after fifteen years, and of these only 10 per cent legitimate immigrants, the rest military or civil officials, money and land grabbers."

Canada to Place Wreath on Grave

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—Sergeant George Richardson, Canada's nonagenarian, V. C., accompanied by Sergeant Walter L. Rayfield, V. C., first vice-president of the Grand Army of United Veterans, left last night for Washington, D. C., to place upon the tomb of America's unknown hero, on behalf of the veterans of Canada, a wreath of maple leaves.

Besides the wreath the aged veterans carried two silk flags, the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes.

Merchants Exchange To Halt Business

In honor of the American boys who died on the field of battle during the world war all members of the Merchants' Exchange will close their stores and places of business from 10 o'clock to 12 Friday, it was decided unanimously by resolution at the regular meeting of the organization last night. Consideration of routine business and discussion of the various topics of the day consumed a large portion of the time. Nothing of importance to the city was transacted.

British Party at Capital Tomorrow

QUEBEC, Nov. 9.—Belief that the Washington arms conference could do much to produce a better world was expressed by Arthur J. Balfour, former British prime minister, as acting head of the British delegation.

"I don't believe this disarmament conference can do everything," Balfour said. "I am personally confident it can do much. I am confident of the steps being gradually made to produce a better and improved world—an international world. This step will be of all history the greatest. In that hope I go to Washington.

Balfour led the British delegation across the Atlantic in the absence of Premier Lloyd George, who was detained in England, but who hopes to come later. The delegates were given a hearty welcome when they landed. They left at once for Montreal and proceeded to Washington today.

The delegation expected to arrive in Washington Thursday morning. It numbered twenty-one persons, and included Lord Cavan, commander of the British forces in Italy during the war; Sir Maurice Hankey, chief of the cabinet secretariat; Sir John Jordon, Air Marshal Higgins, Flight Lieutenant Arnold, Commander Moore, Captain Burgess and M. S. Lampson.

British Veterans Will Take Part

All British war veterans in the Eastbay district have been invited by the British Great War Veterans of Oakland to meet with that organization at St. George's hall, Twenty-fifth and Grove streets, at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning, from where the organization will proceed in a body to Third street, east of Broadway, where they will form for the Armistice Day parade. The service men who are invited include both Imperial and Colonial troops who served in the recent war.

Piedmont Merchants Will Close Doors

All G. A. R. "boys" who wish to march in the Armistice Day parade on Friday have been invited by George Ober, commander, and Tom Reed, officer of the day, both of Lookout Mountain Post No. 88, Berkeley, to join the post's colors at Third and Broadway, Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

County Receives $8182 Refund on Water Bill

County Treasurer E. W. Foss yesterday received a check for $8182 from the Union Water company in payment of the claim of Alameda county against the water company, recently allowed by the State Railroad Commission. County officials some time ago discovered a faulty water meter at the county infirmary in San Leandro and made a protest against the water bills that had been paid since the date the meter had last been tested. The railroad commission upheld the protest and ordered a refund.

Harding Asked to Halt Naval Work During Parley

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—President Harding today was urged to make an appeal to Congress to pass the Pomerene resolution, providing for halting of the American naval program pending the outcome of the armament conference, it was learned at the White House.

Senator Pomerene, Democrat, of Ohio, called on the President, and it is said urged that the President take steps to insure action on his resolution before the armament conference meets Saturday.

JAPAN POLICIES UNAFFECTED BY DEATH OF HARA

By CLARENCE DUROSE,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
(Copyright, 1921, by United Press.)

TOKYO, Nov. 9.—Assurance that Japan's policies and attitude in the Washington conference on the limitation of armamenis and Pacific problems would remain unchanged despite the situation resulting from the assassination of Premier Hara, was given today by Viscount Uchida, temporary premier.

"Furthermore," Uchida declared, "change in the complexion of the cabinet will not affect in any way Japanese foreign policies, particularly those policies affecting Shantung and Siberia.

"Japan sincerly hopes that an outspoken exchange of views on limitation of armaments, Pacific and Far Eastern questions will result in the furtherance of good understanding among the nations concerned and also in the recognition of the legitimate rights and interests of each power represented at the Washington meeting.

"Japan is ready to concur in any project for the equitable reduction of armaments consistent with national security. Wherefore it is Japan's ardent desire that the glorious enterprise initiated by President Harding will be crowned with signal success.

Grass Valley to Honor Soldiers

GRASS VALLEY, Nov. 9. — On Armistice Day the people of Grass Valley, Nevada county, will dedicate a memorial to the dead and returned soldiery. It consists of a community park of ten acres.

The installations include a standard athletic field, a community playground, a swimming pool, community house, automobile camp ground with ten shelter houses, scenic drive and beautification of a small creek which crosses the grounds.

Later a pedestal and tablet bearing the names of the service men is to be installed. The site has been improved and a 60-foot steel flag-pole erected for preliminary dedication.

The cost of the park will total more than $20,000, and every dollar represents a free will offering ranging from 50 cents to $2500.

Council Votes $600 To Hire Rate Expert

The city council this morning passed to print an ordinance appropriating $600 as Oakland's share in employing R. W. Hawley as expert of the Eastbay cities in the coming water rate cases before the railroad commission, and then introduced and passed to print an ordinance which will hereafter accept Liberty bonds as legal tender in the guarantee bonds put up by street contractors.

The auditor's report for October, tendered the council, showed $579,475.03 in the treasury November 1.

The city council adopted a resolution inviting all city employees to participate in the Armistice Day celebration.

Free use of the Municipal Auditorium was granted the Durant Motors company for a reception and entertainment on the night of November 12.

$20,000 IN DOPE SEIZED.

SEATTLE, Nov. 9.—Narcotics estimated by police to be worth $20,000 were seized by police and federal investigators in a raid on a hotel late last night. Police said the dope was smuggled ashore from a Japanese steamer which arrived recently. Two Japanese were arrested.

Harding's Tribute to Dead To Be Heard in Oakland

The Armistice Day committee today added another feature to the Armistice Day observance to be held in Oakland on Friday.

President Harding's address, which will be delivered at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington at noon, eastern time, on Friday, will be read at the rotunda of the Oakland city hall at 9 o'clock, or simultaneously with the reading of the address by President Harding himself over the body of America's unknown dead soldier. In order to add this new feature to the ceremony at the city hall, the committee today advanced the time set for the opening of the special ceremony from 9 o'clock to 8:30.

Floral tributes to the unknown dead soldier will be received at the casket in the city hall rotunda beginning at 8 o'clock. The ceremony will be over in time for those who attend to participate in the parade.

The ceremony will consist of the reading of President Harding's address, the receiving of floral tributes and the placing of a floral wreath from the French government upon the casket by French societies of the bay cities.

MAYOR TO SPEAK.

Mayor John L. Davie will also speak. The casket, which will be placed in the rotunda, will represent the coffin in which the remains of America's unknown soldier were brought to this country from overseas.

Another feature of the day's program will be the scattering of flowers from the sky over Lake Merritt by three Oakland aviators, Chet Clarke, Clyde Pangborn and Dick Doane, all ex-service men. They will fly battle planes that partcipated in the last days of the world war and will circle the lake just as the last gun is fired by Battery B, California National Guard, which will fire the national salute to the dead. The assemblage will pause for two minutes of silence, during which time the aviators will circle the lake, dropping flowers and small flags as a tribute to those who gave their lives in the world war.

PLANS FOR PARADE.

Plans for the big parade, which will start promptly at 10 o'clock, were completed yesterday, and all arrangements were made for the ball to be given at the Oakland Auditorium in the evening by Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion. The committee still needs automobiles, however, to accommodate the G. A. R. veterans, their auxiliaries, the wounded veterans of the late war and the American War Mothers. Those who can furnish automobiles for the parade are requested to notify H. L. Roderick, phone Oakland 3749, daytime, and evenings, Merritt 3716. All automobiles participating must have the tops down and should be decorated, according to the special committee in charge.

The marshals and their aides, who will have charge of the various divisions, were today given their final instructions by Major Harry Huber, grand marshal, and William McCaughey, chief of staff. Each marshal and his aids will be responsible for the proper formation of his particular division.

FORMATION OF PARADE.

The organizations which will participate in the first division will be a platoon of police, a battalion of Coast Artillery from Fort Winfield Scott and a battalion of bluejackets.

Second Division—159th Infantry and First Separate Battalion of Field Artillery, California National Guard, David P. Barrows, marshal, and John Collier, aide.

Fifth Division—Merchants' Exchange, Exemption Board, Four-Minute Men, United Commercial Travelers; Harry Williams, marshal, and H. L. Roderick, aide.

LABOR BODIES.

Sixth Division—Alameda County Labor Council and labor organizations; James Ryan, marshal, and W. E. Castro, aide.

Seventh Division—Aahmes Patrol, Sciots, Elks, Native Sons, Woodmen of World, Moose, Junior Order of American Mechanics, Eagles, Oakland Pioneers, Ladies of the Maccabbes and the Salvation Army; Henry Steinbach, marshal, and Seth Bailey, aide.

Eighth Division—Schools and R. O. T. C.; E. W. Kottinger, commander, and C. S. Wood, aide.

Ninth Division—Boy Scouts; H. J. Beniss, marshal, and Irving Hazeltine, aide.

The parade will form on lower Broadway and cross streets at 9 o'clock and will move off promptly at 10 o'clock, passing through the downtown section to Lakeside Park. Following the arrival of the head of the parade at the park Battery B, California National Guard, will fire a salute of twenty-one guns. Following the salute a bugler will blow taps and then attention. As the assemblage observes the two minutes of silence as requested by President Harding, the aviators will approach and circle over Lake Merritt, dropping a floral tribute over the waters.

SPEAKERS OF DAY.

Judge Lincoln S. Church and Edgar S. Hurley, president of the Alameda County Labor Council, will be the speakers of the day. The Oakland Technical High School band will furnish the music at the bandstand.

Following the observances there will be a barbecue served in the park to all disabled ex-service men and soldiers who participate in the parade. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the aviators who participate in the scattering of flowers on Lake Merritt will stage an aerial show at Durant Field, and will play the first game of aerial polo ever played on the Pacific Coast to decide the Pacific and Atlantic championship. Pangborn will repeat his upside-down flying stunt.

At 3 o'clock Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion will place new flags on all graves of soldiers in Oakland cemeteries. In the evening there will be a ball at the auditorium, to which the entire city is invited.

THOSE IN CHARGE.

The committee which is in charge of the Armistice Day program is composed of representatives from the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish War Veterans, Disabled Veterans of the World War and other ex-service men's organizations, the Central Labor Council of Alameda county, the Merchants' Exchange and various other organizations.

The American House of Commons has announced an address at 11 a. m. by J. H. MacLafferty, four-minute speaker. Prayer by Rev. H. A. Van Winkle; music by Roscyle Harrison. The names of Oakland heroes who lost their lives in the world war are now deposited in the vault. If the names that are being forwarded of the "boys" of the state are received in time, they also will be deposited.

GERMANY PLANS FUTURE WARS, IS FEAR OF FRANCE

Claim Is Made That Teutons Could Raise Aarmy of 5,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(By the Associated Press).—M. Briand's desire in connection with the armament conference is that nothing should be withheld from the American public as to the military, economic or political situation of France or the reasons why that government is or might be impelled to one course or another.

The military position and requirements of France are matters of anxious concern and General Buat, chief of the French general staff, has brought documents respecting the military strength of Germany and her potential power.

These, it is said, include copies of secret instructions of the German ministry of war, concerning the grouping of former officers, of which there are 250,000, into skeleton regimental formations, so that without delay military units could be created by summoning former service men of which there are four or five million.

Premier Briand and members of made calls of ceremony on American officials and drove about Washington. The premier was received by President Harding, Vice-President Coolidge, officials of the State Department in the absence of Secretary Hughes, who had gone to New York to vote, and by Secretary Weeks and others.

WAGE CUT LOOMS IN MEAT PLANTS, WORKERS WARNED

Packers Ask Employees' Councils to Consider Pay Reduction Soon.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (By the Associated Press). — A general cut in wages of packing house workers was forecast today when four of the big five packers—Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Wilson & Co. and the Cudahy Packing company—requested their employees to consider, in the plant councils, a reduction in pay to be made effective soon. Officials said the conferences had not determined the size of the reduction to be sought.

Morris & Co., the only one of the big five which has not established employees' council, is expected to make any reduction which the others may agree on.

STRIKE AUTHORIZED.

The Amalgamated Association of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Union of North America recently took a strike vote, in which a substantial majority authorized Cornelius Hayes, international president, to order a walkout if he was unable to reach a satisfactory agreement with the packers.

The "big five" claim, however, that only a small portion of their men are union members, and that a strike would not seriously affect their plants.

REDUCTION ARGUMENTS.

Arguments of the packers for a wage reduction at this time were presented by Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co. He said in part:

"It is only because of the greatest necessity that we bring up the need of a further substantial reduction in expenses. Unfortunately, wages form such a large part of our expenses that it now becomes necessary to consider an early reduction of wage rates.

"Swift & Company's labor costs per hundredweight in 1915 was 40 cents; in 1921, it is $1. Livestock has dropped in price almost to prewar levels; prices of meat products also have fallen, yet the difference between the cost of raw materials and the selling price of our products has broadened."

Plants now are working with reduced forces. One company, which normally employs 100,000 men, has 35,000 now.

The proposed cut would affect all of the principal packing centers outside of Chicago.

Berkeley Selected As Conference City

BERKELEY, Nov. 9.—Berkeley has been chosen as the place for the next annual conference of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association. Frank W. Bartlett Jr., editor of the Daily Californian, has returned from the annual meeting held in Seattle last week with the news of Berkeley's selection as a place of conference next November. Bartlett was named as secretary of the association.

Some Lost Ground Is Regained by Democrats

420,000, according to latest estimates today.

Others on the Democratic ticket were carried into office by overwhelming majorities.

Besides sweeping New York City, the Democrats have gained 17 seats in the legislature, five of them outside New York City, and gained in up-state municipal elections.

Republicans, however, apparently won the only state office to be filled. On the basis of returns early today, Judge William A. Andrews was leading ex-Justice Townsend Scudder for the court of appeals.

Albany elected a Democratic mayor, William S. Hackett, for the first time in 22 years. Syracuse elected John Walrath, Democrat, for the first time in 15 years.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 9. — Republicans elected 21 of their mayoralty candidates and the Democrats 15 in municipal elections in the state yesterday excluding New York City. Four Republican strongholds, Albany, Syracuse, Yonkers and Onenta, where Republican administrations have been functioning for years, were carried by the Democrats. Lackawanna, the only city in the state having a Socialist mayor, will inaugurate a Democratic mayor on January 1.

Incomplete returns indicated that the Democrats had gained many seats in the New York State Assembly. They gained five seats upstate and many more in New York City.

Returns from 135 Assembly districts show the election of 93 Republicans, 40 Democrats and at least two Socialists.

Miss Marguerite L. Smith of New York, Republican, the only woman member of the 1921 legislature, was defeated by a Democrat.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Mayor Hylan's plurality, approximately 420,000, is the largest ever given a Democratic candidate for any office in this city, and is comparable only with President Harding's plurality of 438,471 last year. Approximately 95 per cent of the city's 1,263,940 registered voters, which included 447,015 women, went to the polls.

In every borough the mayor's plurality exceeded the total vote cast for Curran.

Eleven Kentuckians Die in Vote Riots

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9.—Kentucky awoke today from another costly election to find eleven dead and fourteen wounded. Two of the wounded were not expected to live.

The most fatal election fights were in "Bloody Breathitt," where eight were killed in a fight at Clay Hole, and Sylvester Howard Jr., was shot to death at Spring Fork. Two were probably fatally wounded and two others seriously hurt at Clay Hole.

Other casualties were in Ravenna and Frozen Creek.

Republicans claimed the election of Houston Quinn for mayor of Louisville by 6000, against Harris, Democrat.

Dismissed Chief Is Cleveland's Mayor

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 9.—Conducting a campaign without the backing of an organization and without making a speech, Fred Kohler, former chief of police of this city, reached the height of his ambition when he was elected mayor of Cleveland over William S. Fitzgerald, Republican incumbent, and five other candidates yesterday. Complete official returns early today gave Kohler a plurality of 4190 votes.

When Kohler was dismissed as chief of police in 1913 on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer, filed by former Mayor Newton D. Baker, he said:

"Cleveland some day will elect me its mayor."

The city adopted a charter amendment providing for the city manager plan.

"Me and Sarah" to Run Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9. — "Me and Sarah" on top of the political heap in Indianapolis today.

Lew Shank, auctioneer, former vaudeville performer and once a potato selling mayor of Indianapolis, was on that job again today, having been elected by a majority of 23,000.

"Lookout, you undesirables, Shank warned in a speech to the crowd milling around his home today. "Me and Sarah are going to make Indianapolis a clean place to live. We are mayor of Indianapolis."

Shank gives most of the credit for his success to his wife, Sarah.

Potato Crop at Alvarado Falls Below Normal

ALVARADO, Nov. 9.—For the first time in several years the Alvarado potato crop has fallen short of normal, and this season farmers report that only two-thirds of a crop will be harvested. Digging of the potatoes is practically ended here.

Potatoes grown in the Alvarado section rank among the highest quality produced in the State and the failure of the crop to come up to normal this year has been a blow to many of the ranchers.

Demurrage at the rate of $2 a car is being paid daily on an average of 70 carloads of sugar beets by the Alameda Sugar company at the Alvarado plant, it was said. Anxiety of the farmers to get the beats out of the ground before the rain came led to the overtaxing of the capacity of the huge mill, and as the result, it is said, farmers are being warned not to bring in the beets so fast, as they cannot be handled.

George Enos, Alvarado rancher, is building a large barn on his ranch and has it nearly completed.

Sale of the soft drink establishment conducted here by Jack Flynn has been announced. Flynn has sold to S. Arata of Oakland, who will take charge immediately. Flynn has planned to locate in Irvington, it is said.

Alvarado friends today attended the funeral of Mrs. T. R. Lawrence, a former resident of Alvarado, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. Robertson, 1041 Fifty-fifth street, Oakland. Mrs. Lawrence, who had been ill for several years, moved recently from Alvarado.

Father Casey of St. Anne's parish today announced that the Catholic Ladies had obtained a total of $1200 as the result of the bazaar and dance given last week by them. The money has been placed in the building fund of the parish.

The following officers were elected: Matt Stanley and J. Borrero, vice-chairmen Henry O. Tiffany, secretary; Peter Villa, treasurer. Edward J. Bertheaud was chairman.

MINORITY RULE IS CHARTER MENACE, STAATS DECLARES

Unfair Figures on Purchasing of Supplies Pointed Out by Speaker.

BERKELEY, Nov. 9.—Adoption of the proposed new charter scheme would develop minority rule, would menace the school department and deprive municipalities of their individuality, R. C. Staats said last night in a debate with Mark Requa at College Avenue Methodist church. Staats exploded claims of alleged financial savings and showed that Alameda county, for the last twenty years, has had a single purchasing agent.

"We have been informed of the advantages of a single purchasing agent. Alameda county for the last twenty years has had a single purchasing agent, John M. Sabin. The same man has occupied this position through the years, because of his recognized honesty and ability. Yet the aggregate of materials he buys is comparatively small, because all large quantities are purchased through specifications and competitive bids. I defy any one to buy cheaper than does Alameda county. Figures showing prices paid by the county and prices paid by the State are misleading and unjust, unless the circumstances of the purchase are explained. Purchases made in an open market to meet an emergency naturally would be higher than purchases made in the large quantities that the State would use. But buying even for the entire county would not mean quantity purchases of the size the State makes.

HARM TO BERKELEY.

"There are certain features of this proposed government which are of tremendous importance, and which after due study we believe would work great harm to the interests of Berkeley," said Staatz. "The control of the government is vested in a metropolitan council of seven members, elected according to the discredited ward system, and representing seven districts. A fifty-one per cent majority in four districts, opposed to 100 per cent of the three other districts, plus the forty-nine per cent minority in the original four, would constitute an ironclad minority rule of the entire county. This minority would be beyond recall, and could be ousted only by adopting a new charter.

"Development of this minority rule would be a natural sequence of adopting the charter, and unfortunately the charter affords no way of escaping such a vicious situation.

"The charter moreover would menace the school department of our city. The superintendent of schools and the entire board of education would be twice removed from the people, first through their appointment by the mayor, and, secondly, through the election of the mayor by the metropolitan council.

INCONSISTENCY CITED.

"There is an inconsistency in the charter in that it leaves three cities almost unchanged in their present government, aside from taxation, while the rest of the county is asked to submit to the managerial form of government, and the managerial form in a type which has never been tried before in the United States. The cities under the manager would lose most of their powers to him.

"The adoption of the charter, as I have pointed out before, would mean a loss of money for the local schools. Under the State law, which would govern in this case, the special school tax of 35 cents would have to be dropped. The schools are obtaining practically the maximum amount obtainable from county funds, and the loss of the local special tax would seriously hamper the work of the schools."

desire to listen to the charter proponents.

Other meetings held yesterday were at the Community Club of Boulevard Congregational Church, the Mithrite Club, Elmhurst Community Club and Clawson School Improvement Club.

Tomorrow evening the Golden Gate Improvement Club will hear Mark Requa defend the charter scheme and John Gelder oppose it. The meeting will be held at Golden Gate library, Fifty-sixth and San Pablo avenue, at 8 o'clock. Voters will be welcomed.

Charter Flaws Are Explained by Magoon

Leon Clark, chairman of the board of freeholders, was asked why it was that community desires were not heeded in the framing of the charter, during a course of a debate between him and L. B. Magoon at Elmhurst Community club last night.

"For many years," said Magoon, "it has been perfectly obvious that the citizens of Berkeley particularly recognize their responsibilities in controlling conditions in that city. They have felt that the whole State looks to them as responsible for maintaining the proper environment to the University of California, all of which has resulted in a very keen civic spirit in Berkeley. From this premise is the inevitable conclusion that the citizens of Berkeley would under no circumstances accept a charter which took from them control of the more vital elements of local autonomy. In other words, they need not look with equanimity upon any plan which would remove from them the control and direction of the forces affecting their development. Realizing these things which are so obvious, what persuasive influence brought the board of freeholders to the extremity of submitting a charter which stripped Berkeley of every vestige of local control, thereby assuring the active antagonism and disapproval of the citizens of Berkeley? The freeholders must have realized that with this action all possibility of a real consolidation in which Berkeley might be included went absolutely overboard."

Magoon also charged that the resettlement franchise might be granted by the metropolitan council without submitting it to a vote of the people, and quoted an opinion from Max Thelen in support of the contention. To this point Clark made no reply.

Berkeley Housewives To Hear Speakers

BERKELEY, Nov. 9.—The Berkeley State Housewives' League will meet tomorrow night at the Berkeley High School auditorium to hear speakers for and against the charter scheme. E. A. Vandeventer and Charles Spear will appear in behalf of the proponents of consolidation, and J. W. Girven and Charles Keeler will tell the housewives of the dangers lurking in the charter scheme.

"STRONG ARM" IS USED IN HAITI BY MARINES, CLAIM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Charges of indiscriminate "strong arm work being pulled off" in Haiti by gendarmerie under the command of American marine officers were laid before the Senate committee investigating Haitien affairs today. The charges were made in a "personal letter" written to Brigadier General Catlin, U. S. M. C., retired, by Lieutenant-Colonel R. S. Hooker. General Catlin, who appeared before the committee, presented the letter, which charged that the "corvee" system was continued under "camouflage" after it had been ordered discontinued.

Hooker, in his letter declared that a priest had told him that fifty prisoners had been killed by the gendarmerie at Hinche.

"The only thing definite I could learn was a statement by Captain Ernest L. Lavere that the had caused six prisoners to be shot because they were 'bad-eggs.' I do not think Lavere was mentally right, and I think he was bragging," Hooker wrote.

MAIL FRAUD CHARGED.

OMAHA, Nov. 9.—Nine men were indicted today by a federal grand jury charged with conspiracy to use the mails to defraud, in connection with promotion of the Missouri Valley Cattle Loan Company of Omaha, which is in the hands of a receiver. They include Jacob Masse and Chas. Wohlberg, recently returned from Los Angeles.

CHASES COW; BREAKS ARM.

BERKELEY, Nov. 10.—A runaway cow proved to be a source of great discomfort to John Costelow, 60 years old, 837 Gilman street, yesterday afternoon. Costelow fell while chasing the refractory animal and was taken to the Emergency hospital, where it is declared that he has a probable fracture of the right forearm.

SKY IS LIMIT OF TAXATION UNDER CHARTER PLAN

Former Mayor Otis of Alameda and Others Rap Wideopen Provisions.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 9.—Bogies sent out by charter proponents to frighten the unwary in Alameda were knocked over one after another at a meeting of Alameda citizens in the council chambers of the city hall last night. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce with W. J. Locke, city attorney, presiding. Speakers were: Carl Strom, Mayor Frank Otis, Mrs. Emma Burke of the Alameda Housewive's League; Mrs. Harry O. Tenney, acting president of the same organization; Mrs. W. H. Hoppe, president of the Alameda Women's Improvement club; W. B. Kohlmeyer and Major C. L. Tilden.

"If any one would go through the proposed charter and show me where there will be a saving of taxes," said Mayor Otis, "I would be greatly pleased. But the sky is apparently the limit of taxation under its wideopen provisions. Just what it is to be they do not know. I am not in favor of the type of government they are trying to force on us."

Locke drew a laugh when he explained the position of one Alameda man. "One of the first cases I had to prosecute when I came into office," he said, "was that of gambling in our Oriental quarter. We were unable to cinch the case, but the state legislature passed a law regulating gambling similar to the red light abatement act. This made it possible for us to close the houses, and immediately afterward the owner came to us and wanted to know why the police were annoying his Oriental tenants. Today that owner is one of the few supporters of the consolidation movement in Alameda."

Carl Strom, president of the Chamber of Commerce, urged a full vote and said that the chamber was unalterably opposed to the proposal.

The various speakers, representing different sections of the city and different organizations, were given generous applause. The meeting, it was said, will help bring out a large vote in Alameda and is proof of the solid stand of the great majority of the citizens against the charter scheme.

Bulletins on Films Will Be Posted in Schools and Public Places.

A Better Films Committee was organized in Hotel Oakland yesterday afternoon by representatives of 54 groups of women. The personnel of the delegated body will include: Mrs. R. E. Danford, chairman of civics, Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women Voters, who presided as chairman; Mrs. W. W. Robson, president; Mrs. R. W. Kittrelle, Lakeview Club, with which the movement originated; Mrs. Peter J. Kramer, president Oakland Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. H. J. Platts, president, Mrs. C. C. Halderman, Glenview Club. The committee will elect its own officers.

According to the announcement of the purpose of the movement for better films, no censorship will be attempted. The committee will endeavor, however, to give publicity to the films which meet with the approval of its members. Bulletins will be posted in the Oakland schools and other public places calling attention to screen plays which may be seen without harm to the minds and morals of school children under the present plan.

The women declare that the utmost care will be exercised in protecting the business of producers and exhibitors and that no unfavorable attention will be attracted to films which do not meet with the committee's approval.

Its Only Rival in Radiant Heat

"The perfect gas fire"

Objections to ordinary gas fires don't apply to Ray-Glo, "the perfect gas Fire." The heat of Ray-Glo does not come from the gas fire or flame, but in pure, odorless waves from glowing red radiants, just like the heat waves from a red hot iron.

In Ray-Glo these radiants are of tubular construction and special arrangement, so that the flame has free circulation, combustion is perfect, all the gas is consumed, the radiants become incandescent, and radiate a dry, healthful heat free from impurities.

Many styles and sizes. Easy purchase terms. Saves 50% on the fuel bill. Get a Ray-Glo now and be comfortable all winter. Let us show you.

Murder of Suitor Charged to Woman

Prosecuting Attorney Sliger will contend that the bullet would not have penetrated Danielson's back had the revolver been in his own hands.

Danielson was killed Sunday night in a scuffle with Mrs. Wilkes, whom he wished to marry. The woman contended that Danielson had been drinking and the pistol with which he had been threatening her was accidentally discharged.

Oakland's police department received the formal compliments of Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Frank Colbourn today, following the semi-annual inspection yesterday afternoon when two hundred of the "city's finest," clad in blue winter uniforms, passed in review before the mayor, city commissioners and hundreds of citizens. The review and inspection was held at Fifteenth and Jefferson streets, and is conducted twice every year when orders are received to change from summer to winter uniforms, or vice versa.

Drawn up in perfect alignment, the guardians of the city's safety stood at attention for nearly half an hour, while Mayor Davie, Chief of Police James T. Drew and Commissioners Colbourn, Albert E. Carter and William J. Baccus inspected the uniform and equipment of each man. The formalities were conducted under the personal direction of Chief Drew.

In addition to the inspection of the central detail, inspections were also held at the northern and eastern stations during the afternoon, which brought favorable comments from the inspecting officials.

After the inspection at Fifteenth and Jefferson streets, Commissioner Colbourn, as head of the police department, gave the men a short talk and complimented them upon their appearance.

"Your fine appearance calls for police service just as fine," said the commissioner.

Today he formally complimented Chief Drew upon the showing made by the entire department.

Driver of Auto Nabbed as Booze Vendor, Fined

WATSONVILLE, Nov. 8.—Police Officer Fred H. Cunha is paid to work at night, but this fact does not prevent him keeping his eyes and ears open and his brain working when he happens to be on the street in the day time. Saturday Cunha observed a large car fully enclosed with side curtains loitering on a back street. The driver appeared too modest and unobtrusive to be natural. This excited the policeman's curiosity and he proceeded to look for the Ethiopian in the fuel. A search disclosed a large quantity of jackass brandy.

Proved! Last Night! To Oakland!

Big Audience Hears Helen Clark and Joseph Phillips in EDISON Tone-Test at Capwells

In a test of direct comparison, made last night at Capwells store, before a large audience gathered on the Third Floor, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Helen Clark, the famous contralto, sang in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. The test was a perfect one.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of last night vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Helen Clark stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. She began to sing. Her golden notes soared over the big improvised auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through her song she suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at her side, took up her song—and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus alternated, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing was by watching Miss Clark's lips—so exactly like the living voice was the RE-CREATED voice.

Joseph Phillips made the same test of comparison with the RE-CREATIONS of his baritone selections. Again the same result—there was no difference between the RE-CREATED voice and the living voice.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience delighted with the way the New Edison bore out the test.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Only one question can still bother your mind. This question we now answer.

The instrument used in yesterday's tests was not a special model. It was an Official Laboratory Model, taken from regular stock. Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test of direct comparison with living artists.

You can have an Official Laboratory Model in your home. You can own an instrument which will do everything done yesterday in the test. Come in. Hear the wonderful Official Laboratory Model for yourself. Learn about our Budget Plan, which puts our Official Laboratory Model into your home for a small payment down and easy monthly payments.

Among the questions to come up are those of ability to finance great amounts of new construction such as would aid in relieving the unemployment situation, possibility of extending unlimited gas service to industry and homes for heating, elimination of the smoke nuisance of cities through abolishing use of solid fuels, methods of relieving the industry of hampering rate and service standards such as restrict progress, the conservation of coal and oil resources of the nation.

Charles A. Munroe of Chicago, president of the association, will be the principal speaker at the opening session. Much interest centers in the report of the industrial fuel committee, which for a year has been making an exhaustive study of the heating problems of the nation.

Optimism regarding the outlook for general business is seen in the "style show," at which more than 100 of the leading manufacturers of gas equipment of the country are exhibitors.

East Said to See Menace of Japanese

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 9.—The general public in the east has come to a realization of the Japanese menace as it exists in California and now favors exclusion of Japanese immigration and restrictive legislation on land ownership.

This in substance was the message brought back by Director Will C. Wood of the state department of education, who returned here after a speaking tour through the east.

"The east now realizes that the menace is not to the Pacific coast alone, but to the entire nation," said Wood. "One Massachusetts man pointed out that the Japanese, if unchecked, will soon expand their activities on the Pacific coast to include weaving and other manufacturing industries."

RAIL WAGE CUT TO 1920 SCALE BY LABOR BOARD

Action by U. S. Arbiters Comes After Road's Receivers Show Deficit.

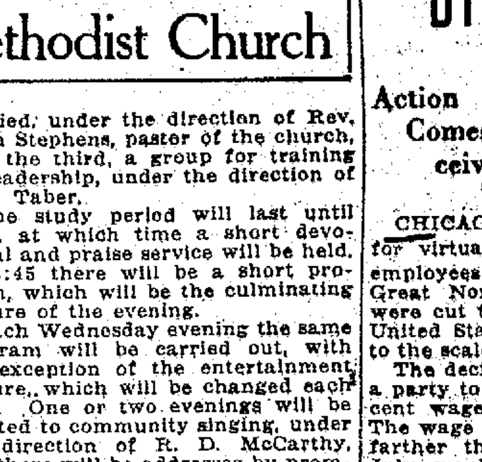

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Rates of pay for virtually all classes of railroad employees on the New Orleans and Great Northern Railroad company were cut today in a decision by the United States Railroad Labor Board to the scale existing March 1, 1920.

The decision said the road was not a party to the case involving the recent wage decrease of July 1 last. The wage cut announced today going farther than the one ordered last July, would take away the increase granted the railroad employees in in May, 1920. A. O. Wharton and W. L. McMenimen, labor members of the board, dissented from the majority opinion. Wharton pointed out several specific instances where he declared experienced workmen had their wages reduced below those in other classes of less experience.

Train and engine service employees were returned without qualification to the rates of pay in effect March 1, 1920, but rates for shop crafts and roundhouse laborers were specified by the board, class by class, and station agents were similarly rated.

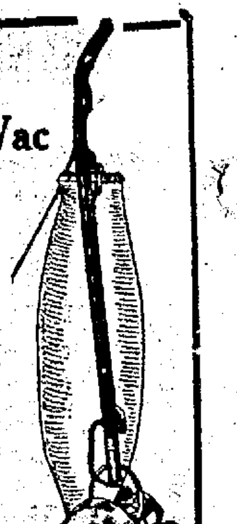

The decision said the road's receivers testified to an operating deficit of $500,000 for the year 1920 and a further operating deficit of $95,000 for the first half of 1921.

CANCER INSTITUTE

THE SCOURGE OF THE AGE TREATED SUCCESSFULLY IN BERKELEY

annon Cancer Cure

Bohannon Cancer Institute of ley is an institution estab- for the scientific treatment ure of cancer and all forms of nant and benign growths withe knife, burning plaster or X- The remedy which they em- an anti-cancer toxin which is nced into the growth with a hypodermic needle.

y have a large and thoroughly ped private sanitarium exclu- for the treatment and care of and tumor sufferers, where scopical observations are made patient so desires, but not with ea that such examinations are ial in th diagnosis of cancer. ld the readers of these few ne present and see men, women ery often children afflicted, as see them, people afflicted with form and variety of cancer, the simple to the most malig- representatives from nearly ev- tate in the Union, many from a and Mexico as well, they then be impressed with the sibilities incumbent on them lieve humanity of this terrible e.

eir experience in treating malig- diseases extends over a period any years, during which time al thousand cases have come their observation. With the a view that there is no reason they, who have had extended ence in the treatment of can- nd who have made a special of it, should not specialize in treatment of the disease, the as others specialize in other ches of medicine and surgery, ohannon Cancer Institute was lished many years ago. It is necessary to consult persons have been patients at the Sani- n to be convinced that the es there are real and efficient, that the institution is conducted in a manner which commands the respect and approbation of all who have come to know it.

Scientific Treatment

This treatment is the most scientific in use; in fact, the only treatment based upon a scientific principle, and they have never failed to effect a permanent cure where the disease was so situated that it could be reached. No new discovery can ever offer more hope for sufferers from cancer than the anti-cancer toxin used by The Bohannon Cancer Institute exclusively.

Three Facts

Their method of treatment is founded upon three facts, today recognized by all regular schools of practice and by the best observers in the profession:

First—Cancer in its incipiency is always a local disease and not a disease of the blood. It is a disease of health, something of a misnomer, but nevertheless true.

Second—Cancer is a vegetating cell growth, and in every instance invades the tissues and glands surrounding it by the process known as infiltration.

Third—Cancer, to be permanently cured, requires the destruction of the remotest cell, root and fiber. The Anti-Cancer Toxin which they employ has a strong affinity for malignant growths, owing to the diseased tissue being more open and porous, no two of the cells being connected as are in healthy tissue; consequently they give no resistance, but absorb the medicine instantly, leaving the sound tissue in a perfectly healthy and normal condition.

Sixty Thousand Deaths Annually From Delay

(Reprint from the Pacific Medical Journal, July, 1915.)

The key to the reduction of cancer mortality lies precisely in this: That cancer always begins as a purely local disease, involving a strictly limited area. Second, that this limited area is accessible in about four-fifths of all cases; and, third and most important, a commencing cancer practically always indicates its presence when it is still in its early locally limited and permanently curable stage. In other words, the enemy that we have to fight is not the cancer, but the delay. Nearly 60,000 of our people die every year, not because they have cancer, but because they have waited until the cancer becomes incurable. The causes for delay are, first, that the people know little or nothing about cancer. The layman or laywoman does not know that certain evident signs and symptoms mean that cancer is insidiously creeping on, them and will be fatal unless recognized and checked in time. So that a large proportion of our 60,000 unnecessary cancer deaths occur because the people do not know.

Important Information

Do not look for great pains and other disturbances to correspond with the severity of the malady, for the disease cancer generally gives little and very often no pain. It is notably a disease in which the signs of trouble bear no relation to its seriousness. Practically all tumors of breast are cancer.

Uselessness of the Knife

What we have to say with regard to the knife in the treatment of cancer is based upon a professional experience of many years, the reports and statistics given by skilled surgeons throughout the world, and a large daily correspondence with those who have unfortunately submitted to surgical operations for the removal of cancer. The knife not only fails to effect a cure, but it disseminates or spreads the disease (owing to the technique of the operation) so that in the majority of cases cut, the patient would have been more comfortable and lived longer had no operation been performed. The newer or more radical operations that are performed leave the patient in a more deplorable condition than did the older and more conservative operations. The operation for the removal of cancer of the breast has been converted from what was formerly considered to be a minor operation into one of the major operations in surgery, a change due wholly to the immense and wide area invaded by the knife. Failure practically always must attend such operations, because it will never be possible for a surgeon with blood following the knife, to determine whether or not he has removed the last root and cell of the disease; and if one cell or microscopical portion is left the patient is no better off than before the operation, and as a matter of fact is worse. The remaining roots and cells of the disease being forced deeper into the tissues by the resisting character of the scar produced by the sewing of the wound, so that by the time the disease makes its appearance on the surface the deeper surrounding tissues are involved, and in all cases the patient's chances for recovery are more doubtful than before the operation.

Ethics

They are Cancer Specialists—they know that it is not ethical for doctors to advertise. Yet, in the interests of humanity, as they have a treatment for cancer that is astoundingly successful, we believe they should tell the people about it—should advertise it.

Such trivialities as "etiquette" and ethics we believe have no place where the interests of humanity are concerned. This treatment has been successful in hundreds of cases, to which they can refer you for your own satisfaction; some of them have been of more than ordinary severity.

Conclusion

In conclusion, our object has been to place before the readers the reasonableness of this method of curing cancer, tumor, malignant and benign new growths, showing what its possibilities are, and at the same time not failing to recognize its limitations. To claim that cancer can be cured in the face of the generally accepted opinion that it is an incurable disease seems a bold and extravagant assertion. Many say, "I do not believe a well-developed case of genuine cancer was ever cured." Our reply is this: They have cured hundreds of cases; investigate them carefully, bring any scientific tests whatever to bear upon them, and they will stand or fall by the result.

BRITAIN AUTHOR OF HONORS FOR UNKNOWN DEAD

England's Lead in Acting On Suggestion Followed by Other Nations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. — The idea of conferring a nation's proudest honors on the bones of an unknown soldier, as will be done by the United States at Arlington National Cemetery on Armistice Day, was first put forward in England by Nathaniel Railton, a young clergyman and war veteran.

According to information reaching American Legion headquarters here, England's initiative in holding a great public mourning service at the bier of one of her nameless heroes was taken after Railton had published in a London paper an open letter addressed to the English public.

This article pointed out that many thousands of soldiers had died on the battlefield for their country, and their ideals, and had gone to their graves unidentified, and urged that such a soldier, utterly lost in the great holocaust, typified more perfectly than could any other of the victims of the war the spirit of self-sacrifice and love of flag and country.

Urging a great demonstration in the form of a public funeral for an "Unknown Soldier," the letter expressed the thought that such a solemn ceremony would rivet forever in the hearts of British subjects the profound lessons of war and a worthy appreciation of the sacrifice of the young men who laid down their lives.

England's lead in acting on the suggestion was quickly followed by France, Italy and the United States.

Nathaniel Railton is the son of George S. Railton, England's first Salvation Army commissioner, who was found dead in a little railroad station in Germany shortly before the outbreak of the war. Young Railton, who at that time was a theological student, enlisted at once and served through many of the desperate battles of the early part of the war.

TOWN TO BE MOVED.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 9.—Plans for building another "model settlement" to replace the flood ruins of Britannia Beach, where 36 lives were lost recently, reveal that the position of the town will be shifted to avoid a repetition of the disaster. The flood swept down the mountain side through an old creek bed and the mining community will be rebuilt on higher ground, avoiding the creek bed.

INVENTORS AND PATENT LAWYERS' RELATIONS TOLD

Harry Schroeder Outlines His Work in Address At Ad. Club Lunch.

Inventors and patent attorneys are important factors in contributing to modern science and human comfort and welfare. The inventor conceives the idea that is to benefit mankind and the patent attorney very often makes possible successful realization of the inventor's dream.

These are some of the conclusions reached by Harry Schroeder, registered patent attorney of this city, who addressed the Ad Club at its regular weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

Schroeder discussed some of the many problems which, he said, constantly confront inventors and patent attorneys and emphasized what he termed was the necessity of intelligent co-operation between inventors and their patent representatives.

LIABLE TO ERR.

Patent attorneys, the speaker said, are just as apt to err as anyone else, and cited several instances where inventors had consulted patent attorneys, been advised that their idea was not feasible or worthy of further expense or effort and then had elaborated on their scheme, protected and marketed it through the proper channels and made large sums of money.

The precautionary measures that should be taken by inventors and prospective inventors carefully were gone into by Schroeder, particularly in obtaining patent records to see if an idea for a patent already has been covered legally and to obtain additional ideas of value.

"COMMERCIAL SUCCESS."

Schroeder cited an authority who declared that only one in every thousand patents issued by the patent office at Washington ever turned out to be a "commercial success." Schroeder said he questioned this and, while admitting that the percentage might be high, pointed out that ideas differed as to what properly could be described as a "commercial success" and that all of these patents contributed to human knowledge and, in a degree, to bettering human existence.

Miss H. Linney, a member of the Better Business Bureau staff, and Lawrence Lund put on a skit in which Miss Linney appeared as Ad-Libitum, the official organ of the Ad Club, and Lund personified Oakland. Lund, as Oakland, besought Miss Ad-Libitum to ask but one gift and it would be granted. Miss Ad-Libitum told Lund (Oakland) that a bit more advertising would help out and her plea was granted by Lund with the enthusiastic support of all the club members.

Wife Slayer Will Be Hanged Today

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Frank Ligregni, wife slayer, who will be hanged at 4:30 p. m. today, the first afternoon hanging in the history of Cook county, spent the forenoon in the death cell. Ligregni attacked Charles West, a jail guard, who was taking him to the death cell, today. Ligregni turned on West and struck him down, then seized a piece of West's broken eyeglasses and slashed him twice across the face. Other guards sprang to the aid of West and rushed Ligregni to the death cell.

At the insanity hearing of Ligregni West testified he believed that the condemned man was sane.

spiration of woman should be domestic life and working for the future through the family group. The real equipment of women should be as to how best to perfect this domestic life. Most women, as we know, are primarily interested in the other sex. To live a complete life a woman of today must be interested in her own sex. We must study and know the place of woman as a citizen and a mother and as a wife.

STILL WOMAN'S SPHERE.

"Housework is still woman's sphere. She must keep that sphere. Every woman must know housework. That women do not give to the field of housework the same intelligence as she gives to music and the arts is one of the greatest losses to society. The joy of perfection can be applied to housework as well as the other types of professional life. This does not mean that women should tire and wear themselves out with maintaining the trivial things which tradition has handed down to us. She must use her brain in deciding what thing she should and should not do.

"The old adage that the woman's sphere is the home is, I hope, being replaced by the new adage that the home is the sphere for both men and women. Woman must build up the home to attract men to it."

How faculty and students might best cooperate for a sultion of mutual problems of college life formed the subject of a joint discussion between the student conference and a score of deans of women gathered from western universities.

GIVES STUDENTS' VIEW.

Miss Kathryn Springborg, representing the University of California, presented the students' point of view. She declared that faculty cooperation was not at all times forthcoming to students at the State University.

"We want cooperation in all things," she said, "but do we get it?"

Miss Springborg attacked the present system of readers who mark examination papers as unfair to the student body in general, while details of curriculum, she also said, were lacking in completeness.

That the student in general is more than willing to look upon the faculty member as a type of human being to be hated and feared was the answer of Miss Ethel Caldwell, dean of women of the University of Washington.

Miss Caldwell declared that the large student body prevented the original close touch with students by faculty members that marked the colleges of other days.

REWARD OFFERED FOR YOLO BANDIT

WOODLAND, Nov. 9.—A reward of $300 has been offered by the Yolo county supervisors and Sheriff J. W. Monroe for the man or woman who captures dead or alive the famous Yolo bandit, who within the past six months has held up seven automobile parties out of Oakland, San Francisco and San Mateo points and robbed them of approximately $1100, shooting one in the hand. Mrs. Katherine Isenhart, policewoman of San Francisco, was one of his victims.

The bandit has made all of his holdups at the detour leading from th cement bridge into the town of Yolo, eight miles from Woodland. Every effort has been made to capture him, but without avail. He has stolen two cars to make his escape from the scene of activities, abandoning them at isolated points. All descriptions furnished the police indicate that the same bandit is guilty of all the various holdups recorded here.

Few Quail Found By Niles Hunters

NILES, Nov. 9.—Scores of hunters who have been coming to this vicinity for quail are returning home much disgruntled, as quail are few and far between this season, and the few that are in the Niles hills have taken to the deep brush.

Quail have been scarce near Niles for several years, but hunters each year cut down their numbers until they are almost extinct. Nevertheless each Saturday brings hunting parties from the bay cities, but the huntsmen have been returning empty-handed.

College Women Say Smoking 'Dirty and Expensive' Habit

BERKELEY, Nov. 9.—Branded as a "dirty and expensive" habit, smoking by college girls was sternly frowned upon at yesterday afternoon's session of the second annual intercollegiate conference of associated women students held at the University Young Women's Christian Association building.

Despite their frowns delegates assembled from a score of western universities frankly admitted their inability to check an admitted increase in the use of nicotine.

Delegates importuned each other to offer some practical solution for the problem.

Miss Olive Presler, chairman of the conference and president of the Associated Women Students of the University of California, who first brought the question before the conference, admitted that women student officers were helpless to control the outside lives of college girls.

STYLED PERSONAL PROBLEM.

"Smoking is a personal problem which must be satisfied personally," was her edict. "As far as I can see the Associated Women Students of any university can only let it be known that it stands for a fine type of womanhood—physically, mentally and spiritually. We can let students know that we can't have this high type of womanhood if we indulge in this extremly dirty, highly expensive and decidedly unladylike habit of smoking."

That students who smoked have been haled before women student affairs committees in different colleges was admitted by the delegates. Miss Presler in bringing the discussion before the meeting declared that she had been importuned by Berkeley boarding house keepers to find methods for punishing girl students who smoke.

As boarding houses are not under the jurisdiction of the women's campus committee no help could be given, was Miss Presler's statement.

STRONG SENTIMENT SHOWN.

Miss Bessie Jones, University of Utah, declared that an indignation meeting had been held by the women students at that college at which strong sentiment was expressed against smoking. She urged a campaign of education.

"But how are you going to educate without publicity and without hurting your own college as a consequence?" demanded Miss Presler. Fear of publicity was also expressed by delegates from other institutions.

"We have had but one case of smoking before our women's honor committee," declared Miss Aryness Joy of the University of Washington. "Smoking is not a real problem at the University of Washington as yet, but we can't deny that it is coming. Consequently we are getting ready for it."

Miss Mary Mathews of Stanford University admitted that the Palo Alto campus was no exception to the general rule. She also importuned for help.

That the problem be attacked from a standpoint of hygiene was the solution offered by Miss Madeline Steffin of Reed College, Portland.

HIGHER STANDARDS URGED.

So absorbed were delegates in the smoking problem that by a vote of the conference a scheduled discussion of the participation of women in campus politics was postponed until tomorrow morning's session.

In reporting the varied activities of the women student affairs committee at the University of California, Miss Matthew declared that drinking among college girls, "immoral" dressing, objectionable behavior at dances and other offenses have brought co-eds up for "trial" in recent months.

Higher standards for college women were urged by the delegates. Among those further contributing to the general discussion were Miss Kathryn Springborg and Miss Eloise Selleck of the University of California, Miss Blossom Perry, University of Washington; Miss Lucille Stubbs, University of Colorado, and others.

THREE KILLED BY S. P. LOCOMOTIVE NEAR ROSEVILLE

Passenger Train Runs Down Four Men Attempting to Board Freight.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 9.—Three men were killed beneath the wheels of a Southern Pacific passenger train near Roseville, near here, and another received serious injuries when he was struck by the same train.

The dead are Walter Smith of Detroit, Mich., or Lakeport, N. Y.; Curly Underwood of Fall River Mills, Cal.; Frank Thompson of Montana.

Edward Lee of Tennessee suffered a broken arm.

The four men, in attempting to board a west-bound freight train at a point just south of the Southern Pacific yards at Roseville, ran from behind a string of freight cars on a siding directly in the path of No. 14, east-bound.

Apparently unaware of their danger the men darted out on the main line a second before the engine bore down upon them. They had no chance to escape, according to Lee, who is in the Auburn county hospital with a broken right arm and internal injuries.

HOHENZOLLERN'S PORTRAITS ARE DRUG ON MARKET

GENEVA, Nov. 9. — Paintings of the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs have slumped in the market until what are considered by dealers good portraits of the former German Emperor and the late Emperor, Francis Joseph of Austria, brought only bids of 100 francs each at a recent art sale in Zurich.

Portraits of the former German Crown Prince, Frederick William, in his Death's Head uniform brought offers of only 50 francs.

The dealers offering these and other similar pictures guaranteed them as coming from the various royal palaces. The pictures are to be taken to the United States and to England, where the dealers hope the markets will be better.

SACRAMENTAN KILLED.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 9.—Walter M. Dale, 54 years old, a well borer of this city, was electrocuted at the Kellogg Cannery, near Newcastle, when he came in contact with a live wire in adjusting a suction pipe on a new well he had just completed drilling. Jack McConnell, Dale's stepson, was knocked to the ground when he attempted to rescue his foster parent, but was not seriously hurt.

NOT SO BAD, SAYS PEGGY JOYCE, OF MILLION ALIMONY

Ex-Chorus Girl May Marry Again, But, Meanwhile, She's Satisfied.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Perhaps Peggy Hopkins Joyce will marry again and perhaps she won't. Peggy is not saying.

Whether she does, she is satisfied with the outcome of the divorce proceedings which made her no longer the wife of James Stanley Joyce, Chicago multimillionaire.

"I have something bordering on a million," said Peggy. "Not so bad."

The decree divorcing Joyce from the former "Follies" chorus girl, who, he asserts, cost him more than $1,000,000 in a brief but fervid romance, is expected to be signed soon by Judge Sabath. Judge Sabath indicated he would grant a decree of absolute divorce and approve the terms of settlement agreed upon. The divorce will be given Joyce on the grounds of cruelty and adultery. Peggy's cross bill and request for temporary alimony will be dismissed.

"I'm glad it's over," said Peggy today.

"JOYCE TOO SLOW."

Reports that Peggy is to wed Peter C. Merillon, son of a Paris banker, drew only evasion from the famous former chorus girrl.

"He is my good friend. I think very highly of him. Of course, I don't want to be quoted at this time on the question of my marriage to him," Peggy declared.

Regarding Joyce, Peggy said she bore no rancor. She intimated, however, that Joyce was too slow too travel in her class.

"I hear that Mr. Joyce is going to marry a simple little country girl," Peggy said. "I believe he will be happy with a nice girl from some small town."

"WOMAN JUST A TOY."

Then Peggy turned to a bit of philosophy.

"A woman is just the toy of a man," she said. "Mr. Joyce gave me a ninsight into a life of splendor—he held the curtains open that I might have a glimpse of luxury, that I might grow to love the living flame of jewels, that I might adore the gowns that were the works of art, instead of needled models.

"And now—it's awfully hard for a woman to find herself deprived of those things once she has had them."

Ex-Sheriff Admits Thefts; Paroled

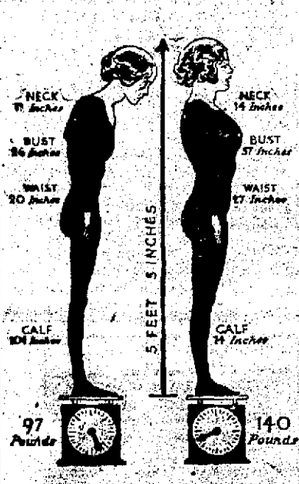

FOSSIL, Ore., Nov. 9.—Oscar Kelsay, ex-sheriff of Wheeler county, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of public funds and was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary. He was paroled immediately afterward.

Kelsay, who was sheriff here for about thirteen years, was accused of misappropriating approximately $19,973. He returned $1500 after he was arrested.

SDAYER IS SENTENCED.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 9.—John H. Strausen has been sentenced at Minden to serve a term of from ten to twenty-five years in the state prison for killing C. S. Pellor of Goff, California, with a hatchet near Gardnerville, August 1. Strausen pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

Skirts and Cigarettes

"Why are so many reformers bitter against cigarettes? Did they try to smoke 'em and get sick? Why are the anti-short skirts so fierce against abbreviated drapies?

"HAVE THEY BOW LEGS THEMSELVES?"

This, and much more guaranteed-to-wash philosophy does the following writer set before you. Don't waste another second listening to me. READ HER!

Dear Jerry:

May I say a few words? I don't want to cry on your shoulder—no—I want to make a confession.

I married when I was seventeen and have two dear babies to bless our seven years of married life, and a husband a few years older than myself who has made and saved enough for a little business in which I help him. I'll tell you, it's pretty hard just now at first.

I keep shop through the day working hours, and if I do say it myself I keep our home and cook more than some of the women who don't help their husbands do anything but spend their money.

Indeed, a home is a woman's place and that is where the Lord intended her to be.

But if it is necessary for her to be elsewhere, in her husband's place of business or someone else's husband, for the love of Mike let her be there, providing she does not let her little ones go neglected, and I don't believe there are many more neglected from mothers working than from the ones who go gadding around gossiping about the ones who do to some neighbor, forgetting they have a baby, while baby goes toddling out in the street or tumbling off the back steps. But back to the confession.

When my first baby came, I felt the responsibility tied me down. My health was rather bad for three years and I lived then in a small town where everyone knew everybody's business.

Gee, I used to rave at the women who ran around to dances and I say real bad in every flirtation because I happened to be associated with a few gossipers who saw things that way.

A little incident which I could not very well quote here, brought me to my senses and I saw the folly and unfairness of it. How often some foolish, harmless deed can be misunderstood and misunderstood and misrepresented so that it can make life intolerable for another.

And often the trouble is envy. I look back now and see that it was partly because I was jealous and could not have the enjoyment these other girls were having.

Since my "change of heart" I have had a baby boy and I am not tied down. I have some capable person take care of them when I go out, but how I do love 'em. And I'm bad, Jerry; I'm wicked; I dance; I drink near-beer—not.

But I wear short skirts, short enough.

And once, shame on me, I smoked a cigarette. my husband dared me, too, and oh, my gee, I was sick. Golly I was sick and I don't smoke at all any more.

Two or three expert gossip and news packers, in my estimation, can cause more heartaches than all your dance halls, short skirts and rolled socks.

I don't mean to say I approve of all of these things that are being done. The ones I don't approve of I don't do. It is my neighbor's privilege to do so if she likes—I sure don't care.

I wonder if some of those blue law peddlers and reformers haven't tried smoking a cigarette and it made them sick, too. And say, I'll bet a lot of the anti-short-skirters have got bow-legs and would look like sin in one.

Well, Jerry, I never intended or expected this to get in print. I suppose it is just a common-place jumble of thoughts, but I am relieved just the same after reading your page a number of months.

This is my first. Good luck to you.

VIRGINIA E.

Girl, you're a wonder, and you're hereby elected to come again soon and often and help me manage this Gang!

Witches' & Pirates' Story Den

PRIZE WINNER.

Ruth Goddard, 13 years old; 6019 Shattuck avenue, Oakland.

A NIGHT'S ADVENTURE.

Jimmy having been put to disgrace for the simple deed of spilling ink all over the floor in a wild effort to write a story for the Aunt Elsie Club, sat on the back porch with a deep scowl on his face.

His only comfort was Treasure Island, a favorite book. Ruff, his dog, was peacefully snoozing while Jimmy, as he read, dramatically waved his arms around just as a bloody pirate might do.

Having satisfied himself with reading he made a sudden swoop towards the sleeping dog intent in in frightening him. But Ruff was too quick for him and after a grand scrimmage made by the two they were suddenly stopped by a shrill voice. "Stop making all that noise, Jimmy, or I'll take the stick to you." Then Jimmy and the dog vanished into the house, up a long flight of stairs and into his room.

A large red handkerchief was taken from its hiding place and also two large brass rings. These Jimmy studied carefully. Now he must have a sash. A sudden movement towards his mother's room and he came back rewarded by a large red blanket hanging over his arm and from this he cut a good sized sash. He next brought his water pistol into view and last he cut some large buckles out of cardboard and pinned them on his shoes. Next he tied the sash around his waist and the handkerchief around his head. The large brass earrings found their place on his ears and presto! he was a pirate.

Then making a blood-curdling yell he fled from the house and down the road through a vacant lot towards a rather large house. "Billy," he cried. No answer. Then he whistled somewhat like an owl, that was their secret cry. He was answered by a sleepy "What do you want?"

"Come out," cried Jimmy. "I have something important to tell you. There was a quick patter of feet and into view came Billy.

"Gee, Jimmy, you look swell," were his first words. At this Jimmy blossomed out and showed his costume to the best advantage. "Do you want to be a pirate too, Billy?" questioned Jimmy.

"You bet," was the answer. Both boys rushed into Billy's room. Billy was at a loss as what to wear. But Jimmy's quick eye saw a large green silk bureau scarf. "Just the thing, Billy, put this around your waist." The scarf was quickly secured and transferred onto Billy. A sudden thought struck the boy. "I'll wear Dad's old hunting shoes," and he immediately dashed off and brought back the desired articles. Jimmy being somewhat jealous tried not to show it. Then a black silk handkerchief was tied securely on Billy's head.

It was getting toward evening. Billy and Jimmy trudged along towards the latter's house. "My mother and father and also my big brother are gone," explained Jimmy. "They went to a show so we'll have some fun all by ourselves." After playing pirate for quite a while in Jimmy's room, Billy being a bit tired detected a queer sound which seemed to come from the lower part of the house. More likely the front room. "What's that," whispered Billy.

"What's what!" demanded Jimmy as he took his water pistol and filled it with water by means of a bowl meant for that purpose.

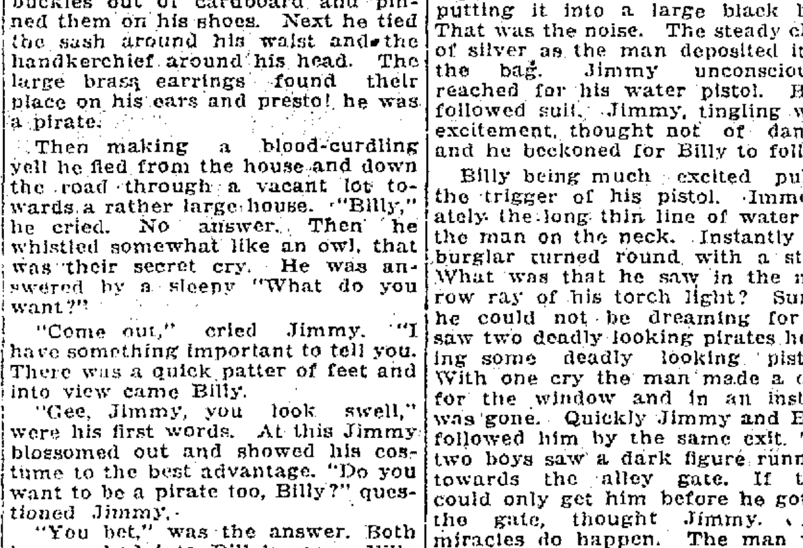

"Don't you hear it?" whispered Billy again. Jimmy nodded assent and they both listened again. "Oh, I guess it's only Ruff," said Jimmy. "Let's go down and get him."

Whether it was because both boys were frightened or because it was dark and they couldn't see very well I do not know, but they stole down stairs as quiet as two mice. Jimmy muttered something of surprise, for the two boys perceived a man stealing the silver from a cabinet and putting it into a large black bag. That was the noise. The steady click of silver as the man deposited it in the bag. Jimmy unconsciously reached for his water pistol. Billy followed suit. Jimmy, tingling with excitement, thought not of danger and he beckoned for Billy to follow.

Billy being much excited pulled the trigger of his pistol. Immediately the long thin line of water hit the man on the neck. Instantly the burglar turned round with a start. What was that he saw in the narrow ray of his torch light? Surely he could not be dreaming for he saw two deadly looking pirates holding some deadly looking pistols. With one cry the man made a dart for the window and in an instant was gone. Quickly Jimmy and Billy followed him by the same exit. The two boys saw a dark figure running towards the alley gate. If they could only get him before he got to the gate, thought Jimmy. But miracles do happen. The man was rather tall for his age and as he was running he ran into a clothesline and it caught him in the chest, knocking him against the chicken coops, the door not being fastened for the night, gave way and in tumbled the man. In a flash Jimmy clapped on the lock which was a heavy padlock and it would not break easily. A hail came from the front of the house and Jimmy quickly answered with a loud cry for the man was trying desperately to escape. Jimmy knew he could not keep him in the cage long. His cry was answered by the quick sound of steps and into view came Jimmy's father and brother. "What in the world have you got in that cage, Jimmy, a wild hyena or a jumping jack?" For the man was clawing the cage madly in his effort to escape. Jimmy, trying to suppress his excitement, said in a loud voice, "Oh, dad, it's only a burglar I picked up and thought he would be safer in the chicken coop." The surprise of the two men could never be more marked. Then Jimmy related the story to them. After finishing with his story, Jimmy's father and brother quickly seized the much enraged burglar and marched him to the police station nearby. Immediately the two boys had to again tell their story. This time the burglar pleaded for his freedom. But the officer in charge only said: "It's too bad Tom, that they caught you, the game's up. We've been hunting for you and now I'll give the two boys the reward of one thousand dollars."

There were never two happier or more amazed boys than Jimmy and Billy as they trudged along the road towards home, still in their queer pirate costumes.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

"Of course, I'll tell her," I said, "only I imagine she will not rise very early. She had almost a collapse tonight before dinner, and I have urged her to sleep late if she can."

"HOW NERVOUS YOU ARE!"

"It's a wonder to me that she hasn't gone to pieces months ago," Dicky replied, and there was real concern in his voice. "She's been burning the candle at both ends and sometimes lighting it in the middle for a long while now. She has the constitution and vitality of a pioneer ox, but I believe even that breed dropped when they were too heavily laden. There's going to be a fine smash with six months or so in a hospital some day."

"Oh, Dicky! Is it as bad as that?" I said, sitting up in bed, every nerve alive with quivering apprehension.

He caught my hands, quieted their fluttering with his own strong ones, then gathered me close to him.

"How nervous you are!" he said wonderingly, then with strong self-reproach in his tones:

"What an idiot I am, always blurting out some fool theory which I don't half mean! No, it distinctly isn't as bad as that, nor won't be, for I think among us we can persuade Lil to stop working like seven horses and tending to the troubles of everybody within a radius of ten miles of her. That's all the trouble, really. A few weeks' rest would set her up wonderfully. It's only in her keeping up this gait that there's danger."

"I'm afraid she won't get much rest for the next week or two," I said remorsefully. "You know she's determined to help me move, and also to find some place nearby where she can live with Marion. And from what we learned the other day it's a very discouraging proposition. It will mean endless travel and worry."

Dicky looked thoughtful.

DISTURBING THOUGHTS.

"I'm afraid I made a mess of things selling this place," he said, with rare admission of a mistake for him. "I wonder—you say the woman is dissatisfied—I wonder if by taking a loss I could get it back again? It's worth trying anyway. But don't bother about anything else tonight. Rest your head here, that's right, and I'll rub it until you go to sleep. You're pretty near a nervous collapse yourself."

I dared make no protest against his proposal to try to get back the house. But I knew that I feared his success even as before I had dreaded the thought of his selling it. And even as I drifted to sleep under the magnetic stroke of his hand upon my forehead, thoughts of Lillian overworked mingled with pictures of Edith Fairfax, smiling, fascinating, dangerous to my peace of mind as my next door neighbor.

When I awoke I could see the glimmer of the sun beneath my carefully lowered window curtains. Dicky must have given instructions that because of my nervous headache I should not be disturbed, for I realized that it was late in the forenoon.

For a minute or two I lay still, uneasily wondering at the cause of the weighty depression which seemed to have settled upon me. Then I remembered the alternative which Dicky unwittingly had given me the night before, that of acquiescing in his plan for trying to get back the house he had sold, or by a refusal, leaving the burden of helping me move and find a new home upon Lillian's already over-weighted shoulders.

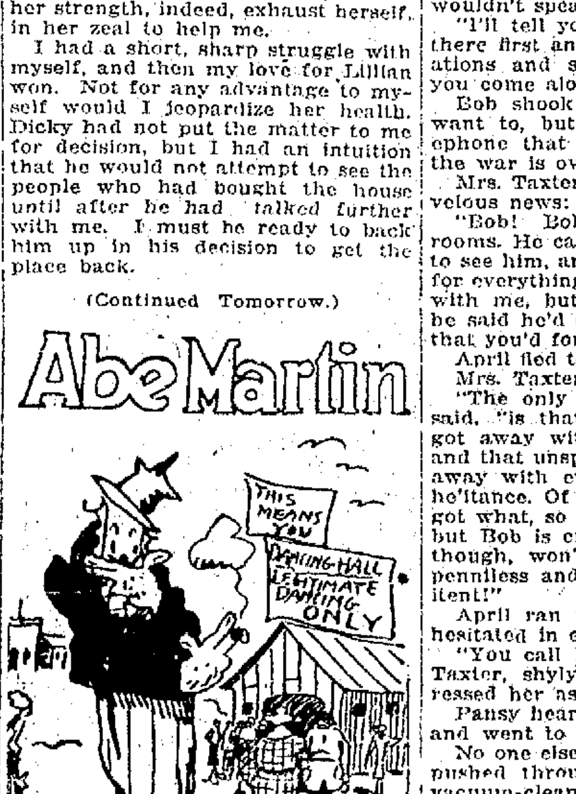

I shrunk from confessing even to myself how much the fact of Edith Fairfax's presence next door in the Durkee home meant to my decision. If it were not for her I would have snatched eagerly at the chance of regaining the home I loved so well, and whose sale by Dicky I had resented so deeply. But if she were to be my neighbor I could not bear to remain in the house, and knew that I would welcome any shelter which would take me far from her.

Yet Lillian's health meant everything to me. I knew her well enough to realize that she would spend all her strength, indeed, exhaust herself, in her zeal to help me.

I had a short, sharp struggle with myself, and then my love for Lillian won. Not for any advantage to myself would I jeopardize her health. Dicky had not put the matter to me for decision, but I had an intuition that he would not attempt to see the people who had bought the house until after he had talked further with me. I must be ready to back him up in his decision to get the place back.

What's the World Coming To?

by Rupert Hughes

INSTALLMENT 11.

His credulity in trusting Kate and Joe Yarmy, a pair of crooks, cost Bob Taxter his fiancee, his $10,000 legacy, and the Taxter necklace. Not knowing that his faithful man, Zeb, has cached the money and jewels in the vacuum cleaner, Bob goes for trouble, beginning with intoxication. In the restaurant of a big hotel, where Bob accidentally arrives, April Summerlin, his former fiancee, tries to save him from embarrassment, but he humiliates her and is ejected. A friendly policeman, off duty, sees him and puts him to bed. The Yarmys steal $1000 from an absconder and attempt to hold up a pawnshop keeper. Unsuccessful, they determine to secure the Taxter necklace.

The night elevator-boy (who had helped the policeman in with the piece of dead luggage that contained the residue or germ of Bob, had used a pass-key and had neglected to report the affair when he went off duty in the morning. Consequently, when Bob's distracted mother called up his hotel the next morning, the deskman told the telephone-girl:

"He's out."

And she told the mother.

Mrs. Taxter called again, in vain—at intervals throughout the morning.

The chambermaid had not reported to the office the fact that one of the guests was sleeping late.

Eventually Bob came back to his vacant dwelling, slowly, tormentedly.

When he came at last into a state of renaissance where he could think, he resolved that he would never show his Cain-branded face in that restaurant again.

As for April, of course he would never dare appear before her again.

Like a very modern Prodigal, at last he lifted himself from his husks and said, "I will arise and telephone my mother.

She begged him to come to her at once from wherever he was. Bob confessed:

"I can't. I'm busted higher than a kite. I haven't got a cent, mamma!"

She giggled. "I'll come right down and take you out of pawn, my blessed angel!"

"Well, hurry up," he shouted, "for I'm hungry."

"I'm on my way this minute, honey. But—oh, one thing. You're not married, are you?"

"No! And I ain't never goin' to be!"

"Oh, glory hallelujah! Good-by!"

How beautiful are the feet of them that bring glad tidings—and tidings-over!

It occurred to Bob that he had just no clothes at all.

His evening clothes were as Officer Twomey had left them. Folding them up would have done them no good. Bob called for the porter and told him his plight:

"You sent my trunk to the station yesterday?"

"Yah, your coon said the Gran' Central."

"My coon! The black thief stole my money and carried off the claim check and—what can I do?"

"I might get it back for you. I got a record of the number, and I guess maybe—it might take a little money, but——"

Bob answered promptly: "Oh, I'll make it all right with you—as soon as I get it. You get the trunk, no matter what it costs."

The porter nodded and went his way.

His mother dawned at last and brought with her not only funds, but an inexhaustible treasure of sympathy, understanding, and, what he needed most of all, admiration.

And by the time his trunk had really come and he had paid the porter liberally out of his mother's money and he had unpacked a complete outfit of clean and normal clothes and got into them, he had put on a new, fresh mind also.

When his mother felt reckless enough to say, "And now you've got to go right ova to April and make up with her," Bob went straight up into the air.

"Not in a thousand years, mother," he said. "In the first place, she wouldn't speak to me if I did."

"I'll tell you what, honey! I'll go there first and make all the explanations and smooth the way. Then you come along a little lata, and—"

Bob shook his head: "Go if you want to, but I'll wait till you telephone that the coast is clear and the war is over."

Mrs. Taxter hurried with the marvelous news:

"Bob! Bob's found! He's in his rooms. He called me up, and I went to see him, and he—he's te'bly sah-y for everything. I begged him to come with me, but he wouldn't—at least he said he'd come only on condition that you'd forgive him."

April fled to Mrs. Taxter's arms.

Mrs. Taxter embraced her.

"The only trouble," Mrs. Taxter said, "is that those awful Yahmys got away with the Taxta necklace, and that unspeakable nigro, Zeb, got away with every cent of Bob's inhe'itance. Of co'se, I don't care who got what, so long as ma boy is free, but Bob is crushed. You'll see him, though, won't you? Even if he is penniless and penitent—oh, so penitent!"

April ran to the telephone, but hesitated in embarrassment.

"You call him," she said to Mrs. Taxter, shyly, and Mrs. Taxter caressed her as she passed.

Pansy heard the kitchen bell ring and went to answer it.

No one else heard her gasp as Zeb pushed through the door with his vacuum-cleaner container in his left arm.

A little of the rapture in her heart escaped in her first cry, "Zeb!" but she throttled the humiliating confession of affection and became the shrew she affected to be.

"Well, what you want roun' yere, you shif'less scoun'rel? Couldn't you find nobody else's money to steal 'cept hisn? Where-all you been at, anyhow?"

"Oh, I been ridin' round in a old horse and hack I found, and I been hidin' out up in a Hundad and Thutty-thud street.

"I'm come for to see Miss April."

By this time, having secured Bob's promise to come at once, Mrs. Taxter was saying:

"Bob would be all right if he could only find that villain of a darky. Bob had discharged him before he stole the money. I suppose he thought he would make off with it since he couldn't expect any more wages."

April was in trouble again. "Bob discharged Zeb? Why?"

Because he prevented him from getting dressed; stuffed all his clothes in a trunk and sent them away so Bob couldn't get married."

"Bob discharged Zeb for making him miss the wedding!" April moaned. "That means that Bob wanted to marry that woman!"

"No, no, honey; not at all," Mrs. Taxter protested.

"What else could it mean?" April demanded.

As Mrs. Taxter wrung her wits for an explanation, Pansy appeared in the doorway.

"Miss April, they're a ole nigga ote yere what says he wants to see you. It's Zeb."

Mrs. Taxter did the talking:

"I'll see him, if only for the pleasure of telling him ought to be whipped. And you run out and get the police, Pansy."

"Yassum," said Pansy, but she did not run.

Zeb lumbered in, always toting his vacuum cleaner container. He was very ingratiating in manner, but evidently terrified:

"Howdy, Miz Summalin; howdy, Miss April; howdy, howdy—Oh, and Miss Lee! Miss Lee, I been lookin' for you. You better take holt of dat limb o' Satan and straighten him out. Does you know dat young gemman ordered me out of his rooms?"

"Didn't he tell you he had discharged you?"

"Yassum. Thass what I wanter tell you to tell him not to.

"I belonged to his gran'pappy's place befo' he was bawn, or his pappy, either. As fur as dat goes, I used to dandle his daddy on ma knee befo' you was bawn. Miss Lee. Old Masta Bob ustor say to young Masta Bob's daddy, 'You do what Zeb tell you or I'll larrup you maself.'"

Zeb glugged with laughter, like a bottle upside down.

"You could always whip a nigga, but you couldn't fire a nigga. 'Case why; they wasn't no place to fire him to. I wisht you'd explain that to yo' boy, and tell him he's got to take me back."

"Did anyone ever hear of such insolence?" Mrs. Taxter cried.

"Yassum. Masta Bob suttainly was purty insolence. And one mo' thing. You tell him he ought to call me Uncle Zeb. I got a right to my title now, same's anybody."

"Look at him! He's laughing!" Mrs. Taxter fumed. Mary, order him out. No, wait for the police!"

"Police!" Zeb gasped. "What de police gotta do wit' family matta?"

"Family! Perhaps that five thousand dolla's you stole was a family matter?"

"Me? I nevva stole a one cent from him. I took ten thousand dolla's."

"Did you take both five thousands?" April cried.

"Yes, Missy. But us Taxtas don't steal from Taxtas. No'm, I got it all right yere, and I'm mighty good and tired of it."

"So you're the ghost that took the first five thousand?"

Zeb laughed. "Yassum, I'm a ghos'. And I ain't no happier in what ghostses usurally is. I been mighty much troubled about that young masta I done took on."

Mrs. Taxter said: "He'll never forgive you for humiliating him so. You'd better give me his money and get away before he comes here and finds you."

Zeb was dazed. "You mean he wouldn't want me aroun' no mo'?"

"Of course not. You disobeyed every order he gave you. You stole money from him twice."

"I had ma reasons, Miss Lee; and good ones they was."

"But your reasons aren's his. But Mista Bob would never trust you again."

This appalling determination to misunderstand his devotion shattered Zeb's faith, even in the Taxters. He set down the container, and muttered:

"Well, I'll git out the money, then I'll git out maseff. I reckon I'm a gone coon."

And then Pansy exploded.

"Hol' on heah, Zeb. I reckon hit's ma time to bus' loose. Miss Lee, you come mighty near not bein' a Taxta, and young Masta Bob—he wouldn't 'a' been nothin' at all ef it hadn't been for Zeb. When the gemman you ma'ied, Miss Lee, was a li'l' six-yeah-old boy, one day they was a mad bloodhoun' come tearin' down the road and evvabody went runnin' and yellin', 'Mad dog! mad dog!'

"But when de road was clear, dere's young Masta Bob's pappy prayin' in de road and payin' no attention.

"That ole mad dog come snappin' and slaverin' right fur him, and evvabody freeze up and stand gapin', witin'.

"But one young buck nigga he run like he's a wolfhoun', and he jump for that mad dog, and him and it roll in de dus' togetha. You can't tell who's bitin' who. On'y when the fight is ova that mad dog's a daid dog. The boy you ma'ied afterwards wasn't even scratched, but the nigga had his arm 'mos' tore off him. Does you know how they cured that nigga? They brand him with a red-hot iron. And thah's the brand!"

She seized Zeb by the sleeve, shoved the cuff high, and bared a long, livid scar, puckering the black skin.

Zeb had almost forgotten the ancient deed. He pulled his cuff down, grumbling: "Ah that's all ova and done, Pansy. Nevva mine abote that."

Pansy would not be cheated of her ecstasy of rage:

"Miss Lee, you listen to me. When Zeb save yo' li'l husban' from the bloodhoun' they brand him wit a hot iron, but they take keer of him. Now, though when he save yo' son from bein' ca'led off by them mad dogs from Texas, you goin' brand him again and turn him off? You is, is you? Well, all I got to say is white folks ain't what they useter was. Come on, Zeb, I got a hundad and fo' dolla's and fo'ty-fo' cents, and when they turn you off they turn me off. Come on."

The three white women stood aghast. Their hearts were full of amazement, shame, gratitude and love for the two old blacks.

Zeb turned to Pansy with adoration.

"We've been engaged goin' on fifty years. Come on, honey, let's go to the pahson. I'll resume my vacuum cleanin', and I can find a lot of washin' for you to take in."

And Pansy said:

"You can come with me and git ma old trunk down them stairs."

Zeb fairly hopped up the stairway, forgetting his master's money in the joy of being a bridegroom at last.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!"

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE ACORNS.

Once upon a time, when Uncle Wiggily had just finished his breakfast and was shaving his pink, twinkling nose—Oh, listen to me, would you! I mean when the bunny gentleman was shaving his whiskers, there sounded a joyous shout in front of the hollow stump bungalow.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily! Hello! Come on out!" cried two jolly voices.

"Goodness me!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I hope that isn't the Fuzzy Fox calling you! He is so impudent it would be just like him!"

"No, it is Curly and Floppy Twistytail, the piggie boys," answered the bunny gentleman, looking from the window. "I'll be with you in a moment, my little piggie chaps!" Uncle Wiggily added.

"Oh, he'll never grow up!" laughed Nurse Jane, as she washed the face of the clock and gave the dinner dishes their breakfast.

"What is going on now, piggie boys?" asked Uncle Wiggily as he hopped out to join the Twistytail chaps. "Aren't you a bit early going to say your lessons to the lady mouse teacher in the hollow stump school?"

"Oh, we aren't going to school—at least not right away," squealed Curly.

"We know where there's a whole pack of brown chestnuts!" added Floppy, "and we came to show you, so you can tell Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrels. For there's more chestnuts than we want."

"Chestnuts? This time of year?" exclaimed the bunny, holding his pink nose on one side. "I thought the squirrels and chipmunks had hidden away all the chestnuts long ago. However, it is possible that in some bosky dell there may be a few they overlooked. I'll go with you and see where they are."

"Oh, such lovely chestnuts!" cried Floppy.

"And so many!" grunted his brother.

Over the fields and through the woods went Uncle Wiggily with the piggie boys, and soon the two Twistytail chaps ran ahead down into a little glade where grew tall trees.

"Look at the chestnuts!" cried Floppy.

"There's a million of 'em!" shouted Curly.

Uncle Wiggily looked at the brown shiny nuts on the ground. Then the bunny gentleman sadly shook his head.

"These aren't chestnuts, Curly and Floppy," he said. "I'm surprised you piggie chaps didn't know they were acorns. It is true they are the color of chestnuts, but they are of quite a different shape, as you may see. Also acorns come off an oak tree and chestnuts come off a chestnut tree. And acorns aren't good for squirrels and chipmunks to eat, they're too bitter. Though, if they can't get anything else I suppose Johnnie and Billie Bushytail would eat acorns. But these oak tree seeds—for that is what they are—will never take the place of chestnuts."

"Aren't they any good?" sadly asked Floppy.

"We thought we had found such a nice lot of chestnuts!" sighed Curly. "We saw them yesterday and we left them until today to show you. Aren't acorns any good at all, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Oh, yes, they're useful for lots of things," said the bunny gentleman with a smile. "From little acorns great oaks grows, as you have learned in school. Also, some pig families love to eat acorns. I wouldn't be a bit surprised but what your father and mother would be very glad to get these acorns for the winter."

"Oh, they are good to eat!" cried Curly, cracking them in his strong teeth.

"Yes, and they're good for something else, too!" suddenly shouted Floppy.

"To play marbles with, perhaps," said the bunny gentleman.

"No! But to throw at the Fuzzy Fox. Here he comes, sneaking up, thinking he's going to get us!" yelled Floppy. "Come on, we'll throw the hard acorns at the Fox! Here he is!"

And surely enough, the Fuzzy Fox was sneaking along. But Uncle Wiggily, Curly and Floppy caught up pawfuls of acorns and threw them at the bad chap, hitting him on the nose, so that he howled once, twice, three times, and then away he ran.

"I don't like acorns!" he whined.

"But we do!" laughed Curly and Floppy. Then they went on to school, and Mr. Longears told Daddy Twistytail about the big pile of acorns, so the pig gentleman could take them home for his family to eat during the long, cold winter.

So, after all, you see it was a good thing Curly and Floppy mistook acorns for chestnuts. And if the tooth brush doesn't bite the cake of soap just for fun you know, when it's sliding down the side of the bath tub, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the weasel.

Diamonds for Christmas
Some Suggestions

Gifts that are most appreciated at Christmas are gifts of diamond jewelry. They are beautiful, they are truly "Gifts That Last" and they are universal in their appeal.

The giving of diamond jewelry need not be confined to suitor, who gives an engagement solitaire or the girl who reciprocates with a diamond scarf-pin or emblem.

Wives appreciate new diamond jewelry—a long-deferred engagement ring, diamond settings for a wedding ring, a brooch, a bar-pin. Husbands appreciate new cuff-links and so on. Children treasure the smallest diamond gifts—a baby ring, a small pendant or a scarf-pin. Parents are delighted with presents of diamond jewelry from their children.

Truly, diamonds are universal in their appeal. We have diamonds to suit every need and taste. And we allow "A Charge Account If You Wish."

VAN ORDEN-WARD WEDDING TAKES PLACE.

In Alameda one of the most important weddings of the week-end, though a home ceremony, was that of Miss Katherine Van Orden, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leander Van Orden, and Lawrence Arthur Ward of Chalfant, Mono county. The service was read Saturday afternoon at the Van Orden home at Paru street and Encinal avenue and witnessed by only the immediate members of the two families. Dr. Lawrence S. Ward, father of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony. The wedding is the outcome of a romance begun overseas when the two were serving overseas during the war.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Philip Talbot Harris, sister of the bride. Charles A. Brown of Chalfant was best man. Miss Gertrude Ward, a sister of the bridegroom, came from the southland for the wedding. Miss Elizabeth Westgate, an old friend of the bride's family, played the bridal march, while other members of the family who were guests were Mrs. John Leghorne of Spokane and Dr. and Mrs. Lincoln Van Orden.

The bridal gown was of the conventional white with tulle veil and orange blossoms, the material of georgette embroidered in pearls, a bandeau of the pearls holding the veil in place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward are on a motor trip, but will return to Alameda for Thanksgiving. They will then go south to visit relatives of Ward, and their future home will be upon a ranch in Chalfant.

Mrs. Ward is a graduate of the University of California, as is the bridegroom.

Ward was decorated for bravery while in the war with the A. E. F. Mrs. Ward was with base hospital No. 39 and was with the army of evacuation.

President of Mothers' Clubs To Pay Visit

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Announcement that Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Worcester, Mass., president of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers' Association, will be on the Pacific Coast in the early spring is inspiring those who owe her allegiance to renewed efforts in building up the membership in promoting the projects which have made California famous in the history of the nation-wide organization. Mrs. Higgins will take advantage of her presence in Seattle upon a national council to pay an official visit to the California Congress of Mothers and to as many of the districts as may be included in her hurried itinerary. Already plans are being made for the receptions which will honor her and lend opportunity to as many of the 50,000 mothers of the state grouped under the banner of the Congress to meet their leader.

California has led the states in numbers and child welfare for many years and been regarded by the National Congress of Mothers as a high standard which might be a model for other auxiliary groups. It gives to the national board its treasurer in the person of Mrs. H. N. Rowell of Berkeley. Mrs. David O. Mears of Cambridge, Mass., first vice-president of the National Congress, is the guest of her son, who is a member of Stanford University faculty, has learned intimately of the program in the interests of child welfare which the local mothers' clubs were succeeding in putting over. Her enthusiasm may be responsible for repeated visits from national leaders in their effort to discover what California's secret in successful achievement is. Mrs. Higgins will probably be in the bay cities in March or April.

Glenview Club has launched a new era. It has outgrown its neighborhood and has written into its constitution the permission which will allow women interested in its efforts to affiliate themselves with the Park Boulevard group.

The amendment to the constitution opens the way to the choral section to greatly extend the department, and to include in the roster some of the well-known vocalists of the city who have been anxious for the opportunity presented. The Glenview choral under the direction of Mrs. William Rost, has won something more than a local reputation. Mrs. H. J. Platts, president, is favoring an extension of this phase of activity.

The Christmas jinks, which will take place near the holidays, has been given over to the choral section, Mrs. Rost to direct the program and festival.

Tomorrow, when the clubwomen assemble to play cards as the guests of the philanthropic section, each pleasure-seeker will contribute a small cotton garment to the babies' chest, which is designed to answer the needs of the little newcomers into the world whose arrival is not heralded with a layette because of the conditions of the family fortunes. Mrs. Herman Johnson is curator of this coterie of philanthropists whose efforts have not stopped with care for infants, but have extended to the outfitting of a young woman that she might enter upon a career daintily and comfortably clad.

Miss Eloise B. Cushing, one of Oakland's few women attorneys, will be the principal speaker before the Business and Professional Woman's Club tomorrow. A series of travelogues was inaugurated several weeks ago, club members who had enjoyed trips to places of unusual beauty or interest being called upon to share the experiences with their fellows. Miss Cushing tomorrow will lead the business and professional women on a trip through the Grand Canyon.

The Thursday lunch will be held in the new clubrooms in Broadway.

Shall Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women Voters, continue its auxiliary membership list? is an issue which will be acted upon by the organization this month. There is a decided opinion among the leaders that auxiliaries are a detriment and that a far greater strength is to be obtained through direct than the indirect method in extending privileges of the civic group. Pending the outcome of the amendment to the constitution, which has been offered, auxiliary members retain their standards. In the event that this class of enrollment is eliminated, initiation fee will be waived when direct affiliation is completed.

Fur Coat Is Stolen From Mills Student

Miss Helen Godfrey, freshman student in Mills College, is mourning the loss of a $600 fur coat which was removed from her room some time between Wednesday and Saturday night of last week. M. L. Godfrey, a Pasadena capitalist and father of Miss Godfrey, has placed a private detective on the case.

Search is being made for a fashionably-gowned woman who called at the college last week, inquiring for the Pasadena girl. The college register shows the time students leave the campus and their expected return. Miss Godfrey was absent. Students report that a woman answering the description of the one who called in the office was seen in the vicinity of Warren Olney hall, where Miss Godfrey rooms.

Campfire Girls Win Mrs. Harding's Praise

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. — Open life and healthful games for girls are favored by Mrs. Warren G. Harding. In a letter to Mrs. Oliver Harriman, national president of the Camp Fire Girls, the wife of the President writes:

"I have never been able to imagine any reason why the Camp Fire Girls should not be just as useful an organization for the girls as the Boy Scouts. Moreover, it seems to me that girls need this kind of inducement to open air life and healthful games and occupations, quite as much as the boys. The part that women play in the world has been greatly changed even in my own generation, it has been broadened and enlarged and we will be wise if we recognize that a larger consideration for the health and physical advancement of the girls will better fit them for the role they must assume."

The Efficient Woman

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of fifty years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force, and energy, in the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

Thousands of women have succeeded through daily baths, exercise in the fresh air, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of female weakness.—Advertisement.

CONWAY SUPER SIMPLEX PLAYER-PIANO

The Standard $750 value of the world

$10 secures one 2½ years to pay

How This Great Saving Was Made Possible

This extraordinary reduction was brought about as the result of the cooperation of the leading piano dealers all over the United States with the Hallett & Davis Piano Co. of Boston, for a nation-wide drive in which we are participating. Between the lessened cost of material, lower labor cost, and the reduction of profit on the part of the makers and ourselves to the very minimum, $165 was clipped from the former price. Our allotment for this district is limited—and no more of them can be had this year at this greatly reduced price. Come tomorrow if at all possible and see and try this beautiful player-piano. If you cannot come in immediately, fill out the coupon for the CONWAY BOOK and photos and mail it to us.

The price includes

1—A beautiful bench to match without extra charge.
2—One tuning and delivery anywhere—no extra charge.
3—Terms of payment are extended over a period of 2½ years.
4—Free exchange privilege and 30-day refund guarantee.
5—Special small down payment of $10 will secure one for you, balance first payment payable on delivery.
6—5-year written guarantee.
7—Generous supply of music rolls may be added to the contract price without any increase in the first cash or monthly payments.

NO ONE AGAINST.

tterances of the chief figures which will be en in motion at the disarmament conference n to open form a happy background for extations.

arshal Foch said yesterday in Chicago: ace—we shall have it soon on the same conions that we got war. We must fight for it in moral sphere as we did in the physical sphere. ce has been promised from the first night of ristianity only to men of good will. Good must be in the bottom of the heart; without t is only a sham peace."

dmiral Lord Beatty, speaking to the Ameri- Legion at Kansas City last week, said: "A d of unity was created between the great ers who withstood the onslaught of the my—a bond which eventually overthrew him, ging the war to a successful conclusion. t bond has been sanctified by the blood of usands, staining the fair land of France, Italy, ium and other battlefields, and the seas hold their depths many gallant souls who gave r lives that the world shall be a better and ner place."

remier Briand of France, upon his arrival in United States Monday, said: "I am coming ssure the people of the United States that the mory of those high-souled youths who fell for t and liberty with a smile, is deeply graven the heart of every Frenchman. I earnestly st that the Washington meeting will give us opportunity in this respect. France and erica, yesterday united on the battlefields, thus continue to play their beneficent part deriving from their common victory such reas will conform with the idealism that has animated them."

rince Tokugawa and Admiral Baron Kato come from Japan, each with utterances proidly ringing with sincerity, signifying a desire amicable relations and expressing unqualified iration for the ideal of greater security inst war.

ir Robert Borden, who heads the Canadian gates to the Washington conference, speakbefore the Lawyers' Club in New York, said: pon the two great commonwealths of the Engspeaking world, the American Republic and British Empire, there rests today as solemn obligation as was ever imposed upon any ion."

The British Parliament last week unanimously opted a resolution approving the disarmament iference and its purposes.

other testimonials, official and informal, of a animity of hearty endorsement of the confere and true loyalty to its purposes have been thcoming. There has been no evidence of any ire or plan to go against the main purpose of conferences.

As stated above, this makes for a happy and iable background. It is an omen of achievent. If the conference fails, who will be dis-ered to have spoken falsely and repudiated aspirations of the conference?

CHINA FAILS TO PAY.

China's central government at Peking has deited in its scheduled payments on a loan of ,500,000 made to it by the Continental and mmercial National Bank of Chicago. The failto meet its obligation came at a time when Chinese government was seeking a new loan $16,000,000 from American banking interests aid it in the reorganization of certain of its ancial undertakings. It has had the effect of using these negotiations to be abandoned.

This is a very serious matter for China, more ious than the heads of the government and eking seem to realize. Secretary of State ughes has sent a warning to China of the effect failure at this time to meet payments on its reign debts. There is good ground to hope—d the loaning bankers seem to have confidence this respect—that the loans will ultimately be id; that the failure to meet current obligations only a temporary delay.

But however this may be, the financial embarssment of China comes at a most unfortunare me. It threatens to confirm the opinion preva-lent in many quarters that the competency of the Chinese government in financial matters is something never to be depended upon. When a republic of great resources cannot find the means to meet installments on so small a debt as $5,500,000, the question may reasonably be raised as to the good sense of trusting China at all in such matters.

China has been through a period of great prosperity, during which her regular financial obligations were in a large measure suspended. She profited by the war business. Her trade in food and raw material was large. She was not compelled to make any considerable expenditure on account of war, her contribution being in the main in labor sent to perform the auxiliary tasks on the French battle front. At the same time payments on the Boxer indemnity account were suspended and loans of a large amount due to Germany and Austria were canceled or ignored.

Despite these circumstances, China is today at so low an ebb financially that it cannot discharge its smallest obligations to foreign creditors. The situation is one which may seriously detract from the strong position which China hopes to maintain at the coming conference on armament limitation.

DEFLATION IN GOVERNMENT.

President Harding is able to announce a still further reduction in national expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, than he promised last August. The total cost of government for this fiscal year is now placed at $3,940,000,000, a reduction of $94,000,000 from the August estimate.

The new estimate was presented by the President in connection with deficiency estimates of appropriations of $187,922,576.74, which, Mr. Harding said, were taken into consideration in arriving at the new estimates for 1922 expenditures. The President in his letter fixed the expected aggregate reduction in expenditures for the current year at $669,000,000.

The original revised estimate of expenditures amounting to $4,550,000,000, the letter pointed out, was submitted by Secretary Mellon to the House Ways and Means Committee last August 4, when, the letter added, "the results of the imposition of executive pressure upon the spending departments, inaugurated at the meeting called by the President of the body of the business organization of the government, had not been fully developed." That estimate in itself, the letter said, meant "a substantial reduction in current revenues and expenditures below the fiscal year 1921."

An additional revised estimate was announced on August 10. This was that "it had been determined to reduce the ordinary expenditures . . . by at least $350,000,000 below the revised estimates presented by the Treasury on August 4." This, taken with arrangements made as to public debt expenditure, reduced expenditures by $520,000,000, or to a total of $4,034,000,000. "In fixing the . . . figure of $4,034,000,000 as the estimated total expenditure for the fiscal year 1922," the letter continued, "the expenditures under the supplemental and deficiency appropriations of $187,922,576.74 asked for herein, were, in the main, taken into consideration."

These figures are a most gratifying sign of progress toward normalcy in government expenses. They are evidence of the process of deflation in government as well as in business. A saving of over $600,000,000 from the estimates of the expenditures for the current year may not strike one as highly significant when compared with the billions which the government was spending two and three years ago. But measured by the normal expenses of government before the war period set in they are indeed large and important.

Ten years ago the total cost of government was around $600,000,000. So the saving effected this year is about the same amount as the total cost of government ten years ago. And it figures out about 12½ per cent of the total estimated cost when Congress adjourned last March. The cost of government is now below $4,000,000,000 and further reductions are certain to be made for the next fiscal year.

Former Emperor Karl of Austria-Hungary and Empress Zita are on their way to the island of Madeira, which, it is reported, is to be their future exile. If at this point it will be easier to guard against the return of the weeping Hapsburg to the continent. Madeira is all right. But there seems to be too much of civilization on the island. Ships touch their frequently. Karl should be on an island of no other human habitation in order to be sure he will not intrigue and stir up trouble.

Germany is figuring on defaulting again in payment of a reparation installment to the Allied powers. Is Berlin following bad advice again? Does it desire that the Allied army on the Rhine be maintained permanently, without any reduction and with Germany paying the cost of it?

A 6000-foot peak in the Tatoosh mountain range in Washington has been named in honor of the late Franklin K. Lane of California, Secretary of the Interior in the Wilson administration. It is a fitting tribute to the fine public service of Mr. Lane, but the peak named for him should be in the highest in the Rockies.

NOTES and COMMENT

One of the attractions that Oroville is planning in connection with its olive and orange exposition, set for November 22-26, is a marriage orgy. This will occur Thanksgiving evening, and couples who are able and willing to participate will receive a liberal cash present and without doubt no end of miscellaneous felicitations. It promises a novel stunt for one that is wholesome that way.

Robberies that in other times would amount to sensations are now so frequent that they command small space in the news columns. Here is an account of a holdup of a moving picture theater in Portland, in which the robbers got away with $10,000, occupying nine lines. Occurrences of this kind are so common that news purveyors cannot afford to waste space on them.

While the maternity bill, which has passed the Senate and received a favorable report in the House, is not far-reaching, it may be said to be in a good direction. Under it for five years a million a year will be appropriated, to be expended by states and the Federal government for the protection and benefit of infants and mothers. It aims to protect life at very vital points.

The high cost of things does not except elections. The price of voting has gone up just the same as that of spuds and other concomitants of civilization. San Francisco's election yesterday cost approximately $60,000. And it was not an election of first municipal importance, either. A mayor was not elected, nor any of the superior judges.

Showing how they look out for every feature of prohibition enforcement proceedings is the announcement that the color and texture of paper on which liquor prescriptions are made out is to be changed to head off fraud. Liquor permits thus take on characteristics of currency, which is printed on specially made stock.

The revised Federal tax bill that has been passed by the Senate, it is estimated by treasury experts, will yield two hundred millions less in revenue than the bill now in force, from which it may be inferred that the tax on the glass of soda water is to be removed. There are several such "burdens" that will become very popular by their absence.

The Richmond Record Herald discusses a divergence: "Newspapers and whisky are directly opposite to each other in the world's estimation. No business has as many public friends and as many private enemies as a newspaper, and nothing on earth has as many public enemies and as many private friends as liquor."

Shipping milk in tank cars, similar to the method of shipping oil, is an innovation. It has not yet been confirmed, as there are sanitary particulars to be worked out. But it embodies the wholesale idea that works out in everything else. If it ameliorates a situation where the striking milk-wagon drivers lurke, for one thing it will be welcomed.

The steering of a ship by gyroscopic apparatus causes wonder as to what has become of the one-rail proposition in which cars were to be kept upright by gyroscopes. It is remembered that this was all described so convincingly when the idea came out that there seemed nothing to it. The gyroscope may be a wonder, but it is rather slow in getting there.

The legislature ought to pass a law, the next time they get a chance, prohibiting whiskers below the third vest button, and thereby prevent entanglement with the watch chain. —Medford Mail Tribune.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS.

Before the convention of California municipalities at Santa Monica recently Mayor Bartlett of Berkeley furnished the delegates with a stream of information in a speech on public ownership of utilities which has just appeared in the league's official organ, Pacific Municipalities. It is to be regretted that the mayor departed from his subject to "soak" the newspapers, which in most California cities are in full sympathy with honest administrations and co-operate with them for the public good.—Watsonville Register.

Possibly the breweries will now arrange to have doctors in attendance at all hours. The brewery physician can furnish the necessary prescriptions for those who are likely to perish for want of a case of hops if all the doctors in America do not get to be millionaires it will not be the fault of the eighteenth amendment.—Los Angeles Times.

Less than 2 per cent of bootleg whisky is fit for consumption, says a government chemist. "I would quite as readily enter a drug store or a doctor's office," he declares, "and, blindfolded, drink the contents of bottles on shelves as to sample the average specimens of bootleg liquor that come to me officially for analysis." If this isn't enough to scare you, then go ahead and drink it.—Byron Times.

The case of the VallejoDisposal Company versus L. Arata will come up for trial in the Superior Court before Superior Judge R. H. Latimer of Contra Costa county. The litigation is the outgrowth of the disposal company being given the exclusive privilege of collecting garbage in this community.—Vallejo News.

When President Harding presses the button that will start the valley citrus fair in Visalia he will also let the world know that there is more than one citrus belt in California.—Stanford Sequoia.

A HALLOWE'EN AFTERMATH.

JUST FOLKS; By EDGAR A. GUEST

NO OTHER WAY.

I don't like work. I'd rather loaf and never do a thing,
And watch the white clouds drifting by and hear the robins sing;
I'd rather live a life of ease than one of toil, I say,
But no one wants to pay me well for loafing round all day.

I don't like digging stubborn soil, and grubbing with the hoe,
I'd rather sit beneath a tree and watch the garden grow;
I'd rather rest most any time than spade up yellow clay,
But corn and beets and things I need aren't ever raised that way.

I don't like spending all my strength for silver and for gold,
I don't like saving money for the days that I'll be old;
I'd rather be a spendthrift now and squander all my pay,
But even the poorhouse gets the man who tries to live that way.

I don't like work. I'd rather loaf and live a life of ease,
If I could have my way on earth, I'd do just what I please;
But I can't sit around and shirk and feed my children, too,
And so for them I gladly face the work I have to do.

'Twould be a wonder world, I vow, if no one had to toil,
If everything that mortals need just sprouted from the soil;
But change this life the way we will, improve it how we may,
For fame and fortune men must work —there is no other way.

CAUSE FOR SATISFACTION.

On their main issue the railway unions were beaten as decisively as they would have been had they gone on to an actual strike. Under the cross-questioning of the labor board, one after another of the unionist leaders was forced to admit that the sole ground for the strike was the wage reduction of last July. That was the only question balloted upon by the employees. All the rest was afterthought.

So that the single point was whether the unions would or would not accept the wage cut, which they had voted to strike rather than accept. In the end they made a square retreat and accepted. And this victory for the law and for the doctrine that all classes of men must bear their share of the losses involved in economic readjustment was won without any of the turmoil and suffering consequent upon even a short strike.

On the whole, therefore, the breakdown of the strike is cause for solid satisfaction.—New York Times.

MR. GOBBLER'S EXPECTANCY.

A gentleman in Mississippi who is carefully nurturing a turkey gobbler into eligibility for the White House table on Thanksgiving Day determined to insure against mishap to the bird. His letter to the New York Life Insurance Company brought the reply that the hazard was too great and that, anyhow, the applicant was much overweight.

The President being the chief beneficiary, the problem was put up to him. In his reply, printed in Gas Logic, Mr. Harding made the sage comment that the turkey's comparatively advanced age ought to make it a good risk, since it was well known that the death rate was high only among the very youthful. As to the question of weight, the President submitted that no reasonable insurance company should lend its prestige to the encouragement of limitation of weight among turkeys.

Impressive as the President's reasoning is, we believe a conservative insurance company not given to wagering, as Lloyd's does, on anything from the chances of storms at sea to the constancy of a wife's love, should proceed cautiously in such a case. It might be possible to devise a term policy, running, say, to November 15, if the applicant underwent a physical examination.—New York Sun.

KHORASAN

"It is not surprising that Khorasan, the wild east of Persia, should be affected by banditry because, remote as it is from the Western Front, the World War profoundly disturbed its peculiar government and social system," says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society concerning despatches telling of the surrender of Khorasan insurrectionists and the death of their outlaw leader.

"Khorasan is world famous among connoisseurs of rugs, carpets and silks; beyond that fact to many it is but a name. Yet this least known of Persia's five great provinces suffered from the alliance of Great Britain and Russia; it sustained a severe shock when Russia fell under Soviet sway, and it experienced some of the most crass forms of German intrigue.

"Through a long distance political lense the statesmanship of the governors of Kain, Khorasan sub-province and rug-making center, commands high admiration. Their succession was hereditary, but their line held sway neither by right of blood nor ancient tribal choice. They ruled by force of leadership. First of all they had to please a populace many of whom were not more than a generation or two removed from nomadism. They had not only to be ward politicians but international diplomats. Their problem was to play Russia, which reached out to their northern borders through Turkestan, against Great Britain, whose influence touched their eastern boundary through Afghanistan. And even before 1914 the insidious activities of Germany had to be taken into account. In addition, an eye had to be kept on Teheran.

"For a time, but for a time only, during the World War, Amir Shoukat ul Mulk was deposed, and his successor rode into Birjand, kissing the Koran, suspended across the roadway at the gates of the city, and thousands of his followers did likewise. The occidental observer might be particularly impressed with the hygiene of that ceremony, and he usually is distraught when he finds that etiquette demands he accept from a host a cigarette which that host has lighted in his own mouth. If a number of guests are present the host is likely to insert one for each guest, applying one light to all and getting all started with one prodigious puff. Annoying to the other extreme, however, is the meticulous care of the servant who always must stop to cleanse his hands before answering the summons of his employer.

"Birjand lay on the main trade route of the camel and mule borne commerce between Russia and India. Before Russia broke down economically thousands of tons of wool were sent there from Khorasan, along with shawls and rugs, and much of this ultimately reached Marseilles. The animal transports brought from India yarn and dyes, raw material for carpet making, and also coffee, tea and spices. Both the disturbances in India and the chaos of Russia have hampered Khorasan.

"The name, Khorasan, is apt, meaning 'land of the sun.' Formerly it applied to a larger region. The province of that name, nearly as large as California, now clearly delimited, is furrowed by mountain ridges, the Asiatic end of a system that binds eastern Europe, physically to central Asia. The Elburs range, which rises in northwestern Persia to form the Persian Olympus, Mount Demavend, divides the country into two climatic zones, since on its northern side is the Caspian basin, below sea level, and on its southern a plateau which averages some 4000 feet above the sea.

"The most noteworthy physical feature of Khorasan is the great [illegible]

About YOUR HEALTH

Do You Sometimes Wonder What You Ought to Weigh?

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

Most instruments of precision, valuable as they are when properly employed, because instruments of torture when used without reason and out of reason.

You can make yourself a nervous wreck by taking your temperature a half-dozen times every day. You may do yourself real harm by taking your pulse too often.

Every household should possess its pairs of scales. They have practical value in checking up the weights of your purchases. They have scientific value in determining the physical welfare of the members of the family. In infancy and childhood the test of the feeding and the upbringing of the child lies in his gradual but unmistakable increase in weight.

To the adult the scales are of importance. But if you are going to step on the scales every day and then bemoan your weight, I should wish the scales to be thrown out the window. Weight is too much the subject of conversation. We should live such lives that, whether we are large or small, plump or spare, we are hard and wiry and strong.

Sudden increases or decreases in weight demand investigation. There is some underlying physical disability responsible for such changes.

I read somewhere the other day that in Germany they intend taxing big stomachs. For every inch in excess of a certain girth so much tax will be imposed.

A joke? Perhaps. Nevertheless, it is a good idea. Regardless of its value as a revenue measure, it will be valuable to the nation because it is an attack against surplus flesh.

Excessive fatness and the tendency to accumulate fat are a menace to health and long life.

I wish folks would worry about surplus flesh because it decreases efficiency. It crowds out good muscle. These are the reasons why the verdict of the scales should annoy you; it is not because of the cosmetic defect of fatness that you should worry.

Excessive thinness and the gradual but unmistakable loss of flesh are indications of ill-health of some sort.

How much should you weigh?

It depends on your height and age.

For men the average weights are about as follows:

5 feet tall—At 20 years, 118 lbs.; 25 years, 12 lbs.; 30 years, 127 lbs.

5 feet 3 inches tall—At 20 years, 123 lbs.; 23 years, 127 lbs.; 30 years, 131 lbs.

5 feet 4 inches tall—At 20 years, 120 lbs.; 25 years, 134 lbs.; 30 years, 137 lbs.

5 feet 6 inches tall—At 20 years, 137 lbs.; 25 years, 142 lbs.; 30 years, 147 lbs.

5 feet 8 inches tall—At 20 years 145 lbs.; 25 years, 150 lbs.; 30 years, 153 lbs.

5 feet 10 inches tall—At 20 years, 153 lbs.; 25 years, 156 lbs.; 30 years, 162 lbs.

6 feet tall—At 20 years, 162 lbs.; 25 years, 168 lbs.; 30 years, 173 lbs.

Women, for the same age and height, weigh on the average about five pounds less than men.

GENERAL FOCH.

It is only now, nearly three years after the war, that America has the opportunity to hail her greatest soldier. We say, America's soldier, because in March of 1918 Ferdinand Foch ceased to be a French General and became the Generalissimo of all the forces that were fighting Prussian autocracy.

What Pershing did was done—and wonderfully well done—after Foch's pencil had marked the map; and so it was with Haig and Nivelle and Diaz and all the other generals, big and little, who played their parts in the last act of the war. The little gray schoolmaster who came yesterday to America for the first time was the director of the millions of our young men whose energy and spirit helped to turn the tide of the war.

What a pleasure it must be to General Foch, and what a tribute it is to his greatness and his popularity, that this nation is as glad to see him and as proud of having served under his leadership, as it would have shown him it was if he had come here direct from the field of his last martial triumph. The people of the United States for four years have been greeting and cheering European generals and admirals, prelates and statesmen. Greatness has been such a frequent visitor as almost to cool the national ardor. But there has always remained an unquenchable curiosity about General Foch and a genuine desire to have him here that Americans might see the strategist whose genius put him head and shoulders above the other big men of the Titanic struggle.—New York Herald.

NOT MODESTY! KNOWLEDGE.

A remarkable streak of modesty is revealed by Mr. Bernard Shaw in his refusal to visit America, which implies a belief on his part that international conferences can get on without him.—Washington Star.

Kavir, a saline desert, considered by some to be the bed of a sea long since dried up, and by others to be due to the saline rivulets trickling into it from the enclosing circlets of mountains. The salt deserts and the mountains of Khorasan help keep it isolated; the fertile valleys produce cotton, cereals, fruits and tobacco.

"Birjand, now capital of the subprovince of Kain, is one of the chief carpet and rug-making centers of all Persia. It has only about 15,000 people, but all about Birjand proper are little villages where men till the soil with the aid of oxen, and women weave. The best of the Kain carpets are produced at Darakhsh, about fifty miles northeast of Birjand. A woman of this region who cannot weave becomes an economic liability. This condition, and the use of opium, are held responsible for the considerable number of beggar women to be seen at Bargaz."

C. of C. Informed Disarm Envoys May Visit Oakland

Information from Washington received today by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce indicated there is a possibility of the foreign delegates who are to attend the disarmament conference visiting Oakland on a tour of the Pacific Coast. The message stated that the trip would be made at the conclusion of the conference and the delegates would travel as the guests of the United States.

Senator Hiram Johnson has wired the Chamber of Commerce that he will support the movement in Washington providing for such a trip. Already Senator R. N. Stanfield of Oregon has introduced a joint resolution in Congress authorizing Secretary Hughes of the state department to invite all of the foreign delegates to the conference to make the trip to the Pacific Coast. Senator Johnson wired that he would support this resolution heartily.

The directors also elected to university membership Drs. Stuart Daggett, Henry F. Grady, W. R. Robinson and Dwight E. Watkins of the school of business administration of the University of California.

The Oakland park board's plan for a questionnaire on the extension of the park system was referred to the City Planning committee.

RICE TAKES OVER DESK OF BARZEE

Ousted Board of Education Official's Dual Position Is Filled by N. W. Cook As Secretary Also for Time

Lloyd Barzee, business manager and secretary to the board of education, ousted Monday night by a majority vote of the board, left his office at 10:25 this morning and Don Rice took over the business management.

Efficiency Expert N. W. Cook took office as secretary of the board of education. Both Rice and Cook hold temporary positions.

Barzee, up to a late hour this morning, said he was undecided as to what to do in the matter.

"I would not take the position of acting in defiance of the board of education," he said, "yet I could not walk out without surrendering what I believed to be my rights under my contract. The district attorney has ruled that my position of business manager, secretary of grounds, secretary to the board of education, and deputy superintendent of schools are 'inseparable' under my contract, and I could not surrender any one function without endangering all."

BARZEE JOINS COUNCIL.

At 10:25 this morning, however, Rice was ordered by members of the board of education to walk into Barze's office and this was done. There was no argument. Barzee immediately joined the superintendent's council as a deputy superintendent of schools.

Meantime, in the present confusion of offices, members of the board of education today received two notices to attend a meeting of the committee of the whole late this afternoon. One notice is signed by Cook, who was recently named secretary of the board of education, and the other was signed by Barzee.

An added thrill was given employees of the school department late yesterday when Harry Boyle, president of the board of education, tacked up a typewritten notice on the school office walls, notifying employees that no "shakeup" of minor employees is contemplated.

SHAKEUP IS DENIED.

The notice says in part:

"Rumors have been persistently circulated to the effect that the board of education is making an attempt to do politics at the expense of its employees.

"Such reports are without foundation and are malicious and misleading.

"Be advised that no changes are contemplated which will affect the standing of present employees."

The notice is signed by Boyle as president of the board of education.

DEWOLF BEGINS SURVEY.

While all this has been going on, Secrtary C. C. DeWolf of the civil service board, has begun work on the requested survey of the personnel of the board's employees, as requested by Boyle some time ago. The civil service board asked that Executive Engineer Ralph Beebe do the work but Beebe was occupied on gathering statistics for the coming water rate hearings and DeWolf was finally asked to make the survey.

"I believe I have made considerable progress," says DeWolf. "The survey will, of course, determine the number of employees necessary for the school department's work, and all matters of this sort. The survey will take some time. I cannot say just what the final report will be."

Walter J. Burpee, attorney for Barzee, said late this morning that no court action for Barzee would be expected today, as Barzee's course of action is not entirely decided.

City Hall Clocks To Be Reformed; Must Synchronize

A REFORM wave is scheduled to hit the clocks at the city hall. Commissioner Carter of the public works department today announced that he had given orders that the various clocks in the big public building shall get into step with each other, so that all will tell time alike. In technical language, the clocks are going to synchronize.

"We are going to have a little more uniformity," promises Carter. "Some of those clocks are a little off."

The principal offender at present is a clock on the fifth floor, whose hands stuck at 9:30 and have stayed there since "that time."

EASTBAY URGED TO FIGHT PLAN TO RE-ROUTE TRAINS

Civic organizations and the city councils of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Richmond, Martinez, San Leandro and Hayward and the supervisors of Alameda and Contra Costa counties were asked today to adopt resolutions protesing against any proposed re-routing of trains into San Francisco via the Dumbarton cut-off instead of over the Oakland mole.

Resolutions to this effect were adopted last night by the directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce on the recommendation of the organization's traffic and city interests committees. At a mass meeting held by the chamber last week, which was attended by representatives of the entire Eastbay district, it was agreed that the mainland communities would offer a united front against the proposed diversion of passenger and freight traffic. In asking that every Eastbay district follow the example of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in adopting resolutions of protest the first defensive step has been taken.

It developed today that should, by any possibility, the Southern Pacific be required to divert trains into San Francisco over the Dumbarton cut-off, it probably will be necessary to run a "stub" train from Oakland to Niles to care for passengers and the mails. The postoffice department, having its main San Francisco office at the ferries, is expected to require this stub train to obviate the necessity of trucking mails to the Third and Townsend streets station.

From information received by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce it is predicted that solid opposition from the mainland communities will be encountered should application ever be made to the railroad commission to order the Southern Pacific to re-route its trains away from the Oakland pier.

BRAZIL LAND DEED FORGED, JORDAN SAYS

All hopes of Mrs. Ella Mair Bennett that her jungle empire in Brazil would prove tangible were shattered when her attorney, Henry Reynolds, received a letter from Frank Jordan, secretary of state of California, denying he had witnessed the deed to the land and branding his signature on it as a forgery. Mrs. Bennett received the deed as her share of the community property when she secured a decree of divorce from Hugh Henderson Newell about a year ago.

Newell, who is now a fugitive from justice in Alameda county and other parts of the United Sttaes and Canada, pretended the deed to 1,500,000 acres of unexplored land in Brazil was given to him by General Don Manuel Valdes of the Brazilian army for personal services. Valdes was said to have received this and much more land as a grant from the Brazilian government.

Clubwoman of Berkeley Is Slated for U. S. Post

Mrs. James B. Hume of Berkeley, well known clubwoman, is expected to be nominated by President Harding for the position of register of the United States Land Office in San Francisco in the Senate upon the recommendation, made today, of Senator Hiram Johnson and Senator Samuel Shortridge. The position carries with it a salary of approximately $3000 a year. Mrs. Hume will succeed John B. Sanford, whose term expires on June 24, 1922. She will be associated with Mrs. Hattie Jewell Anderson of Oakland, who received appointment as receiver to succeed Mrs. Grace B. Caukin several weeks ago. Both Mrs. Hume and Mrs. Anderson were closely associated during the presidential campaign which culminated in the election of President Harding.

Mrs. Hume was accorded the honor of being the first woman ever to appear on the platform of a national Republican convention in an official capacity when she was chosen to escort temporary Chairman Lodge to the rostrum last year in Chicago at the opening of the convention which nominated President Harding. She was a supporter of Senator Johnson for the presidential nomination. In September of last year Mrs. Hume was a member of the California party which paid an official visit to Marion, Ohio, the home of the Republican candidate.

MRS. JAMES B. HUME.

SIX I. W. W. ON THEIR WAY TO SAN QUENTIN

Convicted of violation of the California criminal syndicalism law, Harold Welton, Michael J. Dunn, Patrick Casey, John McLaughlin, John Hannan and George Ryan today were taken to San Quentin prison to begin serving their sentence of from one to fourteen years. They were escorted by Deputy Sheriffs Waley, Brown and Blaine.

No demonstration was made by the men as they left the jail. They each spoke a friendly goodby to the other prisoners, waved their hands to the jailers standing in the doorway and drove off smiling.

Each of the defendants flatly refused to apply for probation and demanded to be allowed to begin serving sentence at once. William B. Cleary, their attorney, has filed notice of an appeal from Superior Judge Samuels' denial of a motion for a new trial.

JUDGE TO HOLD TRAFFIC SCHOOL AS PUNISHMENT

Youth Haled Into Court Told to Study Traffic Law and to Take Examination.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 9.—These are to be school days for traffic violators in this city and pupils must be diligent and learn their lessons or suffer the consequences.

Such, at least, is the edict handed down today by Police Judge Thomas R. Dougherty, who sentenced Salvador Dorsa, youthful driver for the Harding meat market, to five days in the city jail and then withheld the commitment until next Monday on condition that Dorsa return at that time and undergo an oral examination concerning traffic rules.

At the same time the judge ordered Dorsa's boss, who pleaded innocent of the State traffic laws in basing a plea for his youthful employee, to study the laws also and report back for examination next Monday.

As he pronounced sentence the judge handed to each of the two men a rule book containing a summary of the traffic rules and regulations of city and state. These he admonished Dorsa and his employer to study carefully.

The young man had been charged with leaving his engine running while his automobile was standing on a downtown street. He refused to plead guilty and contended that his ignorance of the law should excuse him.

Dorsa was first fined five dollars, but his employer pleaded for him on the ground that he was earning but $15 per week and was supporting his mother on that sum.

"I am giving you your chance, Dorsa," the judge stated, "but I am also giving you your punishment. See to it that next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock you find yourself thoroughly versed on all of the traffic laws. I will quizz you here, and your employer as well, and if you cannot give satisfactory answers on questions of traffic laws I am going to confine you to the city jail for a period of five days. In this manner, I believe, justice will be tempered with mercy and you will not soon be apt to forget."

Pacific Gas Man Addresses Workers

J. Charles Jordan, superintendent of publicity, addressed the inter-district meeting of collectors for the Eastbay division of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, last night. John Krug presided as chairman.

Jordan, who has been an employee of the company for sixteen years, serving in various departments, touched upon the necessity for a spirit of good feeling between public utilities corporations and the public. "Most patrons believe and realize that the management and employees desire to be fair in their dealings with the public," he said.

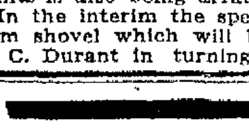

"The consumers' relation with the company may be and generally is by personal contact with the employees. The company will be judged by the employee's acts and deeds, for to the patron, the employee is the company."

Demonstrations were made by several of the collectors, showing the correct and incorrect manner to collect bills.

Iron and Energy

—give them to your husband in a pie that he'll crave because of its luscious flavor

Real Raisin Pie

Men are quickly refreshed at night by a dessert like this

2 cups Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins
2 cups water
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 teaspoon sugar

Wash the raisins put in saucepan with 1 cup cold water and bring slowly to a boil. Add sugar, salt and corn starch, which has been mixed with 1 cup cold water. Boil 3 minutes, add lemon juice. Pour in pie tin which has been lined with crust, while hot cover; brush top with cold milk and bake in moderate oven until brown.

All measurements for this recipe are level.

THE man for whom you choose the food, madam, depends largely on you to keep him fit for the modern business grind.

He needs foods that give him luscious flavor to enjoy, and energy and iron to refresh and vitalize him.

Raisin pie is prime food in both respects.

Raisins are rich in iron. Men need but a small bit of iron daily, yet that need is vital. Raisins furnish 1,560 calories of energizing nutriment per pound—in practically pre-digested form.

So this pie is ideal dessert for the hard-worked, tired man at night.

Make, according to the recipe shown here. You don't know real raisin pie, nor does he, until you've tried this kind. You'll serve it at least once a week at his request. You'll please him and improve him, and you'll enjoy the pie yourself.

Delicious raisin pie and raisin bread are sold by bake shops and groceries everywhere. Buy of them to save baking at home.

Real raisin pie is made with lots of raisins. Insist on it. First-class bakers do not stint.

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins, made from California's finest table grapes — American raisins, processed and packed immaculately in a great modern California plant.

Seeded (seeds removed); Seedless (grown without seeds); Clusters (on the stem). Also a fine, ever-ready dessert.

Raisins are cheaper by 30 per cent than formerly — see that you get plenty in your foods.

TWO MEN HURT IN AUTO CRASH, WOMAN STRUCK

Two Cars Wrecked in Collision, Woman Victim of Second Accident.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 9. — Two men were injured and a man and a woman narrowly escaped injury in two accidents in this city yesterday, according to information given out by the local police this morning.

V. O. McDole of Martinez and S. D. Harp of 314 North Third street, this city, were the two injured. They sustained painful cuts and bruises about the head and body when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a second machine driven by W. R. Wilson of 910 Willow street shortly before 5 o'clock last night.

The accident occurred in North San Pedro street when McDole drove in from a side street. The force of the impact overturned McDole's car, throwing both him and Harp from the machine. They narrowly escaped being crushed beneath the car as it overturned.

Wilson also narrowly escaped injury when his machine skidded after the crash and careened into the gutter, throwing him out with some force, but not injuring him.

An unknown woman had a close call from death or serious injury in the second accident of the day, a peculiar one in which an automobile and street car both figured. The woman was a pedestrian.

Car No. 143 of the San Jose Railroads, going north on First street, collided with an automobile driven by James Amato, near the corner of San Fernando street. The crash threw Amato's machine toward the curbing, with the result that the unknown woman, just stepping from the sidewalk, was struck by the automobile and hurled several feet.

The woman, although bruised and badly shaken, did not sustain any injuries. She was saved, officers stated, because of the fact that Amato had virtually stopped for the corner and thus was traveling at an excessively low speed and had his brakes on.

The woman disappeared in the crowd before her identity could be established. The automobile and street car were both considerably damaged by the crash.

Motor Buses on State Highways Held Detriment

WOODLAND, Nov. 9. — Motor buses and freight trucks are regarded as a detriment to communities where there are adequate electric and steam transportation facilities, according to resolutions passed yesterday here by the board of supervisors and Yolo board of trade. The matter came up when J. J. Harris, Sacramento Northern Electric agent, objected to the granting of a franchise to Charles Anderson to conduct a stage line between Woodland and Davis on the main line of the Southern Pacific out of this city. It wes held that the buses destroyed roads, yet contributed nothing to their upkeep. The resolutions passed by the supervisors are as follows:

Whereas, The people of Yolo county are expending in excess of $1,000,000 in the construction of permanent highways to be employed in connection with the highways built in the county by the state at a cost of nearly $2,000,000, and

Whereas, These roads are suffering almost irreparable injury because of destruction by trucks and auto stages—agencies contributing nothing to the upkeep of the highways or the maintenance of state or county functions, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Yolo county board of trade desires to go on record as being unalterably opposed to the granting of any permit for the conduct of truck or automobile stage lines between points adequately served by any railroad line, either steam or electric, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolutions be forwarded to the state railroad commission.

Merchant Sent To San Quentin As Extortioner

WOODLAND, Nov. 9.—Avery A. Pugh, former merchant of Woodland, and convicted of extortion in blackmailing Martin Barner, young man of Woodland, through the medium of anonymous letters signed "The Doughnuts," was last night denied probation by Superior Judge W. A. Anderson, and tomorrow will leave for San Quentin to servie a term of from one to five years. Pugh was convicted by a jury here on five counts of extortion and sentenced on but one.

Relatives interceded for him and asked probation on the ground that he was a divorced man and had two children of tender years to look after. Probation Officer A. A. Powers and Judge Anderson declared, however, that Pugh's record as a male vampire was too notorious to let him go unpunished.

Pugh took umbrage at Barner paying attentions to a woman of the former's liking. Finally he conceived the idea of threatening the "vengeance of the doughnuts" on Barner if he did not pay a specified sum, $250. Barner was required to stand on a public corner at high noon with a rose in the lapel of his coats to signify his willingness to meet the demands of his blackmailer. This Barner did, but detectives caught Pugh as he passed by the scene to determine if Barner was responding.

What's Happening in the Motor World

by Jim Houlihan

Sacramento will no longer be on the Lincoln highway if a recommendation made by Gael E. Hoag, field secretary of the association, who is now in Oakland, is confirmed by the board of directors of the Lincoln highway organization.

Hoag has suggested to his superiors that the new route into Oakland and San Francisco over the Lincoln highway be via Placerville, Perkins, Florin and McConnell, thence into Stockton. From the island city the route would follow into Oakland via Tracy, Altamont and Livermore.

Hoag's reason in tentatively selecting this course and avoiding Sacramento is that 7.2 miles are saved between Oakland and Placerville, along the present main Lincoln highway motor path and also that in choosing the shorter course the heavy traffic congestion through Sacramento is avoided.

Back of the stated reasons for changing the route is the belief among those who are familiar with the antagonism displayed by Sacramento business interests that the exact cause for eliminating the capital city is due, in the main, to this antagonism toward the Lincoln highway movement. These capital city men have declared through their Chamber of Commerce that they are not interested in the Lincoln highway.

"It is rapidly becoming the practice of road engineers to eliminate large cities and their congested traffic," Hoag stated this morning.

"If we can eliminate Sacramento and bring motorists into Stockton on a good road all the way the change should prove more satisfactory to transcontinental tourists.

"The change in routing of the Lincoln highway will be made as soon as the directors okeh the project.

"The route which we propose will be shorter, easier to follow because there is always trouble in getting in and out of cities and will eliminate conflict with Sacramento traffic laws."

Driver Buried in Damaged Grapes In Auto Crash

MARTINEZ, Nov. 9.—A soft pulpy mass of grapes isn't the most inviting place in the world to land all of a sudden, but there's an Oakland resident today who is thanking his lucky stars that when his automobile took a notion to plunge over an embankment and pin him underneath it that it came at a place where a truckload of damaged grapes had been dumped. The Oaklander, identity unknown, because he refused to disclose his name, was driving along the Franklin Canyon highway Monday night. Approaching the Santa Fe crossing the car was guided too closely to the edge of the highway and jumped an embankment. Three passengers were thrown clear, but the driver was pinned beneath the machine, crushed deeply into a mass of juicy wine grapes. Passersby rescued him. He was uninjured and came out from under the car smiling, although his clothes were ruined and he was dripping wet.

A truck loaded with twelve tons of grapes had jumped the same embankment Sunday night. The destroyed grapes were dumped to salvage the truck.

Watch the Change

when you shampoo our way

You who accepted the free trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo know what these changes are. You have seen the silky texture which Palmolive gives your hair and admired the becoming satiny gloss.

It cleansed your scalp of every trace of clogging dirt and dandruff, leaving the delicate organism of each hair to do its natural work.

These results are due to the action of palm and olive oils in combination. These costly Oriental oils, famous for centuries as softening, relaxing, beautifying cleansers, are the basis of Palmolive Shampoo.

How they act

The softening effects of olive oil are responsible for the lovely gloss and softness. It produces the mildest, most penetrating of lathers, which is given body and richness by the blending with palm oil.

This lather is far more than a surface cleanser. It enters every root and hair cell and purges them from dirt, oil and dandruff.

Yet this hair, which is so thoroughly cleansed, isn't dry, harsh or brittle. The soothing action of palm and olive oil keeps it soft and glossy.

You must fight dandruff

Even the healthiest scalps secrete a moderate amount of dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea and charge with most hair troubles.

It is harmless enough if, when you shampoo, it is thoroughly washed away.

But ordinary shampooing doesn't affect the dry, oily scales which withstand most cleansing. They accumulate until the hair cells are clogged.

This clogging prevents proper nutrition and your hair begins to come out. This is the danger signal.

The softening, penetrating lather produced by the blending of palm and olive oils penetrates the formation of scales, loosening and dislodging them from hair roots and scalp.

You need never fear dandruff if you shampoo with Palmolive.

If you didn't get the free 15-cent trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo, fill out and mail this coupon to the Palmolive Company. We will gladly mail it, that you may learn the results which follow even the first Palmolive shampoo.

Line Makes of Team Strong.

line are four veterans who known from former years. ilson at left end, who does nting for the Seattle eleven, the best ends in the northof the Conference and is of watching in the coming will be in evidence with although he has a much unter than Patrick to face starts exchanging blows ie Nisbet, who to date, has everyone he has come in n with. On a total of 66 Bruin star has maintained e of 38.2 per kick from immage and practically all of this has been gain, with the two California ends holding the return to a minimum. Washington has a veteran pair of guards in Robi and Rogge, and their clever defensive work against Stanford smeared the Cardinal line plays and forced them to resort to the aerial game on a wet field in an effort to put over a win. Ingram, at tackle, is well known here, having rowed on the Sun Dodger crew last year, and if he puts up as clever a game at tackle as he rows he will be a power on defense against California's off tackle bucks. Tinling, at the other tackle, is a steady player and Langhorne at center, although a new man, displayed ability and a good head, according to Boles Rosenthal. In fact the only weak spot appeared to be Galligan at right end and Bagshaw will probably bolster up this spot before the Sun Dodgers hit California.

Cardinal Team Holds Practice At Palo Alto

Preparations Being Made for Bonfire and Big Football Rally.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 9—The Stanford varsity football squad got their first workout yesterday afternoon after the return of the team from Seattle. The men were rather weary after the long train ride to Seattle and back and Coach Van Dent and assistants did not give them a hard workout yesterday. The first heavy grind in the final preparation for the Big Game November 19 will likely come at the secret practice this afternoon.

Although Nevada will likely give the Cardinal a hard tussle when they meet here next Saturday, it is not expected that the local team will have great difficulty in disposing of the Sagehens in the last preliminary game of the season. The Nevada team held the Pacific Fleet eleven to a 14 to 13 score at Reno recently while Stanford was defeated 27 to 7 by the sailors. However, it is pointed out that the high altitude slowed up the Fleet team while the game with Stanford was played on a wet field, which slowed up the local team, so the comparison is not a fair one.

That the Big Game is rapidly drawing near was made evident here today when the freshmen started the work of collecting the wood for the big bonfire which is held every year following the Big Game rally, two nights before the game. Every member of the freshman class is expected to do fifteen hours' work in getting the pile ready for the fire. The work is carried on under the direction of the sophomores.

TEX STILL PAYING FINES.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 — Having paid a fine of $500 in Federal Judge Carpenter's court for violation of the Interstate Commerce Commission's ruling transporting pictures of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight here Tex Rickard, promoter of the fight, announced today that the pictures would be shown.

JIM AND JOCK ON THE LINKS

On the left is JOCK HUTCHISON who went over to St. Andrews and came back with the British golf championship. JIM BARNES, the United States champion is on the right. The pair will be seen in Oakland against John Black and Ave Espinosa.

UNDER the GOAL POSTS

Next Saturday should further clarify the standing of the teams in the Pacific Coast Conference. Washington State meets the Oregon Aggies at Corvallis and inasmuch as both teams have hit a slump the game should determine just how strong the "fighting Aggies" are. On their home lot they should have the advantage over the Cougars.

The "Muller number incident" of last Saturday brought an explanation from Andy Smith yesterday. When "Brick" entered the game he wore a jersey without his number (8) substituting 24 instead. It seems that Muller takes a large jersey and when he was thought to be out for the season the number was removed and the jersey issued to another player. When Brick was called upon to play he had to borrow a jersey to fit and there was no time to change the number. No attempt was made to deceive anyone; for Andy's avowed purpose was to have the presence of Brick known as a threat against U. S. C.

There's one football team playing this season which no one ever hears of—the California Goofs—coached by Paul Mohr. The Goofs are the boys who have to stand up and be knocked about and battered by the California eleven night after night. They are responsible for putting the men of Coach Smith in condition, but serve as mere human dummies whose greatest value is taking punishment. Too bad the graduate manager couldn't arrange a game for this team, for they can play real football, and several men on the team will be on the Varsity squad next year if they continue to play the brand of football they have been.

The California-Stanford Freshman game looks to be a toss-up. The Bruin babes have the star of the two teams in Spaulding, a classy backfield man, but one easily hurt. Stanford has a good backfield in Dennis, Howard, Cuddiback and Gilliland, but the Stanford Frosh seem to lack a line. Against the U. S. C. first-year men the California line played perfect football and in this respect the Bear Cubs may be able to nose out the Cardinal for the first-year championship on Armistice Day.

Saturday the Yale Bulldog tackles the Princeton Tiger in the backyard of Old Eli. The Yale bowl should be packed to capacity for the occasion, for Yale looks to have a championship team this year, but Princeton, after two beatings, turned the tables and ruined Harvard's chances, and Coach Roper's men must be figured for a tough scrap.

Poor Mr. Braddock, a hard-working and honest football official, who resides in the northern part of the state, is severely criticized by our southern friends for his penalizing of U. S. C. on two occasions. Mr. Braddock was the goat, in that he had to step off the yard lines, but the idea was suggested by Klenholz, the umpire, a southern official. So we guess that no great injustice was done in administering penalties.

Big Ten contests look like easy ones to pick this week. Chicago is a favorite over Illinois, Ohio State is picked to make short work of Purdue and Iowa is given the edge over Indiana. Wisconsin should have a tough time with Michigan, while Minnesota and Northwestern are idle.

Walter Powell had the right idea when he wrote to Walter Camp suggesting men from the West for All-American. Not that anything will come of it, but if he hadn't Camp might have overlooked the fact that any football was played out here this season.

Stanford plays host to James Bradshaw and ten other football players representing the University of Nevada this Saturday. The Cardinal should not have to open up with much stuff to win, but inasmuch as young Mr. Bradshaw usually starts out in a hurry, it might be advisable to have a flock of cross-country runners on the Stanford team for pursuit purposes, now that Dink Templeton has called off the cross-country race with California. They may call off the track meet next spring for the same reason.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—By a series of dashing end runs and dazzling forward passes, Notre Dame whitewashed Rutgers 48 to 0 at the Polo Grounds yesterday. Only once or twice did the Rutgers defense indicate it was not made of parchment.

HUTCHISON, BARNES TO PLAY LOCAL TEAM

World's Greatest Golfers Agree to Match with John Black and Abe Espinosa at Oakland Club

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—The invasion of Jim Barnes, United States open golf champion and Jock Hutchison, holder of the British open title, into the Western and Southern states promises to be the biggest and most interesting feature of the winter golf season this year. The possibility of seeing these two great golfers in action playing as a team has aroused tremendous interest everywhere and already the various clubs on the Coast and in the South are lining up the strongest possible combinations to meet the champions.

For instance, when it was known that Hutchison and Barnes would journey to the Coast this winter a challenge was immediately issued through George A. Dow of Alameda, California, from John Black and Abe Espinosa, the crack Western professionals, to play a match for a purse of $1000. The challenge was promptly accepted by Barnes and Hutchison and the match will be held sometime during January, at a club to be named later.

Black and Espinosa are two of the finest players on the Coast. Between them they have cleaned up in practically every tournament held in California in recent years. As a team it is reported they are invincible playing over any of the California courses. Consequently, even at this early date, there is considerable interest in the contest.

TO PLAY IN SOUTH.

The Ambassador Golf Club of Los Angeles has engaged Arthur Clarkson and McDonald Smith to oppose the champions. Smith and Clarkson also are a great team. Smith is one of the best golfers in the country and has won many tournaments during his career.

A great many exceedingly skilful golfers have been developed among the clubs of the Northwest in recent years, so that Barnes and Hutchison will not want for competition when they arrive in that part of the country.

Everywhere on the Coast and in the South it is the same story. Knowing the caliber of Barnes and Hutchison as golfers, the clubs which have engaged the pair for exhibition matches are lining up the strongest teams they can find to play against the title-holders.

Many golf fans in the West and in other sections of the country have never seen either Barnes or Hutchison play and now that each is a champion these enthusiasts quite naturally are anxious to see them in action. This is the first time that both the championships of Great Britain and of the United States have been held by players in this country in the same year. Hutchison, in fact, is the first and only American representative ever to win the British title; Barnes in his first attempt in 1920 finished in fifth place and this year won sixth money after leading the field from the start to the last nine holes. Barnes in this meeting, convalescing from a siege of boils, was in poor physical condition and on the last nine holes his strength gave out completely.

WILL LEAVE DECEMBER 15.

Barnes and Hutchison will leave New York on December 15 and will proceed to Vancouver, B. C. They will play five matches in the Northwest, including the Vancouver and Victoria (B. C.) golf clubs, Seattle, Tacoma, Washington and Portland, Ore.

Then they will journey to California, arriving there about January 1. They will spend practically the entire month of January playing exhibition matches in California. They will also compete in the annual California open championship which is to be held January 15 to 17, on the course of the Wilshire Country Club, Los Angeles.

Starting about the 1st of February, the champions will be at the various clubs in Arizona, Texas, Utah, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Tennessee, Georgia, North and South Carolina. They will end their tour about March 15 at Pinehurst, N. C., where both will compete in the North and South open championship, which title Hutchison now holds.

Landis May Decide Ruth Case This Week

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, intends to dispose of the cases of Babe Ruth and the other two members of the pennant winning Yankees who violated baseball laws by participating in exhibitions, so soon as he hears what the offending players have to say for themselves.

Indications today were that the decision may be expected before the end of the week.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Babe Ruth said today that he had mailed his answer to Judge Landis' questionnaire regarding his participation in the post season barnstorming tour. Ruth declined to discuss the nature of his answer other than to say that he hoped it will be satisfactory.

FREMONT FOOTBALLERS SMEAR TECHNICAL HI WITH A 13 TO 0 SCORE

Joe Prelli Star When the Boulevard Scholars Show Broadway Boys How to Make Plays.

By MARTIN ROTKE.

The Fremont High football team performed the expected yesterday when they handed the Tech. eleven a defeat by a 13 to 0 score. Before the game it was doped out by the experts that Fremont would cop the battle by two or three touchdowns, and the prediction came out as expected.

Joe Prelli, the greatest all-around athlete at the Boulevard school, was the outstanding star of the game. He was responsible for both touchdowns. At the start of the second quarter he made a pretty 45-yard run around the end and repeated again on an 18-yard run that put the ball on Tech.'s 7-yard line, from where Mason went over on a line plunge. Prelli himself made the final touchdown five minutes after the first one by making a sensational 75-yard run around left end, helped by good interference.

At the start of the battle Hockett for the Green and Gold punted to Tech's 30-yard line, where Byers was downed. Cowes booted to midfield, where Tech recovered on a fumble by Mason. After failing on one forward pass, Davis threw mother to Pechter for 20 yards that put the ball on Fremont's 30-yard line. After being penalized five yards for being offside and also in completing two forward passes, Cowes booted to the Green and Gold 10-yard line, where Guerney was downed. On the next play Guerney punted out of danger to his own 40-yard line, where Kjerr was downed in his tracks. Cowes then tried an end run, but was thrown for a seven-yard loss and on the next play he made a pretty 40-yard boot, and Mason was dropped. In the last minute of play in this quarter, Prelli received the ball and made a 45-yard end run that put the pill on Tech's 25-yard line.

Mason Goes Over For First Touchdown.

In the beginning of the second quarter on Fremont's fourth down, Prelli again tore around end for 18 yards, and in the next play Mason went over on a line plunge for the first touchdown. Domoto failed to convert and the score was 6 to 0.

On the kickoff Hockett booted to Tech's 15-yard line, and Davis returned the ball ten yards. Cowes made a 10-yard run on an off tackle play. After failing to get through the Fremont line, Cowes booted to the Boulevard 25-yard line on the fourth down. In the next play Prelli received the ball and tore away for a sensational 75-yard run for the second and final touchdown. Domoto converted and the scoreboard showed: Fremont, 13; Tech, 0.

On the kickoff Hockett punted to the 20-yard line, and Kjerr was downed. Cowes then went 8 yards on an end run and in the next play Fremont was penalized 15 yards for holding.

TRIES TO CRISS-CROSS.

On Tech's fourth down Cowes tried a criss-cross play, but the required yardage was not made. Fremont received the pigskin and Prelli tore around end again for 20 yards to Tech's 30-yard mark, where the quarter ended.

At the start of the third quarter Cowes sent the pigskin sailing to Fremont's 10-yard line, and Gibson took it back 15 yards to the 25-yard mark. The Green and Gold squad then lost the ball on downs, and in the next play Tech was penalized five years for being off-side. Gribben intercepted a forward pass thrown by Cowes and was downed on his own 20-yard mark. Fremont then lost the pill on downs for the first time during the game, and Tech received the ball and made their yardage for the first time. After trying to get through the line again without result, Cowes punted 35 yards to Fremont's 10-yard line and Mason brought the pigskin back 20 yards to his own 30-yard mark. After making the required yardage and bringing the ball to the 42-yard line, Prelli tore around end as usual for a 7-yard gain. On the next couple of plays Fremont failed to advance the ball and it was lost on downs. Cowes then received the ball and he threw a pretty 20-yard pass to Wong, who was downed on Fremont's 30-yard line.

Mason Fumbles Punt But Stenzil Recovers

At the beginning of the fourth quarter Tech failed to get through the Fremont line and lost the ball on downs. Fremont received the ball and made their required yardage on two different occasions. After being penalized 15 yards for holding, Prelli punted the ball 15 yards out of bounds. Tech received the ball on Fremont's 35-yard line and on their fourth down, after failing on two forward passes, Cowes booted for 25 yards to the Green and Gold 10-yard. Mason fumbled the punt, but Stenzil recovered and put the Boulevardiers out of danger. Prelli received the pigskin and he punted out of bounds for 15 yards. Tech received the ball on Fremont's 35-yard line and attempted two forward passes which were not completed. The game then ended with the ball in possession of Tech on the 35-yard mark.

GOLF

The monthly tournament of the Northern California Professional Golfers' Association will be held on the links of the Claremont Country Club beginning next Monday. The local club tournament is well along, the semi-final matches being scheduled for this week-end, and the courtesy of extending the invitation to the Golfers' Association to allow them to use the local club links, has been received with satisfaction by the members of the Northern California Association.

Mortie Dutra, who has been active on the links at Del Monte since course No 1 has been remodeled, hung up a good record when he went out in 37 and returned in 32, making the course in 69.

A new golf club is planned for San Francisco, to be known as the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club. The new organization is to have its site along the Junipero Serra Boulevard, a quarter of a mile south of the San Francisco Golf and Country Club property.

Johnnie McHugh, the young Lincoln Park golfer, pulled a big surprise yesterday when he took Roger Lapham's measure in the San Francisco championship. Lapham is the last of the veterans to give way before the young players who are showing great ability in the present tournament. McHugh won out on the thirteenth green after making birdies on the first two holes of the course.

Stanford Frosh Will Meet the Berkeley Babes

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 9.—For the first time in several seasons Stanford will send a freshman football team against the Bruin Cubs Friday that will have a fair chance of winning the "little big game." Coach Duffy Seay has started the season with lots of material to experiment with, a condition which did not prevail last year, and he has made the most of his opportunities.

The only team both the Bruin and Cardinal elevens met during the season was the Berkeley High School team. The Blue and Gold team secured a 14 to 7 win, while Stanford tied with the prep school eleven. The Stanford game was played early in the season, however. This was the only contest the first string freshmen did not win.

The local first year squad had an off-day last Saturday. The eleven managed to squeeze out a 21 to 14 from the Lincoln High School of Los Angeles after one of the most ragged exhibitions of football ever shown on the Stanford field. The babes were prone to fumble constantly and the high school men were able to put over many forward passes on the same sort of play.

Captain Guy Dennis, the track quarterback, and Howard, a halfback who has showed up well throughout the season, Widamen, a regular end, and Van Hook, center, were out of the game Saturday and the absence of these men largely accounts for the poor showing of the freshmen. It will be a much improved team that will take the field against the Bruin Babes at Berkeley on Friday.

FORMIDABLE LINE

The frosh have a very formidable line. Van Hook, the regular center, has been on the injured list, but he is now in shape again and should play his usual good game Friday.

Neill will play left guard. Duffy Seay hasn't decided whether he will use Moklofsky or Crook in the other guard place. The chances favor Moklofsky starting the game.

The tackles will be Dole and Shipke. Both of these men have played a high caliber of football all season.

Bob Jannsen will take care of one of the end stations. Jannsen has forgotten the rugby game at which he used to star at Lowell High School and he is now one of the most valuable defensive men on the team. Widamen or Fuller will play at the other end position. Widamen has been out of the game with injuries but he is now in shape again.

'Round the Sport Circle

With Jack Veiock
International News Sporting Ed.

If Benny Leonard doesn't soon grow a beard and start hobbling about on crutches some of our ambitious, present-day lightweight contenders will curl up and blow away without getting any nearer to the lightweight title than they are right now.

Two of the best—Kansas and Tendler—tossed punches at each other in a red-hot battle at the Garden a few nights ago for the right to meet Leonard. When it was over—and it was a corking bout, at that—Kansas was declared the winner. Well, he won it by a slight shade and the decision was popular, BUT——

In the ninth round Kansas had Tendler weaving like a soused-up sailor and lacked the ring generalship and aggressiveness to go in and finish him.

In the fourteenth Tendler had Kansas going and hit him with everything but the building, but he couldn't finish him.

What about it? Simply this. Leonard would have sent the fans away saying: "A dollar a dozen for that kind with Leonard" had he had either chance to put an end to that bout. You simply can't get away from it. Kansas and Tendler are good boys. So are Richie Mitchell, Charley White, Willie Jackson and some others. But there's a long gap between the best of 'em and the Champion.

FREDDIE WELSH SAW THE TENDLER-KANSAS GO FROM A BACK SEAT.

"OH, BOY," murmured Welsh, "Why wasn't I born seven years later?" I would have been mortified if either of them could have laid a glove on me when I was good."

A little harsh, maybee, but when Welsh was good, he WAS GOOD.

THE BOXING COMMISSION of New York held out a helping hand to the ancient order of boxing managers when it made a rule that no boxer shall take part in a contest in the Empire State unless he has a manager. Guess all the boys will get their three squares regular this winter.

EDDIE KANE WRITES to say that he recently confabbed with Tex Rickard in Chicago and that Rickard told him he fully expects Georges Carpentier to live up to his promise to come to the U. S. A. and fight Tommy Gibbons.

"Rickard said he heard from Descamps a short time ago," says Kane, "and that Francois assured him that Georges will return to America in January to go through with our match. I only hope he does. That's one match we want the worst way. Tom couldn't get a nicer New Year's present than the news that Georges was on the way."

EASTERN LEAGUES ARE HIRING SCOUTS TO WATCH PLAYERS IN THE TRIBUNE WINTER LEAGUE

SOUTHERN, WESTERN LEAGUE CLUBS HAVE SCOUTS WORKING HERE

G. C. Bradford Writes for Information on Some of Youngsters; Phil Koerner Is Scouting

By EDDIE MURPHY.

It's a lucky thing that Cal Ewing and Del Howard have their scouts out to make early grabs of the promising youngsters in the Oakland TRIBUNE Mid-winter League, for each week finds some new scout on the job acting for other clubs. Joe Devine has been keeping a close watch on the kids in The TRIBUNE league and he has mentioned the names of several he would like to sign to contracts, but the only thing that holds him off is that he has not yet decided where he will be next summer. If Joe was still connected with the Calgary club he would grab several boys, but he must now wait until he signs up to manage some club. Joe admits that he would like to have landed Phil Gardner and Jimmy Foster, the two youngsters signed to Oakland contracts. Joe never has missed his guess on the future of a young player, and he thinks that Gardner and Foster should make the grade in professional ball, maybe not in the Pacific Coast League this season, but somewhere.

Phillip Koerner, who was connected with the San Francisco Seals a couple of seasons ago as a first baseher, and says that the only man who could get him to return to professional baseball is Joe Devine, stated yesterday afternoon that he is not going to let any grass grow under his feet this winter, and that he is going to be a spectator at one or more games in The TRIBUNE League each Sunday. Phil signed up a few boys from The TRIBUNE League last winter, among them being Phil Apperson, who went like a big leaguer with the Edmonton club in the Western Canadian League. Phil has received two letters in the past couple of days, requesting him to act as a scout for a club in the Western League, and another in the American Association. Koerner has been advised by one of the clubs to grab any youngster that looks promising, whether he be an infielder, outfielder, catcher or pitcher. Several graduates from The TRIBUNE League showed in the Western League last season, and records tell why the managers down there are after more of our kids.

Koerner was out to a couple of games last Sunday and already he has lamped a couple of youngsters whom he would like to sign. Koerner has been given full authority to sign players at whatever price he thinks they are worth, so watch him step out and get some of our youngsters. Already three of them have been signed by the Oaks, and indications are that more players will graduate this season than last.

Bradford Would Like To Land Some Local Lads.

Had a letter from G. C. Bradford, who will be remembered as a great baseball man down around San Jose a couple of years ago. The letter carries a lot of interesting chatter for local fans. First of all, Bradford speaks of having a manager's job lined up for Cliff Blankenship in the Southern League. Bradford is now connected with the Cudahy Packing Company at New Orleans, and says that he is in a position to place any youngsters from The TRIBUNE League who look like they are going to make good in professional ball.

Billy Paul, the infielder who was with the Oaks for a time, has been placed with the Shreveport Club in the Texas League by Bradford, and Mel Pratt, the San Jose catcher who had a short tryout with the Oaks, will also join that club next season. Billy Menges has also been made an offer by Bradford, but has not wired his answer yet.

The news of the blowup of the Mission League has reached Bradford, and he writes to say that he regrets very much to hear about it, but also that nothing else could be expected with the enormous salaries that were being offered, although there was supposed to be a salary limit on the clubs. Experience with handling clubs in the Santa Clara Valley has also taught Bradford that an amateur league such as is conducted by The TRIBUNE this winter is the real stuff. Bradford also puts in a nice boost for Fred L. Krumb and the other officials of The TRIBUNE League, and claims that if Krumb had been allowed a free hand, the Mission League would never have met such a fate.

Here Is a Manager Who Says Respect the Umpire.

Danny Whelan, the little East Oakland merchant who has placed the Whelan Market team in the Class A division of The TRIBUNE League, with Frank McCormack as its manager, is one of the greatest boosters that the umpires have. At the banquet which he tendered his ball club the other evening, Danny made a long talk to the boys, dwelling on the good that The TRIBUNE League as an amateur organization is doing for the youngster, and the respect that players would show the umpires. Danny is tickled to death with the way The TRIBUNE League is being conducted, and he says that there is only one thing that can discourage him now, and that is for any of his players to make an attack upon an umpire. None of his men has attempted to do so to date, and it is not likely that they will, but as a warning Danny has told his men that the first time one of them dashes after the man who calls them out and safe, he will request that man to turn in his uniform, or he may go so far as to call in every uniform. Danny said in part of his talk: "You boys are certainly delivering the goods, and I am tickled to know that you respect the umpire on the field. But just as a warning, I want to say I will pull my name off the suit of the first player who dares attack an umpire no matter if he has a good reason to or not. The captain of the team is the only man who should be on the field when an argument arises with the umpire. Players should realize that an umpire, especially those in The TRIBUNE League, are doing their best, and they must make occasional errors, just like a player does on the ball field. Whatever you do, no matter if the decision costs us the pennant or not, I want you boys to leave the umpires alone!" If a few other managers would advise their men in the same way, it would do no harm.

Another thing that Danny is opposed to is gambling on ball games. During a recent game, a fan approached the little boss of the Whelan Market club, and said he wanted to wager seventy-five dollars that the Whelans would lose the game. "Are you anxious to lose that money very bad?" asked Danny. The fan replied, "Sure!" So Danny suggested that they flip a coin to see who would pay seventy-five dollars, and the fan refused. Danny will gamble once in awhile, but not on a baseball game as long as he is interested in it. So there was a fan who just had a habit of betting on ball games, and feared to lose his money in any other way. If other fans would discourage gamblers as did Danny Whelan, the game would be a whole lot better off.

San Diego Is Refused Berth In the P. C. L.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—San Diego's bid for a team in the Coast League was heard here yesterday in the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball League. President H. William Lane, of the Salt Lake team, announced that the franchise of the Bees was not for sale. League directors then informed the San Diego representatives that it would be advisable for them to build a baseball park in San Diego and then appear before the directors and it was possible that training of teams and exhibition games might be arranged by the league to furnish some Class AA baseball for San Diego.

Three new directors were voted in today, W. H. Klepper, Portland; James R. Boldt, Seattle, and Joseph H. Patrick, Los Angeles. Informal discussion of the season schedule and other matters were held but decisions were left to a second session to be held today.

If San Diego builds a ball park, it was practically promised that the San Francisco team would train there next spring.

It was indicated the coming season would cover a period of 28 weeks instead of 26, as this year.

The arrival of the San Francisco delegates was delayed by a wreck, and the meeting accordingly, but when the first session, a brief one, opened at 1 o'clock, there was evidence of the greatest harmony.

It was at the first session the three new directors were taken in.

Sharkey Gets a Chance at the Bantam Title

Broadway Training Spoiled Two Previous Chances of Youngster.

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Broadway is the poorest training ground in the world. Even in these rather tame days, what is left of the old bright lights on the gay white way does not tend to condition an athlete.

The "old timers" tell this, but the youngsters don't always listen.

The little bantam, Jack Sharkey, the most popular boxer in New York, didn't listen and he lost two great chances for the crown of the little fellows.

Proving the exception to the old line about opportunity knocking only once, Sharkey gets his third big chance tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden, when he goes into the ring with Johnny Buff, holder of the flyweight and bantamweight titles.

Two years ago, Sharkey was just one of those little fellows who can be found hanging around any gymnasium in any town. He had "some stuff" but he never had a chance to get it out.

Sharkey left New York and he was never missed until he made his overnight jump into fame by beating Jimmy Wilde, the British flyweight champion, out in Milwaukee.

When he left his home town, Sharkey was a five-dollar sparring partner; when he came back he was a $10,000 attraction.

SHARKEY HITS BROADWAY.

His thrilling 15-round draw with Joe Lynch in the Garden is still remembered and the events that followed are still being held up as examples by managers with young prospects.

Having more money that he ever dreamed of before, Sharkey hit Broadway. He liked the lights and he had a bunch of friends who liked to sit under the glare with him.

The public demanded another Sharkey-Lynch go and it ended in a knockout of a sadly unconditioned boy. Lynch, the victor, and the clean liver, went out and got the title.

Sharkey could have had another bout with Lynch, but Tex Rickard wanted him to prove himself. He failed to train for what he thought was a set-up and he was again beaten by Roy Moore.

The Broadway moral finally hit him and he started training. He admitted the "old timers" were right and he went back to work.

His third chance for the title is just as good as the other chances. All the other bantams have been clamoring for the first crack at Buff, but fate was kind enough to him and he is the lucky one.

BOWLING

The Knights of Columbus will open their Bowling Tournament on Tuesday night, November 15, at the Bowling Auditorium. The K. C. will have six teams. Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco will be represented, and from the workouts some good games will be played.

W. Cross of Jackson Furniture won the weekly prize in duck pins, shooting 208, at the Auditorium.

Chauncey Pezzola had high ten pin score for the month. He clicked the maple for 273.

The Hat Box Specials won two games Monday night from the Ploughs of the Suburban League class B. The Hat Box seemed to have come out of their slump after losing six straight. The games took place at the Bowling Auditorium. The score:

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 9. — Travie Davis, claimant of the coast welterweight championship, won an uninteresting four-round bout with Eddie (Kid) Billings, of Wisconsin, here tonight.

Fred Kelly, Billings' sparring partner, lost a decision to Jimmy Storey, local welter.

Rube Winn, Seattle middleweight, knocked out K. O. Brown of Los Angeles, in the fourth round.

Underground Goal Post Gear-Shift Which Enables the Wimmen College Team to Make Field Kicks When Playing on Their Home Gridiron---By Don Herold

BUSHERS OWN CORNER

By MAURY PESSANO

The Victory Motor boys annexed a hard fought victory Sunday against the K. U. club at the Lazear playgrounds. Manager Welsh of the Motor boys had to send in his best bet, Larry Kellar, to check the K. U. boys. It was a regular hitting contest with the winners doing most of the slugging. Tommy Ellison got a homer and two singles. A. Pryor and Combataladie each got three hits.

Paul Edstrom, leader of the Melrose Merchants, is a happy man today. Paul proved that the Merchants can do without the services of "Indian" Butler, who was released last week. Paul landed "Shorty" Coyne to pitch and the little fellow worked his first game against the Zenith Millers. He allowed but three hits to the hard hitting Millers, and after the fourth inning proved invincible.

The Del Monte Packers No. 45 will play their first game on their home grounds Sunday at Eighth and Delaware streets, Berkeley. Fans traveling to that park from Oakland can take the Telegraph avenue car to Delaware, and walk two blocks west.

"Once our boys get started no one will ever stop them," said Ray Luttrell, manager of the Lee Bertilfion Hatters in the National division of the "A" league. The Hatters have lost five games after some hot battles, but Ray's boys have not given up the fight for the pennant. They will be out there each Sunday to battle, although in the past the breaks have gone against them. Ray has a well balanced ball club with as good a battery as any in the league.

The Glen Athletic Club lost their first game of the season to the Alameda West End Merchants. Frank Lewis, manager of the Glens, hopes to bring home the gonfalon in his division. He has a bunch of hustlers, with a fine pitching staff. His star catcher, August, will be out of the game for a few weeks, nursing a bad elbow. He was hurt Sunday at Washington and Manager Lewis will use Martin behind the log.

Every member on the Alameda West End Club with the exception of Kaney and Bennet got one or more hits. Ray Klein pitched for the Merchants, and also got two hits, one of them going for a homer. Ludvick and Coffey each got three hits. Harry Klein did some good work around the initial sack and slammed out two hits.

George "Biff" Rebpolt, first sacker for the Del Monte Packers No. 6, is a coming star. The tall youngster handles himself like a George Sisler around the initial sack. Nothing is too hard for him to grab. At the bat George has done his share to keep the Packers in the running.

Del Webb pitched his first game in the league for the Fruitvale Natives, and although trounced by the Kohler & Chase boys he gave a good account of himself and should prove a winner with the Natives. The Fruitvale boys have copped but one game in their division. Manager Wally Hurney hopes to surprise a lot of the wise fans by taking a few of the league leaders down the line.

Captain Rathner of the Whelan Market Club hit the longest homer made on the Fitchburg park this season when he poled one over the left field fence. The big fellow is a very dangerous man at the bat.

Eddie Borba, catcher for the Melrose Merchants in the National division of the "A" league, is doing a lot of fine work, both with the bat and behind the log. The big receiver has been a big help to Paul Edstrom's club since the opening.

Tommy Lynch, manager of the Poplar Candy Club, is sure that his boys will trounce the Allendale Merchants Sunday when they meet at Alberger field. Tommy is going to send his best bet, Bill Plummer, in the box against the hard hitting Allendale boys. Bill has pitched three great games for the Candy "Kids." His experience with the Portland Club this season has helped him a great deal. Bill has more than a fast ball that he will use to baffle the Allendale boys.

Charley Landgridge and White, playing their first game for the Poplar Candy boys last Sunday against the Mol Anderson boys form a fine combination around the keystone sack. White is leading off for Lynch's club, and got on the sacks three times, although he failed to get any safe ones. Landridge played a fine game around the short patch and also got a clean hit, stole a bag and scored a pair of runs.

Gene Fitzgerald, left fielder for the Candy boys, is proving a very valuable man. Gene can play any position, and take care of the job well. He will be used in left for the balance of the season. He has been doing some heavy work with the willow.

Ray Ebe, catcher for the Poplar Candy club, looks better in each game he works. Ray is a wonder in holding up the shoots of Plummer. He got three hits in Sunday's game.

P. Norby, pitcher for the American Legion club, was the chief hitter of the day when he laced out four hard drives. Every member of the Legion club got one or more hits off the pitching of R. Olson of the Fruitvale W. O. W.

New Athletic Federation Is Organized Here

The first meeting of a new amateur athletic federation, which is destined to become a big factor in promoting local and city and industrial competition in all branches of sport, found representatives present from practically all of the larger local units of the Industrial League and the corresponding leagues in San Francisco. The new athletic association is to be known as the Bay Cities Amateur Athletic Federation and at present it is planned to have it composed of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A., the San Francisco Industrial Association, the Oakland Y. M. C. A., the Oakland Recreation Department, the Oakland Industrial Association, the Insurance Athletic Association, Neptune Beach, the Sutro Aquatic Club and the San Francisco chapter of the American Institute of Banking.

Representatives from all of these bodies were in attendance at the first meeting of the Federation and subsequent meetings will be held shortly to outline a general policy for the conducting of sports. It is the announced purpose of the new Federated body to allow a greater number of amateur athletes to participate in competition in all branches of sport to encourage athletic competition for the large number of local athletes who are not affiliated with the Pacific Association of the A. A. U. Strict amateur standing will be adhered to by the Federation but no registration fees will be charged to members of the Federation. It is further intended to standardize all competition between the various industrial and business leagues and to encourage greater participation by the members of such leagues.

The following were in attendance at the first meeting of the Bay Cities Amateur Athletic Federation:

Van B. Britton, Oakland Industrial Association; Willy Winsor, San Francisco Y. M. C. A.; Dr. Emma Sutro Merritt, Sutro Baths; F. H. Veale, Berkeley Y. M. C. A.; Earl Howard, San Francisco Retailers' Athletic Association; Robert Levinson, Insurance Athletic Association; A. S. Dondero, Industrial Athletic Association of San Francisco; Ray Daugherty, San Francisco Athletic League; Jay B. Nash, Oakland Recreation Department; Dr. H. L. Dietz, Oakland Y. M. C. A.; V. M. Smith, American Institute of Banking; William Utmack, Earl Smith, Thomas deNike, Charles W. Thomas, Protestant Churches Athletic Association; Julia Hinkle, Red Cross; R. C. Strehlow, Neptune Beach; George R. Vestal, Sunday School Athletic Association of Oakland.

Karasick-Yokel Wrestling Bout Tuesday Night

Promoter Joe Khoumrian Is Making Plans for Big Carnival.

Joe Khoumrian, the local wrestling promoter, has lined up an ambitious set of bouts for local fans. Next Tuesday night at the pavilion, Twelfth and Harrison streets, Mike Yokel, who claims the middleweight championship of the world, will meet Al Karasick, the local champ, and the following week Bull Montana and Yokel will meet in a return match. Ten days later Karasick will meet the winner of the Montana-Yokel bout, and Walter Miller and Ted Thye will come here to settle the championship of the world. Miller, Yokel and Thye all claim the title and Khoumrian has set himself the task of clearing up the situation.

It was Khoumrian's intention to stage the bout a week from Saturday night, but Yokel received a telegram yesterday that calls for his appearance in the Northwest next week and he will be gone a fortnight.

Karasick has gone into training and promises to be in good shape. His injured arm is entirely well.

Bull Montana has returned to Los Angeles and will train there for his return bout with Yokel. Bull got a fine razzing from the customers last time out and he wants to pin Yokel and show local fans that he is a regular "rassler."

Jimmy Duffy Wins From A. Trambitas At Southern Show

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9. — Jimmy Duffy of Oakland last night defeated Alex Trambitas of Portland in the main event at Vernon arena. It was Duffy's bout from the beginning, according to sports writers, in the semi-windup Danny Edwards of Oakland easily won from Ray Rose of Portland. They met at 115 pounds.

Johnny Adams and Izzy Glasser of Los Angeles, 110 pounders, provided a lively bout, with Adams receiving the decision. Glasser was knocked down in the first round.

Clever Boxers Will Show at the Auditorium

HERE is the boxing card that will be presented at the auditorium tonight:

Eddie Landon vs. Teddy O'Hara
Johnny Lotsey vs. Terio Vargas
Buck Holley vs. Al Williams
Jack Davis vs. Jimmy Butler
Pete Daley vs. Billy Murdock
Angelo Silva vs. Frankie Novey.
Jackie Hynes vs. Jackie Miller

NEW COMERS ON THE CARD ARE SAID TO BE REGULAR FIGHTER

Teddy O'Hara and Eddie Landon Top P gram; Williams Will Entertain Holley.

By BOB SHAND.

Tommy Simpson's advice to the customers tonight is to w Mister Al Williams. The Williams boy is scheduled to t punches with Buck Holley in one of the special events at the A torium and while the general run of fans never heard of Willi Simpson says he will give Holley the fight of his life. The comer is not the gent who advises folks to keep healthy by thinking the other fellow. He makes his home in San Jose developed a wonderful wallop by inhaling copious doses of pr It was prunes that made Young Carmen famous and the choice of the Santa Clara Valley they say has made a near champio Williams. In recent weeks Al has licked Cyclone Gavvy, Dick lace, Eddie McGovern and a number of other competent workers and all San Jose will back him tonight when he against Holley.

Williams saw Holley box last week and then sought the match. "If Joe Roberts could hit Holley I know I can and if I hit him he is going to drop. Maybe Holley is the champion of his class around here, but he is about the easiest man to hit I ever saw work. Roberts hit him a million times with a left hand last Wednesday and did not hurt him, but if I smack him just once the battle will be over." That's the way the San Jose man feels about it. Of course, Holley sees the bout from another angle.

"Another of these rubes coming to town to get licked," Holley is reported to have chirped when informed that Williams was a tough nut. "They sent Cyclone Gavvy and a lot of others up here to get a beating and another more or less won't make much difference," added the San Francisco middleweight.

Johnny Lotsey Ready For Match With Vargas.

Dick Dusenbury and Johnny Lotsey arrived yesterday from Sacramento and Lotsey reports himself in fine condition for his return match with Terio Vargas. Incidentally the Sacramento lightweight wants his name spelled "LOTSEY." The boys have been saving time by leaving the "E" out of it. Since he boxed Vargas last week Johnny has been doing some real training and he says he is fit to clean a whole ringful of fighters like Terio. However, the customers will be well pleased if Johnny does as well as last week, when he put up one of the scrappiest battles ever seen at the Auditorium.

Teddy O'Hara is not saying much about his fight with Eddie Landon, but the Watts Tract entry is doing some deep thinking. O'Hara would rather knock Landon for a goal than receive a diamond medal. He knows that the gallery will give him the razz when he enters the ring and he knows they will yell with delight every time Landon lands and Teddy wants revenge. He had a wonderful dream the other night that showed the Frenchman stretched on the floor with Old Man O'Hara's son standing over him and Teddy says this is one dream that will come true. If he flattens don tonight Teddy will turn t gallery and bow politely. If knocks Teddy for a goal the will give a clever imitation of wildest demonstration on That's how popular O'Hara is some of the fans.

Only trouble with this main is that there is a little too feeling on both sides with the sible result the boys will wa the other fellow to do the le They're both foxy that way an take no chances of leaving an ing. They both know what stake tonight and consequent not liable to take any chances winner will stick in the main class while the loser will drop among the preliminarians kids could only be prevailed u get in and fight from the st would be a wonderful exhibit "work" but safety first tactics gum up the performance.

Pete Daley Will Meet Another Newcomer.

Billy Murdock, a newcomer meet Pete Daley and if Billy he will move up a couple of in the next card. Daley, who ing handled by John Burdick, a lot of stuff last week against Rivers. Frankie Novey, another one, will hook up with Angelo which would indicate that Novey not afraid to tackle the tough

Jack Davis, the old timer thinks he can lick a lot of the ent crop of four-rounders, an try again tonight with Jimmy on the other end of the bout knocked Jimmy for a row of ti week but Butler has licked a good ones since he started rounding a few months ago.

Jackie Hynes and Jackie Mill tangle in the curtain raiser.

Bert Faunce, a 200-pound of Uncle Sam's well known na fm town last night looking match. Bert won a lot of bo the Atlantic coast and wants pear at the Auditorium. Faun what of a man, standing six fe inches high, and weighing w 200 pounds. He is big enou lick a lot of heavyweights.

Waste Products in the Blood Cause Many Forms of Rheumatism, Skin Disorders, and A Lowered Vitality

How to Clear Your Blood of Waste Products.

You will say where does this poison get in the blood? Now listen: When foods disagree with us, we have fermentation; when our liver is sluggish, we are subject to constipation; when we fail to drink enough pure water, our kidneys cannot properly function; or when we fail to take regular exercise, our skin becomes congested.

As a result, waste products get in the blood. Ill health sets in. You may lose your strength and vitality; or you may have rheumatic pains in the muscles and joints; or you may be troubled with pimples, bad boils, sores or some other skin eruption. All because of the poisonous waste products in the blood. Nature then needs help. She has done her best but is failing.

Your blood is your fountain source of energy—therefore keep your heart pumping pure blood. Get the waste products out of your blood and your health will rapidly improve.

For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

The retail grocery trade may be taken as a good barometer of business in general and for that reason reports of the Alameda County Retail Grocers' Association on conditions are interesting in view of the reported general improvement in this section.

Figures before the association show that the employment situation is very encouraging, that men are being put back to work in about the same ratio as they were let out in the various industrial plants, that thus far there has been little complaint from dealers about lessened business and that collections are unusually good.

"The retail grocery trade is in good condition and reflects the general improving conditions throughout the Eastbay and the state generally," said C. M. Steeman, secretary of the Association. "Of course the grocers are not doing war-time business, neither is anybody else and that condition will probably never return again. But taken as a whole and the grocery trade is pretty close to the people, and the wage-earners in particular, there is no reason to doubt but that trade is growing better every day. I have heard no complaints. There may be a little slump just now and another just after Thanksgiving but these are seasonal matters and go with the business. Dealers generally look for a big holiday trade and a continually increasing improvement in their business."

BEARS HAVE HARD DAY, ALL STOCKS TAKE RISE.

The Wall Street Journal's financial review today says:

"It was a bad day for the bear crowd on the New York Stock Exchange. Under the leadership of Mexican Petroleum, the whole list was given a whirl which carried most stocks to new high prices for the fall. In fact, a number of issues made new highs for the year. The turnover for Mexican Petrolum was the highest in many weeks. The stock was made to appear heavy in early dealings and sold down nearly 3 points from the high of Monday. Then the big buying orders suddenly made their appearance and it shot through the recent high of 109⅜. The stock hesitated around 112, but during the last hour got into new high ground.

"Baldwin ranked next to Mexican Petroleum. The rapidity of its advance is probably due to the fact that the big short selling of the last few weeks has been in Mexican Petroleum and Baldwin. Another advance in crude oil prices by the Texas company helped all the American oil shares.

"Steel stocks were led by Steel Common, which sold at the highest price since the break to 70¼. Crucible was the feature of the independents. The sharp advance in stocks today took traders by surprise."

CALIFORNIA TO BENEFIT BY LOWER RATES, SAYS ROADS.

The Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Western Pacific announced through the Railroad Commission today that California would benefit by the reductions in grain and grain products recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission to be put in effect on November 20. While the carriers did not announce that they would comply with the request of the commission, they did say that if interstate rates were lowered, the charges within the state would be reduced to a similar basis.

In August, 1920, an increase of 25 per cent was allowed by the Interstate Commerce Commission and it suggested a cut of half of this for this month. It is believed that the roads will comply and that if they do not, they will be ordered to do so.

MENDENHALL ELECTED HEAD OF DELTA FARMS.

Jesse V. Mendenhall, former city clerk of Berkeley, but for the last ten years engaged in the sale of securities and management of development projects, has been elected president of the Delta Farms Company, a group of Los Angeles men reclaiming and selling a large tract of land near Stockton. The company controls about 40,000 acres in ten reclamation districts in Contra Costa and San Joaquin counties with a total estimated valuation of about $6,000,000. A good portion of the holdings, about 30,000 acres it is reported, has been sold off in small units on more or less long-time payments.

Mendenhall for the past five years, has been president of the Holland Land Company, whose holdings are near Sacramento. As the ownership of the Holland and the Delta Farms are practically the same, Mendenhall's election to the last named company means amplification of his work.

HAYWARD WATER OWNER IS CITED FOR CONTEMPT.

By a citation issued by the Railroad Commission William S. Van Hoosear has been directed to appear before the Commission on November 22 for disobedience of an order of the Commission. Van Hoosear, who is the owner of a water system near Hayward, was ordered by the Commission in December, 1919, to furnish water to consumers in Castro Valley. Van Hoosear took the matter to the courts and according to an affidavit upon which the contempt proceeding is based has never re-established service as directed. Instead, it is alleged, that without authority of the Commission he attempted to sell his water system to F. J. Lewis and John N. Hinkson. The Commission holds that this attempted sale is of no legal effect. Under the Public Utilities Act the Commission is given the same power to punish for contempt as a court of record.

The Commission also instituted an investigation into the rules, regulation and practices of the utility joining Van Hoosear, Lewis and Hinkson as parties and interests. Hearing in this investigation is set for the same time as the contempt proceedings.

HIGHWAY BONDS TO OFFER AT REDUCED INTEREST RATE.

The State Highway Commission plans to offer for sale the latter part of December $7,000,000 in highway bonds at reduced interest.

It is explained that the decision to reduce the rate of interest is made because of the premium paid for a block of $5,000,000 state highway bonds bearing 5½ per cent interest conducted nearly a fortnight ago. The premium was $476,000. The issue of $7,000,000 will bear 5 per cent interest.

The finance board announced that it is of the opinion that the bonds will sell readily at the reduced rate of interest because of the present condition of the bond market.

It had been planned originally to market only $5,000,000 bonds, but because of the extent of the work proposed and the optimistic view of the board upon the bond market it has been decided to raise the total to $7,000,000. It is announced that the issuance of the bonds was partly in an effort to solve the unemployment crisis in California and partly an effort to carry out the plans of the state highway commission to furnish road building in this state. Many roads projected will be considered under this issue.

P. G. and E. STOCKHOLDERS TOLD OF ITS PROGRESS.

Stockholders of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company at a meeting across the bay last night were told something of the recent widening of activities and prospects by President Wiggington Creed, Vice-President John E. Britton and Treasurer A. F. Hockenbeamer.

Creed spoke of the strength of the company, its conservative management, the large number of its stockholders and its scope of operations covering 42,000 square miles, with 579,000 consumers.

Britton told what the company is doing, and how it is doing it.

Hockenbeamer analyzed the company's growth and pointed out that in no year of its history, regardless of business conditions has it failed to show large expansion.

He declared that the company's policy of always putting back a certain portion of its earnings into the property had resulted in a great increase of actual values.

Stockholders' meetings are being held in every section of "Pacific service" territory.

WESTERN STATES GAS WOULD SELL BONDS.

The Western States Gas and Electric Company has asked the Railroad Commission to approve an issue of $200,000 first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent bonds to be sold at $80 per $100 bond.

The proceeds of the issue will be used to reimburse the company's treasury for capital expenditures made up to September 30.

The application was heard before Commissioner Loveland, who took the matter under consideration.

KLAMATH FALLS DAM IS REPORTED COMPLETED.

The concrete dam constructed for the California Power Company at Klamath Falls, Ore., has been completed by the Duncanson-Harrelson Company of San Francisco.

The dam has been constructed under a permit issued by the United States Reclamation Service and will regulate the discharge of water from Upper Klamath Lake into Link river, which is the outlet of the lake.

NEW ORANGE CROP BEGINS TO MOVE TO MARKETS.

A carload of new crop navel oranges has left Oroville for New York and a second went yesterday from Tulare county. A shipment is scheduled to leave Strathmore, near Visalia, for the Philippine Islands. Tulare county growers expect that 6000 cars of navels will be moved out of the county this season.

The State Department of Agriculture has been making tests of the early season shipments and so far finds that practically all fruit is well over the 8 to 1 standard. The color requirements for shipping oranges will be rigidly enforced.

KEY ROUTE ASKS RELIEF FROM EL CERRITO EXTENSION.

The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways has applied to the Railroad Commission to extend for an additional ten years an order suspending the operation and maintenance of three-quarters of a mile of railways track in the city of El Cerrito, Contra Costa county. In October, 1916, the commission permitted the company to suspend the operation of this line for five years. The board of trustees of El Cerrito has by ordinance approved the proposed ten-year suspension.

DIVIDENDS.

White Motors—Regular quarterly of $1, dates of December 10 and December 31.

WIRE SUMMARY

By E. F. HUTTON & CO. WIRE.

NEW YORK, No. 9.—The election results in New York and elsewhere are looked upon as reflecting dissatisfaction with the dilly-dallying of Congress on taxation and other important national affairs.

Coming Events today says: "Chandler Motor's strength is looked upon in many brokerage offices with a good deal of suspicion, in view of the reports that it is not earning its dividend. In some quarters the strength is said to be due largely to a stubborn short interest, which is being forced to cover by a powerful clique. Vague rumors of some kind of a 'deal' are heard.

"Investigation of the strength and activity of General Motors suggests that it is due partly to short covering influenced by reports that its business increasing following the statement that Cadillac and Buick plants have reached capacity inventories are said to have been cut down to about $125,000,000 from $222,000,000 at the beginning of the year. General financial improvement and gossip that General Motors has discovered a new heat resisting metal combination that will prevent overheating of its engines—which, however, may have emanated from a report that the company intends to put an air-cooled motor on the market later."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Free buying ascribed to leading interests here and in Omaha had a bullish effect on the wheat market, during the early trading. Opening quotations ranged from ⅜c off to ¼c gain, with December $1.04¼ to $1.04½, and May $1.09½ to $1.10, followed by a slight sag and then by upturns all around to well above yesterday's finish.

San Jose Shows Marked Increase In Construction

SAN JOSE, Nov. 9.—San Jose's building activity for October was the heaviest in several months, showing a marked increase over the three previous months, according to the monthly report of City Building Inspector M. C. Woodruff. The total building expenditures for the month was $117,355. Of the total amount, $98,280 was for new work, with a total of but $19,075 for repair work.

The itemized report of the building inspector is as follows:

New work—	No.	Value.
Cottages, 4 rms. or more.	20	$68,495
Cottages, less than 4 rms.	7	4,525
Apartments	2	15,376
Business buildings	2	2,925
Private garages	13	1,925
Miscellaneous	3	1,025
Totals	47	$98,280
Repair work—
To cottages	18	8,025
To business buildings	10	10,200
Miscellaneous	2	850
Totals	30	$19,075
Grand totals	77	117,365

Woodruff declared in making his report that present indications are that November will greatly exceed October and that the building boom will continue here. He stated that the coming of winter weather apparently was no check to the enthusiasm of prospective builders.

Building operations for the past several months, according to figures compiled, had been valued at less than $100,000 here.

Rice Crop to Be 4 Million Sacks

THE estimate of the rice crop for the state this year is 4,000,000 sacks and 3 cents a pound is predicted as the opening price. The Maxwell district in Colusa county will probably yield about 175,000 sacks, while in the Paulsell district in Stanislaus county only about 450 acres were harvested this year.

SOUTH READY TO SHIP LETTUCE TO EASTBAY MARKETS

Turkey Growers Complain of Methods of Importers of Sydney Birds.

This week will see the practical close of the lettuce season in the northern part of the state and Monday the Eastbay housewives will be buying truck from Imperial and other parts of Southern California. What will be left in and about the bay region will be cull crop and sold at second prices.

The southern crop is reported to be large and of fine quality.

In the past six years the production of lettuce in California has grown from practically nothing to an industry of enormous size. In 1916 there were 27 cars shipped out of Imperial Valley. In 1922 the estimated shipments will be 3500 cars and the Imperial Valley is one of the sections of the state now growing this valuable truck crop.

Lettuce growers of the Imperial Valley are to hold a meeting in Brawley, November 18, at which time an attempt will be made to secure the consent of all growers and shippers for the adoption of the United States tentative grades applying to that crop.

The truck crop growers both here and in the south have been quick to see the advantages of standardization in packing and shipping and have been applying to the state department of agriculture for inspection service.

The Thanksgiving turkey threatens to precipitate trouble between certain commission men across the bay and the farmers of the valley. A week ago a firm importing Australian birds sent out a circular that prices to the farmer might be as low as 12½ cents and advised dealers to hold off making purchases. This firm was credited with simply playing the market to get rid of a big lot of cold storage birds of small size from Australia and paving the way for ready sale of an expected shipment, at the expense of the valley turkey raisers. The Eastbay buyers have been making contracts for 34 cents per pound to Turlock farmers but it seems that across the bay certain dealers have been slow in buying with the result that State Market Inspector Harry Maddox has started an investigation of the efforts of the Australian importers to bear the market.

Maddox said today that these dealers were endeavoring to dispose of cold storage birds.

It was announced that if the report is confirmed Maddox will open a public market where turkey raisers can dispose of their stock.

Arrivals today included 7 cars of northern spuds, two of apples and two of bananas.

BUILDING BOOM IN KANSAS CITY AIDS ALL TRADE

Flour Mills Are Running At Normal Capacity and Dry Goods Improve.

By DICK SMITH.
BY CONSOLIDATED PRESS
Special to The TRIBUNE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—The reduction of the rediscount rates from 6 to 5 per cent by the Kansas City Federal Reserve Board is expected to give impetus to the upward climb of business. There has been an improvement in the unemployment situation, an increase in the output of heavy manufacturing plants and record-breaking building operations in the last month. Both wholesale and retail merchants have experienced an improvement in business.

Coal mines in this section have resumed normal production except in the Kansas field where labor troubles have not been settled. The advance in crude oil prices which was accompanied by a revival in the oil industry in the mid-continent field, has been followed by an increase in gasoline prices of 1 cent a gallon here.

The flour mills of this territory are operating at from 83 to 100 per cent capacity. They produced 2,195,900 barrels in September, an increase of 53 per cent over September last year. Wholesale dry goods trade shows a decided improvement. Prices are about 40 per cent below those of last year but the money value of sales are about the same.

Wholesale grocers report that retailers are buying for actual needs and that goods are going directly into consumption.

BUSINESS TOPICS

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Both sides are making active preparations for a protracted struggle in the garment trades. Manufacturers declare firmly they will place all workers on piece work on November 14, and the garment workers are determined to oppose this by all possible means.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—The retail merchants of this city have formed a co-operative credit association under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce to enable them to exchange credit news of their customers. It is the object of the members to make this association self-sustaining but without profit.

SEATTLE, Nov. 9.—Twenty carloads of frozen salmon and halibut will be shipped to New York this week by way of Panama Canal in a refrigerator steamship. Shipments of fish by rail have been held up until this new route has been given a thorough trial. From the other direction the first shipment of Atlantic Coast oysters in the shell and in cans arrived here today by this route.

Corn Crop to Be One of Biggest Grown in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The corn crop declined slightly during October, today's preliminary estimate of the production made by the Department of Agriculture being 11,365,000 bushels less than was forecast a month ago. The total crop this year will be 3,151,698,000 bushels, still of of the largest ever produced. The crop last year was 3,232,367,000 bushels. The yield per acre was 28.9 bushels.

Preliminary estimates of other crops were announced as follows: Buckwheat, 14,894,000; potatoes, 356,076,000; sweet potatoes, 105,841,000; tobacco (lbs.), 1,020,874,000; flaxseed, 9,360,000; pears, 9,780,000; apples, 102,290,000; sugar beets (tons), 7,480,000; kaffir, 125,724,000; peanuts, 33,664,000.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—General selling resulted at the opening of the cotton market today following the census bureau's announcement that 6,646,136 bales of cotton had been ginned prior to November 1 this season. These figures confirmed the most bearish private estimates heretofore published and was more than 100,000 bales in excess of the government's estimate of the crop. Liverpool and the trade bought but the selling was so heavy and general that prices continued to weaken after the start and after the first fifteen minutes they were 45 points net lower.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

Shipping is improving daily on the Pacific Coast and is far better than was expected for this time of year. Today's charters at this port are seven large Japanese steamers. All will take lumber to Japan. They are the Etna Maru, Grays Harbor to Japan; Keifuku Maru, the same; San Francisco Maru, British Columbia to Japan; Vancouver Maru, Puget Sound to Japan; Shinkoku Maru, Puget Sound and Grays Harbor to Japan; and two unnamed Japanese steamers of 4264 tons register to load on the Sound also for Japan. These craft were all chartered by the Robert Dollar Company and will carry over 20,000,000 feet of lumber from the Pacific Coast to Japan. During the past few weeks several vessels have been chartered to carry lumber to the Orient and before the end of this year 30,000,000 feet of lumber will leave this coast.

The steamer West Hixton arrived from Newcastle, Australia, with a cargo of coal. Part of it will be unloaded into the bunkers of the King Coal Company at Oakland. The steamer then will proceed to the Columbia river and unload the balance of her cargo, then return here to load a general cargo for a return voyage to Australia.

The tug Sea Monarch, which has been sent to the stranded steamer Thomas Crowley, has returned to this port and the wrecking steamer Homer is now standing by with all gear ready for action. Cecil Brown and Leb. Curtis, marine surveyors, are also on board, but little can be done as the Crowley is still hard and fast on the rocks. The sea is still smooth, but if heavy weather sets in the hull will break in half.

The new tanker F. H. Hillman, ran aground in San Pedro harbor yesterday and was floated at high tide. She will be placed on the drydock when she reaches this port. The Hillman was recently completed at Oakland harbor and has only made two voyages.

Andy Moran, who has charge of the marine department of the Robert Dollar Steamship Company, left this city today for New York on a business trip for his company. He will be away for a few weeks. Moran is well known here in shipping circles, having at one time been connected with the Swayne & Hoyt Company and later entered the business as Fair & Moran. He has been with the Dollar Company for some time.

The steamer West Chopaka, which was built at the Los Angeles Shipbuilding Company of San Pedro, and launched last September, was given her builders' trial trip yesterday. She is the last of the thirty-five vessels built at that plant for the United States Shipping Board. Before the end of the year she will be turned over to her owners and will come to this port to be tied up here until a charter can be had for her.

The British steamer Cardiganshire came down from Port Costa where she was loading a part cargo and docked at Oakland to complete her load. She is en route to London. The Cardiganshire arrived at this port on November 6 from Portland, where she has been loading grain and flour. The big craft will take away over 10,000 tons dead weight of cargo from this coast for Europe.

Chester R. Kyle, a former student of Berkeley University, who was one of the crew of the schooner Columbia river, which was wrecked on Sunday Island in the South Pacific group last September, has arrived at Honolulu and after a short stay there will return to his home in Oakland and next January will again enter the University. He has had enough of sea life.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Customs House:
Captain C. I. Quistguard, steamer Caspar; Captain G. A. Harris, steamer Admiral Schley; Captain J. Samuelson, steamer J. C. Kirkpatrick; Captain L. Gunderson, steamer Tamalpais; Captain Henry Williams, ferry steamer Solano; Captain Carl Matson, power schooner Mary Hanlon; Captain C. J. Boye, steamer Vanguard.

COMMODITY NEWS

STEEL.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—The McKeesport Tin Plate Company, the largest of its kind in the world, is now operating all of its 44 mills on full time. This will continue until January 1 at least. The mills give employment to over 3000 persons.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 9.—The Carnegie Steel Company here is warming up its fifth blast furnace and rushing repairs on a sixth preparatory to placing them in commission again.

SUGAR.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9.—Inability of refiners to make deliveries promptly is proving a great boon to the planters of this state and is creating an unexpectedly good demand for Louisiana sugar. The offer of the planters to sell their product a quarter of a cent under the refiners and allow payment to be made on an installment basis is stimulating business and the new crop is moving rapidly.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—Notwithstanding low prices for sugar, the Pennsylvania Refining Company, one of the independents, is thriving and has just acquired additional property on which to build additions to its plants. The company also has bought an additional pier, making four under its control.

HIDES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The hide market here is very firm and, while very little business is being done, offerings have been scant. The River Plate is reported sold up on frigorific hides to date and asking rates are very firm.

Note—In the above tabulation of tides, the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column, and the succeeding tides occur, the fourth occuring the following morning.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above the place of Coast Survey Chart Soundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths, unless preceded by the minus sign or dash (—), when the numbers are subtractive from depths.

COLBOURN BEGINS NARCOTIC RAIDS; WOMAN ARRESTED

Eight Men Are Among Those Seized: Dope Worth Thousands of Dollars Taken.

What is said to be one of the greatest narcotic "clean-ups" in the history of Oakland was made early today and late last night by local police under direct instructions from Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Colbourn, who has expressed a determination to drive the narcotic traffic out of this city. In raids made in various parts of Oakland, one white woman, three white men and five Chinese were arrested and thousands of dollars' worth of narcotics and "hop layouts" confiscated.

In response to Colbourn's special instructions for a city-wide cleanup, various places were raided under orders from Police Captain J. F. Lynch. Police Sergeants E. W. Brock and Thomas O'Neill smashed down the doors of a Chinese resort at 521-525 Harrison street early today. They confiscated an elaborate opium "layout" and thousands of dollars' worth of narcotics. They reported that they found occupants of the place in the act of smoking the opium pipes. Five Chinese were arrested at that address. Their names are Gee Chew, Fred Chew, John Fen, Wong Lee, and Jim Wong.

Patrolmen E. F. Murphy and R. D. Hunter raided a place at 808 Webster street today and arrested a young woman who gave the name of Jessie Shirley. They confiscated several hundred dollars' worth of dope.

Frank Waiters and Frank McGue were arrested last night in a pool room at Eleventh and Broadway and charged with vagrancy. They are said to have admitted being addicts.

Commissioner Colbourn said today that this was the first step in a thorough clean-up of this city, and that it was the intention of the authorities to wipe out the illicit dope traffic completely as far as Oakland is concerned.

Aged Miller Retires To Live on Farm

STOCKTON, Nov. 9.—After thirty-seven years and ten months of valued service in the employ of the Sperry Flour company, Fred L. Conklin, head miller at the Union mill in Stockton, has retired to a farm in San Joaquin county.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

Operation Avoided

Bishop, Cal.—"About five years ago I suffered severely. I consulted a local doctor and he said I would have to undergo an operation. When I said no, he advised a course of treatments. I happened to think of Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, and in it I found my case thoroughly described so I sat right down and wrote to Dr. Pierce. I then tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—took one bottle—and one bottle of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also used the 'Lotion Tablets' and I have not been troubled since. I have had two fine healthy boys since then, and work hard. At that time I was not able to do my own work. I have used the 'Pleasant Pellets' for liver and bowels for about 20 years, wouldn't be without them."—Mrs. S. G. Albright, R. F. D. No. 1.

Send $1.00 to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for the Medical Adviser in cloth cover, 1,000 pages, fully illustrated and write Dr. Pierce for free medical advice—Advertisement.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

California red berries gave rise to the following question, which was sent in to The TRIBUNE'S Information Bureau recently:

Is it true that there is a state law against picking the California red berries or "Toyon berries?"

Yes, it is a new State of California law, Senate Bill No. 560, introduced by Senator Eden in the last session of legislature and signed by the governor in May, 1921. The bill reads as follows:

"A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code to be numbered 384-A, and to read as follows:

"384-A. Any person, firm or corporation is guilty of a misdemeanor

"A. Who cuts, mutilates or carries away any Toyon or Christmas red berries (Heteromeles arbutifolia) or any part thereof grown on land in this state, provided that this paragraph shall not prevent the sale of such Christmas red berries taken from privately owned land, by or with the consent in writing of the owner of the land."

Another reader asks for the names and addresses of moving picture companies that employ child actors.

Jackie Coogan Film company, Los Angeles; Goldwyn Pictures Corporation, Culver City, Calif.; Oliver Morosco Film company, Los Angeles, and Max Sennett Film company, Los Angeles.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day, except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

If answers are desired by mail, stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

Sour Milk With Cheese Longevity Key, Savant Says

(By Associated Press)

DERBENT, Caucasia, Nov. 9.—The elixir of long life consists of soured cow's milk, cheese made from sheep's milk and white bread, according to Dr. Sadowein, professor of physical chemistry at the University of Kiev. He has located a village in the mountains near Temir Khan Shura, the capital of the Daghestan republic, where eighteen men, out of a total population of 120, are more than 100 years old. Investigation showed they ate the above named foods exclusively. Many persons transported here from the famine regions of central Russia are migrating into the mountains, where this food is to be had in abundance.

KINDNESS TO A BURGLAR SCOUT SAVES ROBBERY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—When Mrs. Edith Huntington Wakefield, formerly Mrs. "Jack" Spreckels, was leaving her home in Sausalito yesterday, she was confronted by a man at the gate. He demanded something to eat, said he was hungry and out of work. Mrs. Wakefield invited him in.

She prepared him a cup of coffee and gave him food. As he ate he told her of a job in the country which he could not reach because of the lack of funds. He needed $25. She wrote out a check for $30 and handed it to the man, who promptly tore it up.

"I'm not broke and I'm not hungry. This job in the country is all bunk," said the hobo. "I came here to size up your place for a gang of burglars over in the city. I'm scout for the gang. But you're off our calling list from now on."

Former Resident Buried at Fresno

Mrs. Hopwood died on Saturday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. O. S. Hubbard, in Madera, with whom she had been making her home for the last four years. She had been in failing health several months.

Mrs. Hopwood is survived by seven sons and daughters. They are, besides Mrs. Hubbard, Miss Alverda Hopwood, Mrs. Julia H. Welborn, Mrs. Jane H. Rice of Oakland, Dr. George B. Hopwood of Chestnut Ridge, Pa., Walter M. Hopwood of Smithfield, Pa., and Mrs. Mary H. Boyer of Fresno.

Mrs. Hopwood was born in Pennsylvania. She was 68 years old. For the last ten years she has resided in California, making her home both in Oakland and in Riverside.

RUDOLPH TECHAU DIES IN DENMARK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Rudolph J. Techau, former proprietor of Techau Tavern and other well-known cafes in this city, died in Copenhagen, Denmark, early in the week according to cables which were received here by relatives last night. For the last 13 years Techau has resided abroad.

In 1865 the Southern Pacific Oyster House was opened by Techau on Summer street, near Kearny, inaugurating his career as a restaurant man in this city. Twenty years later he opened the Goodfellows' Grotto at Seventh and Market streets, in 1895 removing it to Marshall square, opposite the old city hall. He sold Techau Tavern, his last venture, to the present company holding it, shortly before the fire. Albert C. Morrison, president of the Techau Tavern company, was manager under Techau's management for many years.

PRESBYTERIANS MEET.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 9.—Virtually every state in the union was represented at the opening session today of the national executive conference of the Presbyterian church in the United States, at which the fixing of a financial budget for next year will be the chief business. The conference will continue until next Wednesday.

Geoffrey Chaucer was the first poet to be buried in the "Poet's Corner," Westminster Abbey.

FLOCK OF 50 HENS LAY 48 EGGS A DAY

Tells How to Make Idle Hens Produce Money in Winter.

"When I began using Don Sung in December, I was getting only 2 or 3 eggs a day from 50 hens. Within three weeks I was getting 4 dozen a day. I shall never be without Don Sung."—Jermima Hedges, Shumway, Ill.

This 4 dozen eggs a day, at winter prices, was almost clear profit. Your hens should do as well. It's no trouble to use, and costs nothing to try.

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed. Improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It is guaranteed to get the eggs no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send 50c for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.—Advertisement.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

Do You Live in a House or a Home?

You may rent only a couple of rooms, but if those are neatly kept they may be just as homelike as a large mansion.

Much of the attractiveness of your place will depend upon the care you give it. Besides, the more you plan for and fix in your house the more do you feel that it is your home.

Winter, the season when you are indoors so much, is almost here. You have only a short time in which to have your upholstery fixed, your carpets and rugs cleaned, and other such matters attended to.

New Methods Versus Old In Chinese Herb Treatment

Oakland, Oct. 28, 1921.
This is to certify that my boy George had suffered from piles and impure blood for nearly five years. All medical treatment failed to relieve him. I also took him to a Chinese Herbalist, who employs the old method of Chinese Herb Treatment. This man treated him for six months, but George got no better. Upon hearing of the return of the Fong Wan Herbalist from China, with his new methods and fresh herbs, I took my son to him. After having drunk the Fong Wan Herbs for six weeks my boy is feeling splendid, thanks to the wonderful skill of the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST.

WANTED—You to know that you can start your pullets and moulted hens to laying by feeding DR. HESS POULTRY PAN-A-CE-A. It contains tonics that promote a hen's digestion, tonics that tone up the dormant egg organs, so that the proper amount of food goes to egg production and not all to flesh and fat and laziness, when it's action and eggs you want. Here's a good suggestion: Provide your hens with a dust bath, to which add DR HESS INSTANT LOUSE KILLER, say once a week. It keeps down the lice. For Roup use DR. HESS ROUP REMEDY. All guaranteed. Sold by all dealers in poultry supplies.

TURLOCK, Nov 9.—Peter George, Assyrian, lies in the hospital here, the victim of an assault with the butt of a shotgun, and D Yohanan, a compatriot, is held in the city jail pending the outcome of the injuries It is not likely that George will die, yet his case is serious It appears that the two men disagreed upon religion. READJUSTMENT IN OIL STRIKE AREA SPREADS RAPIDLY

Production and Industrial Conditions Soon Normal, Labor Head Says.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Readjustment following the ending of the strike of oil workers has progressed sufficiently in the oil fields of the San Joaquin valley to warrant the belief that within a very short time industrial conditions and production will be at normal, R. H. Frazer, vice-president of the California district council of the oil workers' union, announced today.

Though the workers feel that the principle for which they went on strike—the request of the men for adequate wages and working conditions government-signed agreement to reign the fields—remains a live issue, Frazer declared, amicable industrial relations are looked forward to.

The district council of the workers is meeting here to consider reports from the various fields on the number of men returned to work and on general conditions. This business disposed of, it is expected that the council will discontinue its special sessions. This action finally will close the strike incident, it is said.

Nutrition Institute Opens Its Sessions

With a number of Eastbay teachers, nurses and social workers enrolled, the first Emerson Nutrition Institute in the west opens today in San Francisco. The institute, which is being held under the direction of local school, public health and social service organizations, will hold all of its sessions at the Redding school, San Francisco, with daily visits to nutrition classes lately established in five of that city's public schools

A two weeks' intensive course in training nutrition workers is the object of the course, which is intended to put the bay region in the front ranks of those communities which are establishing a constructive program of nutritional work. Dr. William R P Emerson of Boston, national authority on nutritional problems in children, will b ethe principal speaker of the institute He will have the assistance of Miss Mabel Skilton, head worker in the Emerson clinics and nutrition classes in the east.

Dr Emerson, who arrives in San Francisco tomorrow, will speak twice before Eastbay audiences. He is to address an evening meeting in California Hall at Berkeley on November 17 and is to speak to a representative group of women in Oakland at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland on November 19.

During his two weeks' work in San Francisco Dr. Emerson will speak to the San Francisco Center at luncheon on November 12, at the Hotel St. Francis, and his arrival tomorrow will be followed at 2:30 in the afternoon by a talk to 2000 public school teachers of San Francisco.

Registration for the Institute closes at 3 p. m. today, when the first class will be called at the Redding school, Pine and Larkin streets.

Health Center Clinic Work Shows Gains

During October 3678 persons visited the various clinics in the Public Health Center of Alameda county, Thirty-first and Grove streets, according to reports made public today. An increase of 592 visits and of 422 new patients over the previous month was recorded.

Free treatments were given by the health center specialists to 2005 cases. A fee of 10 cents a visit was paid by 859; of 25 cents by 436; of 50 cents by 378. The total average per patient was 8 cents.

Chiropractors Hear Berkeley Attorney

Hugh W. Brunk, Berkeley attorney, last night addressed a large meeting of chiropractors, their patients and friends in Lincoln hall, Richmond.

The imprisonment of chiropractors was criticized by the speaker, who stated that not a single chiropractor, of 200 chiropractors arrested, had been arrested on complaint of a patient.

The meeting which was presided over by T. A. Guthrie, Richmond dentist, was part of a campaign now being carried on throughout California for the establishment of a chiropractic examining board in California.

Dairymen Shown Cost Accounting By U. C. Expert

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 9.—Instructions in keeping records of the cost of producing butter fat and market milk were given the dairymen of Sonoma and Marin counties by Prof. R. L. Adams of Berkeley at a meeting of milk testers today at Valley Ford.

Records are to be kept on forty dairies in the two counties during the coming year, and the results will be employed by the state in determining what amount of profit is being received by dairymen. Should the amount be considered insufficient it is understood the legislature will take action to better conditions.

CONTRA COSTA GAS RATE CUT

In order to stimulate production and aid manufacturing in Contra Costa county, the State Railroad Commission today ordered the Contra Costa Gas Company to cut its rates at an average of 14 cents per thousand cubic feet. This reduction will benefit consumers in Martinez, Crockett, Concord, Pittsburg, Antioch and contiguous territory A recent drop in the price of oil from $2.24 to $1.64 per barrel was responsible for the commission's order. This will mean that the average rate of $2 32 per thousand feet will drop to $2.18. This, the commission says, will give the company a return of 7.4 on its investment if careful and economical operation is had. The commission declares that it must be accepted at this time until better conditions are brought about. It calls attention to the present depression and says that it is apparent that lower rates are necessary in order that the company itself may avoid material loss of business as its consumers have been curtailing consumption as well as complaining of excessive charges.

Lanktree was named to undertake the sale of the property and finally succeeded in getting an offer of $6975 for it. He reported to Judge Quinn, who announced he would not accept that offer but would sell to the highest bidder above that amount. Police 'Exam' Plea Under Advisement

The request of police sergeants that the civil service rules be changed to make them eligible for examinations as police inspectors was taken under advisement last night by the civil service board, after some discussion.

Several police sergeants were present and urged the change. They asserted that the present regulations hurt their chances for promotion, inasmuch as the rules keep them strictly within the uniformed rank while men of shorter service often become assistant inspectors, inspectors, and then captains, stepping over the heads of the older men in uniform.

PLACE YOUR FINGER

on any price  on this page

—and you have also placed it on a guaranteed saving of $10, $15, or $20..... on virgin all-wool..... on factory stocks at factory prices..... and on the finest garment in America at or near that figure!

—and (think of what this means) you have also placed your finger on the reason why this business, alone in the entire clothing industry, has sold 100,000 more garments this year than last year..... the largest makers and retailers of clothes at $25, $30 and $35 in the entire world!

Many people buy clothes from us for one reason only—confidence! They consider it enough to know we are the largest clothing institution of this kind in the entire world.

We sell nearly half a million garments yearly. We manufacture and distribute to the public more suits and overcoats at $25, $30 and $35—than any SIX merchants in America, combined!

Let your mind grasp the bigness of this project!

We concentrate the entire production power of three great factories on these three prices. We make nothing else. We think about nothing else. Every bit of energy we have is turned toward this one end—to give men so much value, such fine clothes, such rich woolens at $25, $30 and $35—that any man, in any walk of life, can be proud to wear them!

This year alone—while no other clothing institution can show a gain in sales for 1921—we will sell 100,000 more garments than we did a year ago. Could we possibly forge ahead in this manner—unless we did business as we say we do, unless we backed up promises with deeds, unless we shot straight in our advertising and played fair on our floors?

No business could do what we have done without becoming a national institution, without attracting thousands of persons who realize how big we are, and put their faith in us primarily because we have so wide a reputation to defend!

But we are not satisfied with that! The public must be told that we are NOT depending on our reputation or our size, to sustain our success!

Those things did not help us when we were small, 12 years ago, in the little upstairs room with our $310 starting capital!—and we WILL not lean on them NOW! We depend for your patronage solely upon the clothes we are selling and the way in which we sell them. If what we say rings conviction, it is because we know and believe in what we are telling you!

Our 18% retail overhead expense is just half the average expense—that gives us 18% more to put into the value of these clothes!

Our factory overhead expense is only 4%—that gives us 25% more to put into the rich woolens, the fine tailoring, the Skinner Satin linings and trimmings that you buy in our clothes at $25, $30 and $35.

Our coast-to-coast saving in rent means several dollars more values—several dollars less price—on every suit and overcoat!

We sell 1000 suits a day, 100 suits an hour, almost two suits a minute! This tremendous volume enables us to offer you an alteration service not even second to the finest custom tailor! We guarantee fit and we see that you get it. We will not permit any salesman to sell you a garment which cannot be properly and perfectly altered to your needs. We protect you from the time we buy the woolens to the time you wear the suit!—and then continue to protect you with the strongest, broadest guarantee of satisfaction (bearing our authentic signature) that was ever put into the pocket of a suit of clothes or overcoat! This business is built on satisfied customers! We could never increase our sales 100,000 garments in 1921 without making every customer a friend, and every friend a booster. We have the highest average of "repeat" customers of any business in the world!
